SLAIN CHINESE IS IDENTIFIED; HIS SON TELLS ABOUT THREAT

Message Indicated Countrymen Suspected Jue Gong Lee of Informing Government on Orientals Smuggled Into U. S.

NOTE RECEIVED WHEN 6 WERE HELD

Widow Declares Victim Once Worked for U. S. —His Body, Cut Into 10 Pieces, Is Dug Up on County Farm.

Jue Gong Lee, American-born Chinese whose dismembered body was found yesterday morning buried in a field a mile east of the Municipal Airport, was murdered by Chinese because they thought he was a Government informer against fellow countrymen illegally entered into this country, the police surmised today.

Support was given this theory by information furnished by his 21-year-old son, Harold, who told detectives his father had received a letter several weeks ago in which his life was threatened because "we know what you have done; you have double-crossed your countrymen."

The letter, written in Chinese, was taken by Jue to his home at 547 Joseph avenue, Wellston, where he resided with his wife and eight children, but members of the family said they were unable to find it today. It was delivered to him, as nearly as they could recall, about the time five of six Chinese arrested here were ordered deported in the latter part of July.

"Some Work for Government."

The widow of the murdered man told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that she understood her husband had "done some work for the Government" and had heard him mention the name of Mr. Nash," meaning James T. H. Nash, Federal Immigration Inspector here.

She declared, however, that so far as she knew he had done no work for the Government during the last year. Inspector Nash told the Post-Dispatch he did not know Jue, but added that the investigation leading to the deportation of the five Chinese last month was handled by one of his subordinates, who was not available for a statement.

Jue was 57 years old. His widow, who is 32, said he formerly was a merchant and for a time was secretary of the Chinese Merchants' Association, or On Leong Tong. He resigned from his position in the Tong two years ago and since had been unemployed, except for odd jobs as an interpreter.

No Attention to Threat.

Harold Lee told detectives his father paid no attention to the threatening letter he had received and refused to arm himself. Harold last saw him Wednesday noon when he visited the laundry of Wah Kee at 1158 Hamilton avenue, where the son is employed.

"He told me he was going to open a Chinese restaurant at Brooklyn on the East Side," Harold said. "He wanted me to go over there and arrange to get a permit from the Mayor. But we were busy in the laundry that day and I couldn't go. So he said he would go himself. That was the last time I saw him alive."

Jue's dismembered body, cut into 10 pieces, was found yesterday by Frank Gittemeier, farmer, as he was plowing his field on Brown road, a half-mile north of Natural Bridge road. The parts had been shallowly covered with earth. Death was due to gunshot wounds in the head and body.

Few Blood Stains Found.

At the inquest this morning, Coroner O'Connell expressed the opinion that the parts of the body had been washed after dismemberment as there were few blood stains. The body's only clothing was a pair of white socks.

Deputy Sheriffs Grupp and Litzinger told of finding at the scene a series of footprints heavily marked in the ground and leading from the roadside to the point where the body was found. Presumably they were made by a man carrying a heavy load since the prints of the same shoes leading back to the roadside, were not as deeply imbedded in the earth.

Litzinger said the footprints, of a man's shoes, were unusually small, about two inches shorter than his own size 7½ shoes.

The Coroner's jury returned an open verdict of homicide.

NEGRO SHOT DEAD AFTER QUARREL OVER GARBAGE CAN

Amedee Slupsky Kills William Robinson, 1726 Linden St., Who, He Says, Ordered Receptacle Moved.

Will Robinson, Negro, was shot and killed by Amedee Slupsky, 24 years old, nephew of Abe Slupsky, politician and real estate dealer, after a quarrel this afternoon near Robinson's home, 1728 Linden street.

Slupsky told police at the Carr Street Station, where he was taken after the shooting, that the Negro had objected to the position of a garbage can that Slupsky had placed for the convenience of tenants in a house belonging to Abe Slupsky, at 1726 Linden avenue.

The dispute began, Slupsky said, when the Negro appeared about 2:30 p. m. at a fence between his home and the Slupsky property and ordered Slupsky to move the garbage can.

His order was refused, and Robinson adopted a threatening attitude, according to Slupsky, who then left. He returned in about half an hour, he said, and the Negro, still on his own side of the fence, renewed the quarrel.

The Negro began to climb the fence, and Slupsky drew a revolver and fired one shot which entered Robinson's head. Robinson died at City Hospital No. 2.

Slupsky lives at 3852 Lindell boulevard, with his uncle.

FRESH BUYING PUSHES UP STOCKS AFTER MORNING DROP

Many Leading Issues Rise $1 to $3; Commodity Prices Also Improve.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—New buying in the stock market in the late trading today brought an abrupt recovery from a morning sag.

During the earlier hours of the session, prominent issues had lost $1 to $4 a share, but the buying movement not only canceled these losses, but swept many of the leaders up $1 to $3 a share above yesterday's final prices. The last hour was the most active period of the day.

Commodities also improved. Cotton, after an early sag, advanced from $1.10 to $1.20 a bale.

United States Steel regained a loss of about $1.50 to get well above $47, a gain of more than $2. American Telephone regained a similar loss and went more than $2 above yesterday's close.

WOMAN WITNESS DENIES SHERWOOD WAS WALKER AID

Office Secretary for Law Firm Which Hired Missing Accountant Testifies in Ouster Case.

DIVIDEND CHECKS STILL COMING IN

Says She Has Deposited His $2000 in Own Bank Account Since Fiscal Expert Vanished.

By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Miss Mildred Day, office secretary for the law firm with which Russell T. Sherwood, missing accountant, formerly was associated, testified today at the hearing on removal charges against Mayor James J. Walker that since Sherwood left, about a year ago, she had deposited in her own bank account about $2000 in dividend checks that have come in for him.

She said she deposited the checks in her account in a bank in East Orange, N. J., where she lives, and that it is all there now, part of it in a safety deposit box and part in her account.

"Mr. Sherwood had a bank account in New York, didn't he?" asked Martin Conboy, special counsel to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, before whom the hearing is being conducted.

"Yes, he did," Miss Day replied.

"Why didn't you put the money into his account, instead of your own?" Conboy asked her.

"I never thought of that," was Miss Day's reply.

Doing Sherwood's Work.

Miss Day now does for the law firm the work Sherwood formerly did. She said she was Senator Blauvelt's secretary for several years.

"Senator Blauvelt relied on Mr. Sherwood very much," she said, "and I know the family relied on him a good deal after Senator Blauvelt's death."

Q. (By J. J. Curtin) Did you know anything of Mr. Blauvelt's special account? A. I know he had one because my salary was paid out of it at one time.

She said she was present at a discussion between Blauvelt and Sherwood about changing the account to Sherwood's name.

"It took place at Mr. Blauvelt's home," she said, "when he was ill, just before his death."

Miss Day also recalled that Beatrice Lillie, Mike McTigue and Johnny Dundee were among Sherwood's clients.

"He had several brokerage firms as clients, too," she said.

About Power of Attorney.

Sherwood, she said, had power of attorney for Warren (Blauvelt's partner), but never for Mayor Walker.

"Can you describe Mr. Sherwood's physical condition in 1930 and 1931?" Curtin asked.

"He was in a very nervous, rundown condition," she replied. "He worked very hard, and after he had tonsilitis and grip in the spring of 1931, he was very near a nervous breakdown."

Curtin asked if he could have Miss Day's private testimony before the Hofstadter Committee.

"What are you trying to do?" the Governor demanded, "impeach your own witness?"

"Certainly not," Curtin replied indignantly. His request was denied.

Question About Letters.

Miss Day said she now performed for Mayor Walker, as a courtesy of the firm, the services Sherwood used to perform.

"Did some letters purporting to be from Mr. Sherwood come to your attention," Curtin asked.

"Yes," she replied. "They were brought to me by Mr. Sherwood's sister. I thought something ought to be done about them, so I took them down to the City Hall. I heard the Mayor call somebody on the telephone and say something about having them looked into."

Several typewritten letters, dated May 23, and June 2 and 4, 1932, about the time Mayor Walker was a witness before the Hofstadter Committee, were then shown to Miss Day.

"There are the letters Mr. Sherwood's sister brought to me," she said. The letters were offered in evidence.

"Did you ever see these?" Curtin asked Seabury.

"I have not," Seabury replied.

The letters were typewritten and signed "Russ."

"I don't recognize the signature as Mr. Sherwood's," Miss Day said.

"Since you last saw Sherwood," Seabury asked, "have you received any checks belonging to Sherwood?"

"Yes," she replied, "there were

URGES ANESTHETIC TO EASE THE DEATH PANGS OF OYSTERS

Woman Official of U. S. Bureau Says Prying Shell Open Is Major Operation.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 26.—A mild anesthetic for oysters to spare them the pain of prying open their shells was suggested at the convention of the National Shell Fisheries Association yesterday.

"For the sake of humanity as well as of economy," said Dr. Vera Koehring of Washington, who is in the United States Bureau of Fisheries, "the proper way to open oysters is to give an anesthetic. Opening the oyster by roughly prying the tightly closed shell is equivalent to a major operation." By the use of an anesthetic made of a solution of dioxide, lactic acid and boric acid, the oyster is brought to complete relaxation and automatically opens its shell so that the meat can be painlessly removed, Dr. Koehring said.

BERLIN PAPERS SAY HITLER HAS GONE TO SANITARIUM

Associates of Nazi Leader Deny He Has Suffered Nervous Breakdown.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—Adolf Hitler had disappeared from his accustomed haunts today and a rumor spread that he had been taken to a sanitarium after a nervous collapse. Two newspapers carried the story and Hitler's associates in the National Socialist party spent most of the morning describing the rumor as nonsense.

"The wish is father to the thought," said Maj. Hans Weberstedt, head of the Nazi publicity office in Berlin. "Hitler never felt better in his life. He has gone up to the mountains above Berchtesgaden." Other associates said he had gone on a long fishing trip.

One story going around today said Hitler made a strange impression on the Chancellor when they talked two weeks ago by constantly slapping his thighs in a nervous gesture during their conversation.

SHIP OWNER LEAVES $136,000 TO OFFICERS OF HIS LINERS

About 600 Remembered in Will of Lord Inchcape as "Acknowledgement of Loyalty."

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Legacies of more than £40,000 (about $136,000) were bequeathed by Lord Inchcape to about 600 officers of the Peninsular and Oriental and British India Steam Navigation Lines, it was learned today.

Lord Inchcape, shipping magnate, died last May, and his will said the gifts to the officers were "slight acknowledgement of their loyalty and fidelity" to him. Two hundred and two captains will receive $346 each, while 200 chief officers and the same number of chief engineers will receive $173 each.

ROOSEVELT ON FIFTH COUSINS

Says at Walker Hearing He Calls Them "Cousins."

By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Fifth cousins are cousins to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt. He said so smilingly yesterday at Mayor James J. Walker's hearing, bringing a laugh from spectators who remembered that his relationship to the late Theodore Roosevelt has been the subject of comment.

A witness was being examined concerning his relatives and there followed a complicated genealogical discussion touching on cousins. "Some people call first cousins, cousins," the Governor broke in. "Others call fifth cousins, cousins—as I do." Mr. Roosevelt is a fifth cousin of the late President.

PETITIONS CALL FOR VOTE ON ZOO, MUSEUM LEVIES

Only 1000 Signatures Needed for Referendum on Abolition of One Tax, 100 for Another.

ALTERNATIVE PLAN FOR CUT IN RATES

Institutions Would Depend on Appropriations From General Fund If First Proposal Carries.

Petitions are being printed, calling for a vote at the general election of Nov. 8 on elimination of the special taxes for support of the City Art Museum and Forest Park Zoo, or, as an alternative, cutting them in half.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment decided on April 26, while considering municipal economies, to submit these proposals. Mayor Miller and Comptroller Nolte, comprising the majority of the board, favored this, but President Neun of the Board of Aldermen, the third member, opposed it.

Under the law, only 1000 signatures are needed on the zoo tax petition and only 100 on the Art Museum petition. Any taxpaying citizen of St. Louis may sign. Payers of income as well as property taxes are eligible. However, Assistant Comptroller Cunningham, who has charge of the petitions, anticipates no trouble in getting more than the required number of signers among officials, employes and visitors at City Hall.

Filing Date Sept. 16.

The completed petitions must be filed with the Election Board by Sept. 16. There will be two separate ballots, Cunningham said. One will contain individual propositions to abolish the Zoo and Art Museum taxes. The other will have separate propositions to make the tax rate for each institution one cent on the $100 assessed valuation instead of two cents.

It had not been announced in April that there would be an alternative for abolishing these two taxes altogether.

A majority will adopt any of the four propositions to be submitted. It would be possible for the people to keep the special tax for one institution and not for the other. It also would be possible, if the voters do not discriminate, for the result to be in favor of both abolishing and halving the tax rates.

Should the latter situation occur, opponents of the change might raise a question that the conflicting decisions nullified each other. Cunningham expressed belief that the Board of Estimate would decide to recognize the vote for cutting the rates in half if both sets of propositions should be approved.

For years the Zoo, Art Museum and Public Library have been supported by direct property taxation through special divisions of the municipal tax rate. The Board of Estimate refrained from proposing a change in the library tax. In the last fiscal year, ending last April, the yield for the Zoo and Art Museum, at the rate of 2 cents on the $100 each, was $242,403 each. Augmented by certain other minor revenues, these funds provided for operation and maintenance of the institutions, construction of additions and acquisition of new art objects or zoological specimens.

Out of General Rate.

The library tax, 4 cents on the $100, yielded $484,806. The aggregate of the three special tax rates, 8 cents on the $100, comes out of the general municipal tax rate. This general rate is at the constitutional maximum of $1.35 on the $100, but for city purposes apart from the three institutions the rate is $1.27.

If any reduction of the special tax rates is voted by the people the portion of the total city rate available for general municipal purposes will be increased accordingly above $1.27. Should the Zoo or Art Museum rates be abolished, those establishments would be subjected to the annual distribution of city funds in the spring budget making, and would have to compete for recognition with other city departments.

The library tax rate, originally only 2 cents, has been in existence since 1893. The Art Museum rate was voted by the people in 1907 and became effective that year, but was temporarily suspended in 1909-11 by litigation. The voters approved the Zoo rate in 1917.

JOB SHARING SUGGESTED BY PRESIDENT HOOVER AT BUSINESS LEADERS' PARLEY

Six-Point Program Adopted By Conference Hoover Called

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.

THE six-point program presented by Secretary of the Treasury Mills to President Hoover's business conference today and unanimously adopted, follows:

1. Make available credit affirmatively useful to business.

2. Increase employment by the railroads and stimulation of industry through expansion of maintenance of equipment and purchase of new equipment in co-operation with the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

3. Increase employment through the sharing work movement.

4. Stimulate the repair and improvement of home movement.

5. Assist home owners with maturing mortgages.

6. Active co-operation of all banking and industrial committees with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in working out the problems incident to the making of self-liquidating loans for public and semi-public projects, and for slum clearance and housing projects as provided in the emergency relief act; in the aiding of livestock loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and agricultural credit corporations; in assisting the establishment of agricultural credit corporations provided for in the relief act and in facilitating the adequate functioning of the new home loan banks.

ALSO ADVOCATES BETTER CHANNELS IN USE OF CREDIT

Central Contact Group Proposed to Co-ordinate Private and Governmental Attack on Depressing Factors.

"MAJOR FINANCIAL CRISIS OVERCOME"

Chief Executive Says "We Are Now Able to Take Further Steps in Solution of Industrial and Farm Problems.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—President Hoover today recommended to a national gathering of prominent business men plans for sharing jobs now available, so as to decrease unemployment, as the step which would do most at this time to "accelerate our progress."

Standing before more than 200 members of the business and industrial committees created in each Federal Reserve district and summoned to the national capital by him, the President linked his job-sharing plea with suggestions for "a better distribution of credit."

The President set as the aim of the national conference a co-ordination of governmental and private activities, so as to enable a directed attack against depressing factors along the entire economic front. Out of executive meetings between business leaders and administration chieftains here yesterday, there emerged a proposal for today's conference looking toward creation of a central contact group to co-ordinate private and governmental activities.

The conference unanimously adopted a six-point program for the stimulation of business and employment.

After the adoption of the program the conference adjourned. Early meetings of the committees were called and some intended to reassemble here tomorrow.

In a speech delivered at the session opened by the President, Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank system, announced that the national bank receivers had been instructed to suspend foreclosure proceedings for 60 days.

Shorter Hours Necessary.

In his plea for spreading available jobs, the President, who presided over the meeting, said:

"As a matter of national policy, the shortening of hours is necessary, not alone to meet the need of the moment, but it may be necessary to take up the slack in the future from the vast and sudden advance in labor saving devices."

Nevertheless, Mr. Hoover stated he did not believe that the direction of such job-sharing systems as five, four and three day weeks, along with shorter shifts, were "properly the function of government."

He suggested that the business leaders themselves inaugurate a drive to spread work.

"Major Crisis Overcome."

"The reason for calling this conference at this particular moment," said Mr. Hoover, "is that we are convinced that we have overcome the major financial crisis—a crisis in severity unparalleled in the history of the world—and that with its relaxation confidence and hope have reappeared in the world. We are now able to take further steps in solution of the industrial and agricultural problems with which we are still confronted.

"What I wish is that banking and industry and business generally should in this new setting assume further initiative and responsibility; and they should co-operate with agriculture and labor and the Government agencies to organize and develop every possible avenue of co-ordinated effort on the economic front."

Owen D. Young's Talk.

Owen D. Young, New York industrial leader and a prominent Democrat, told the conference that the prime purpose of co-ordinated drive of business and government was to make more jobs.

As chairman of the first of the

U. S.-OSLO FLYERS DUE AT GOAL BUT ARE UNREPORTED

Lee and Bochkon Have Enough Fuel to Last Until This Evening — Adviser Not Worried.

By the Associated Press.

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 26.—Hope that Clyde Lee and John Bochkon might succeed in flying their Green Mountain Boy across the Atlantic began to dim this evening when there was still no word of them.

It was feared that the bad weather which prevailed over the Eastern Atlantic might have forced them down. There were low-lying clouds and some fog over the water to Great Britain from noon on.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The trans-Atlantic plane, Green Mountain Boy, had not been reported from any part of the British Isles at 8:30 a. m. today, but all coastal points were watching closely.

Weather conditions on the coast of Ireland this morning were calm, but the Air Ministry reported at 8 a. m. that strong southwest winds were blowing 400 to 500 miles off the west coast of Ireland. They were accompanied by heavy clouds.

This may account for the fact that the flyers had not reached the Irish coast in record time. Across the British Isles there was a 20-mile-an-hour breeze, and even calmer conditions prevailed over the North Sea.

By the Associated Press.

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., Aug. 26.—Clyde Lee and John Bochkon, who expected to arrive at Oslo, Norway, before noon, Eastern Standard time, today in the airplane Green Mountain Boy, were unreported as that hour passed.

Word from Barre, Vt., where the two flyers took off last Tuesday, was that Hubert Huntington, their navigation and weather adviser, was unworried. Huntington said they had enough gas to fly until 7 p. m., Eastern Standard time, today, and he thought the lack of reports on their progress was due, probably, to the fact that they were flying at great height.

They left here yesterday morning at 5:02 o'clock and expected to reach their goal in 30 hours.

Slight anxiety was felt because no vessel reported sighting the plane, although it was presumably flying in the path of many ships, but it was thought possible that the flyers might have climbed high to avoid a rainstorm they expected to meet 600 miles off Newfoundland.

The airmen had allowed a comfortable margin for safety. They carried enough fuel for 37 hours of flying. They were also prepared for a sea landing. The plane's doors were sealed to make room for extra gasoline tanks and a hole was cut through the roof as an emergency exit. In the event of a sea descent, it was hoped to cut the motor away so the empty tanks could keep the craft afloat.

60-DAY DELAY IN FORECLOSURE ON HOMES SOUGHT

Home Loan Board Asks State Bank Receivers to Follow Course Adopted by National Depositories.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Steps to have receivers of national, state and other banking institutions grant a 60-day moratorium on home foreclosures have been taken by the Federal Home Loan Bank board.

Chairman Franklin W. Fort made the announcement to the national conference of business and industrial committees that Comptroller of the Currency Pole had issued orders to every national bank receiver to suspend foreclosures for 60 days.

Later, Fort made public a telegram dispatched to state banking authorities requesting them to instruct receivers or other liquidators of closed institutions to grant a similar respite.

Fort said that hundreds of closed banks would be affected and that probably hundreds of millions of dollars would be involved.

Telegram to Banks.

The telegram sent to state banking commissioners and supervisors follows: "We hope to have Federal loan banks open and doing business on or before Oct. 15, after which date substantial relaxation in the mortgage loan markets should develop speedily. In the meantime we feel that foreclosures should be prevented wherever possible.

"We therefore request you to instruct the receivers or other liquidators of closed institutions under your jurisdiction to withhold or delay foreclosure proceedings for at least 60 days, thus offering chance of preserving equity of owner of real estate.

Need Not Delay Dividends.

"Dividends to depositors or creditors need not be delayed as the Reconstruction Finance Corporation is authorized to lend to receivers.

"Comptroller of the Currency Pole is issuing instructions in accordance with this telegram to all receivers of national banks. We earnestly request your concurrency in your state."

Fort said that at the present time there was no mortgage money in the market, but that he was convinced that at the end of 60 days, when the home loan banking system begins to function, there would be a market for real estate mortgages. He said the 60-day moratorium would save the homes of thousands of persons, many of whom had about finished paying for their homes.

In his speech, Fort said, "We want your help to see not only that receivers generally grant this 60-day respite, but that other lenders do likewise. There are times when forced liquidation of indebtedness is indefensible, certainly if any other means of securing funds exists."

32 ARE INDICTED AT TAYLORVILLE FOR MINE MARCH

Protesting Diggers Accused of Rioting in Connection With Picketing of Christian County Shafts.

NEW MOVE ON BENTON PLANNED

Group Meeting at Gillespie Intends to Send Swiftly Moving Units From Several Directions.

By the Associated Press.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Aug. 26.—Thirty-two miners were indicted today by the Christian County grand jury on charges of rioting in connection with the picketing of four Peabody Coal Co. mines by a large force of Central Illinois miners less than two weeks ago.

The miners were from Christian, Sangamon and Macoupin Counties.

A new outbreak of violence also was reported today in the county as the Peabody company announced resumption of operations in another of its four mines closed by the pickets.

An explosion wrecked the front porch of a home occupied by Ray Tombozzi, a Taylorville miner arrested recently on the picket lines of Peabody Mine No. 58, just outside the city, on charges of disorderly conduct. Tombozzi said the explosion was caused by a can of dynamite. A second can filled with dynamite, he said, was found by Sheriff's deputies in the rear of the house, apparently having failed to go off.

No. 58 was the mine which the Peabody company said opened today with 70 men. Mine No. 9 at Langley was working with 155 men, they reported, despite large cordons of pickets surrounding it.

Among those indicted by the grand jury were several strike leaders, including Dan McGill of Springfield, Joe Pecek of Gillespie, Byron H. Humphries of Springfield and De Witt Webb, self-styled commander of the Springfield contingent of the bonus army.

New Invasion of Franklin County Planned.

By the Associated Press.

GILLESPIE, Ill., Aug. 26. — A new invasion of Southern Illinois coal fields by a select group of quick-moving pickets was planned today by striking miners whose "peaceful" caravan was beaten back at the Franklin County line by gunfire and clubs of sheriff's deputies.

The miners' policy committee here announced mass meetings were being held in sub-districts throughout the State today to map the new drive, which, leaders said, would be held with the assistance of fellow diggers from Kentucky, Indiana and Oklahoma. The date for the new move will be set within a few days and the miners will advance "on several fronts" at the same time, approaching Franklin county from the north, the leaders declared.

Franklin County Plans to Drive Out Agitators.

By the Associated Press.

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 26. — Victorious in turning back an attempted invasion by several thousand striking coal miners from Northern and Central Illinois, Franklin County now plans an offensive against radical agitators within its own boundaries.

Warnings of their intentions of "disposing of known agitators shortly" have been given by county authorities, who charge that Communistic speeches and literature have created many disturbances in the coal fields recently.

During the bitter controversy which finally resulted in the placing into effect of the reduced wage scale contract, officers of the United Mine Workers of America, including John L. Lewis, the international president, charged that radicals were inflaming the idle miners, especially the foreign element. County authorities, busied recently with the task of keeping open mines where men were willing to work, have had little time to devote to the stamping out of the alleged radicalism. But now, with threats of invasion by outside strikers apparently ended, they say they will turn their attention to agitators.

Deputies still watch the western highways leading to Benton. To the south and west citizens of Williamson County also were on guard last night, ready to repulse unwelcome visitors if Franklin County were invaded.

The invaders, repulsed at Mulkeytown, filtered home yesterday with orders from Chief Walter Moody of the State Highway Patrol not to attempt a similar march. Moody's orders were issued at Coulterville, where 4000 of the retreating group had gathered for a mass meeting.

Additional mines are being reopened each day. Today 10 operated in Franklin County.

Sheriff J. C. Knott of Randolph County and 200 deputies, recruited from among Sparta citizens, guarded the highways leading to the Moffatt Coal Co. mine yesterday, after it had been reported striking miners of Belleville would attempt to picket the mine. No pickets appeared, however. Officers of the coal company said the mine was operating at full capacity, with 400 men employed.

ROOSEVELT INDORSES SHORTER LABOR DAY

Writes to New York Federation That This Is Factor in Relief Program.

By the Associated Press.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt told the State Federation of Labor in a message yesterday that shorter hours of labor and a shorter work week were a "factor in any relief program" and that he was glad the federation had indorsed both.

Roosevelt's message follows:

"I am glad that the State Federation is indorsing the movement for shorter hours or a shorter week as a means of relieving unemployment. I believe that at this time this is a factor in any relief program. It means the making of additional jobs by fewer hours of work per man.

"This can be done through agreements between industrial workers and employers to put into effect immediately either a short work day or a short work week whichever is best adapted to the particular industry. Additional workers could thus be taken on proportionate to the shortening of the working hours. Room could be made for at least 10 or 15 per cent more people in most of the plants which are at present in operation.

"The beneficial and wholesome effect of this method of relief would be very great. I believe it is essential that definite steps be taken at once. I am addressing this message to my friends of the New York State Federation of Labor in order that it may be communicated to all the groups and trades represented in your body.

"I am also making this message public with an expression of the hope that it will be read and accepted and adopted by the hundreds of employers throughout this state. A concerted effort in recognition of their mutual interests by employers and employes alike will, I am confident, bring practical and necessary results."

Roosevelt was indorsed as presidential candidate by the State Federation after protests from some of the delegates.

Richard Seymour, who with Emanuel Koveleski, Frank J. Hartnett and Henry D. O'Connell, all of Rochester, were prominent in the opposition force, said such an indorsement would tell the people of the state that "this organization is a strictly political body."

The resolution of indorsement was carried by a viva voce vote.

By the Associated Press.

MANCHESTER, England, Aug. 26.—Two hundred thousand weavers in the Lancashire cotton mills are scheduled to go on strike tomorrow because this afternoon mill owners and employes came to no agreement in a conference over wages and working conditions.

This conference was regarded as the last hope of averting a general strike in the cotton industry. A general walkout would involve half a million workers and create one of the industry's gravest crises.

$200,000 LOAN BY R. F. C. TO DAKOTA FARM AREAS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation yesterday lent $200,000 to aid destitute persons in the drouth and grasshopper stricken areas.

Gov. Warren E. Green of South Dakota received a loan of $150,000 to be used in eight counties—Pennington, Custer, Beadle, Sanborn, Kingsbury, Spink, Clark and McCook. A loan of $50,000 went to Gov. George F. Shafer of North Dakota for use in the city of Minot and Ward County, both of which were said to have exhausted all available funds in relief work. The latter loan was only a third of the amount requested. Minot had sought $50,000 alone, while Ward County, in which Minot is located, had asked for $100,000.

Part of the South Dakota loan will go toward unemployed relief in Pennington and Custer Counties, lumbering and mining centers, where conditions were described by Gov. Green as serious.

AIR DERBY RACERS REACH CINCINNATI TO STAY FOR NIGHT

S. C. Huffman Leads Eastern Section Into Home Town — Chappy Lennox Leads on Points.

By the Associated Press.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 26.—S. C. Huffman of Cincinnati paced the national air derby field into his home town today, leading the Eastern section. He arrived at 4:25 p. m. from Indianapolis.

The flyers encountered bad weather as they arrived to stay overnight before the last dash to Cleveland and the finish line tomorrow at the national air races. A low ceiling harassed them all the way from Indianapolis and occasional bursts of rain added to their woes as much as to the discomfort of the crowd awaiting them.

Chappy Lennox of New Haven, Conn., came in four minutes after Hoffman.

The Eastern division of the cross-country air derby left Indianapolis at 2:35 p. m., wiht Helen Richey of Pittsburgh, Pa., first away.

The Western Division got away soon after 3 o'clock. They were led off by John Hardesty of Taft.

Fred Dorsett, Augusta, Ga., led the Eastern division into Indianapolis from East St. Louis, arriving about 11 a. m. He was followed a few seconds later by S. C. Huffman.

Chappy Lennox of New Haven, Conn., still led the Eastern division in point standing at Indianapolis and Roy Hunt of Norman, Ok., the Western division.

TWO BOYS ON 1200-MILE TRIP IN CANOE STOP OFF AT ALTON

Brothers From Webster Groves Expect to Reach St. Louis Tomorrow.

Briggs Austin, 16 years old, and his brother, Bob, 13, Webster Groves boys who started a 1200-mile canoe trip down the Mississippi from Lake Itaska last July 4, reached Alton at 1:45 this afternoon. They bought some ice cream and proceeded after an hour's stop.

They will camp tonight near the mouth of the Missouri and will paddle to St. Louis tomorrow morning.

The boys, sons of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Austin, 223 Sylvester avenue, Webster Groves, were in excellent spirits and enthusiastic about the success of their trip.

"We didn't have a hit of hard luck," Briggs said, "but we had to be careful in rougr water because the canoe was pretty heavily loaded. We would have continued on to the Missouri but we were warm from paddling so decided we wanted some ice cream."

They spent only six nights under cover during the entire trip, they said. Their equipment included a tent and cots.

Job-Sharing Suggested by President

banking and industrial committees formed last spring to bring together the forces of economic attack, Young related in detail the organization of that committee.

"We have all learned," he explained, "that it is quite impossible to deal with this depression in insulated compartments. It is obviously hopeless for us to accomplish much in this country unless we can unify and co-ordinate the action of these groups in several districts."

He joined emphatically in the declaration to the nation's business leaders that it was to their best interest to see that the human family had a livelihood.

"Before Winter Comes."

"If we succeed even in small measure in this undertaking and can do it before the winter comes, then, Mr. Chairman, I think these committees will have rendered a very great service to business in the United States," he said.

"A service only to business, because that is secondary, but to men and women who need food and shelter, and most of all who need to retain their own self confidence and self respect. Indeed, not only their self confidence and self respect but what is even more important than all, to enable them and us to retain the confidence of the children who are coming on.

"A father's job lost does more than humiliate the parent. It does more than weaken the self respect of the child. It threatens that stability and that opportunity for the future which is the basis of our hopes and the impulse of our accomplishments.

"That is our problem here. It is not one of partisan politics. It is a problem of the perfection for the future of a social and economic system which is the only one having back of it the human experience of thousands of years, and however faulty, it is the one into which is welded the evolutionary backgrounds of the peoples of the world."

Atlee Pomerene, chairman of the Reconstruction Corporation, voiced belief that "this return of confidence is here to stay" and assailed critics of corporation loans.

Pomerene said 37 per cent of the bank depositors in the United States had been benefited by the loans made by the corporation.

"There has been criticism by some who are always ready and willing to criticise, no matter what the Government may do, that provision has been made for banks and railroads but nothing done for the individual," he said. "How strange that any thinking man should make such a statement."

In the six months before the corporation began its work, he said, a total of 1860 banks failed. In the six months after it began work, he added, only 604 depositories have closed their doors, with a total of 59 banks failing during the present month. He said that in towns of 5000 or less 69,8 per cent of the corporation's loans to banks have been made.

Disputes Delay Work.

Charles A. Miller, president of the Reconstruction Corporation, said the advantages offered for new employment were manifold in the new authority given the corporation to make loans to self liquidating corporations and states and municipalities but he said disbutes within communities as to the desirability of proposals were already making this task very difficult to administer.

The delegates were urged by Secretary of Commerce Chapin to avail themselves of the information and facilities of the Commerce Department in their business stimulating program.

Six-Point Program.

At the afternoon session the conference adopted a six-point program recommended by Secretary Mills.

It called for creation of a central banking and industrial committee headed by Henry M. Robinson, to co-ordinate various activities and six subcommittees were proposed, each charged with carrying out one of the program's points. Owen D. Young was chosen to head the group on credit and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and George H. Houston, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, that on increased employment of railroads and expansion of maintenance equipment and purchase of new epuipment.

The Committee on Expansion of Capital Expenditures by Industry to replace obsolete and worn-out equipment was headed by A. W. Robertson of the Westinghouse Electric Co., Pittsburgh; increased employment through sharing work movement by Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, New York City.

Stimulating repair and improvement of home movement—Sewell Avery of Chicago and C. M. Wooley, chairman of the board of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corporation and the organization of committees in the several districts to assist home owners with maturing mortgages.

Members of Committee.

Members of the Central Committee would include Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York; Mr. Robertson of Pittsburgh, Eugene Meyer, George L. Harrison, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York; Atlee Pomerene, C. H. Miller, Franklin W. Fort, R. P. Lamont, former Secretary of Commerce; Secretaries Mills and Chapin and the chairman of the 12 banking and industrial committees.

Willard told the conference that the Reconstruction Corporation had proposed a large reconstruction program for railroads. Willard said the proposal would furnish employment for approximately 50,000 men and would cost a large sum. The program would call for replacement of equipment. Willard said the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad would be willing to co-operate in this program.

The President remained at the meeting until the end of the present session.

Broadcast Eliminated.

An effort to eliminate politics in the interests of a united front was apparent. Arrangements for the radio broadcasting of the President's address today were canceled suddenly last night on word from the Executive Committee lest the list of administration speakers be considered in the nature of political propaganda.

WIFE OF POISON VICTIM RECEIVED TWO MESSAGES

Mrs. David R. Ettinger Waited in Vain Twice After Getting Instructions Over Phone.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Attorney Charles J. McFadden said today Mrs. David R. Ettinger was summoned twice this week to a spot on the lake front on a promise of news about her husband, who was found dead of poison yesterday in a New Orleans hotel.

"Ettinger left his optical company offices Monday afternoon alone," McFadden said. "The following day Mrs. Ettinger was informed by telephone to go to an entrance to Soldier Field and walk up and down slowly.

"She was told that certain instructions about Mr. Ettinger would be given her. She went to the designated place and waited several hours, but saw no one. The instructions were repeated Wednesday, but again her vigil was unavailing."

McFadden said he had learned Ettinger went from Chicago to New York, 2drew $1000 from an account in the Bowery Bank, returned to Cleveland and went from there by airplane to New Orleans with a companion, who is being sought by New Orleans police. He was with Ettinger until a few minutes before Ettinger was found dying.

28 MEN REACH SHORE AFTER 4 DAYS ON ARCTIC IC

Pack Goes 30 Miles From Coast; Victims Spend Part of Time on Abandoned Boat.

POINT Barrow, Alaska, Aug. 26.—Carried 30 miles from shore on an Arctic ice floe, a party of 28 Eskimo men were safe ashore today after spending four days on the ice pack and on the abandoned fur trader, the Baychimo.

After reaching the Baychimo safely last Sunday, they said, an easterly wind sprang up, breaking up the ice on which they had trekked to the vessel. Only by splitting up into small parties and hunting for seal and bear when their food supplies were exhausted and waiting for the wind to die down, were they able to return to shore. The Baychimo, although nearly a year in the ice now, is little damaged, they said.

'CANADIAN' BEER PLANT RAIDED AT OLD APPLETON, MO.

Federal Agents Invade Brewery Where 'Huether's Pilsener' Is Manufactured for St. Louis Trade

$25,000 WORTH OF BREW POURED OUT

Six Men and Woman Arrested, but Latter Is Released — Two Women Jump From Windows.

The Old Appleton Brewery at Old Appleton, Mo., makers of "Huether's Pilsener 100 per cent malt and hop beer, Huether Brewing Co., Ltd., Kitchener, Ont." for the St. Louis wholesale and retail trade, was raided yesterday by Deputy Prohibition Administrator Dillon and his agents.

A supply of "Canadian" beer, valued at $25,000, according to bootleg prices, was seized and poured out. Six men and a woman were arrested on the premises but the woman was not detained.

Information that the brewery, which has been operating legally and illegally ever since prohibition went into effect, was again producing came to prohibition agents through contacts with the speakeasy market here, on which "Huether's Pilsener" was selling at $17.50 a half barrel wholesale and 50 to 75 cents a pint retail, according to the class of the trade.

No Search Warrant.

Several "Canadian" beers are on the market here and only a few buyers are under a misapprehension that the product, generally of good quality, comes all the way from the Northern Dominion. Old Appleton is about 110 miles southeast of St. Louis.

So certain were the agents of finding the place in operation that they did not bother to obtain a search warrant. They arrived to find all six men at work at bottling machines and three women busily slapping gold labels on green bottles.

In the bottling plant the agents seized 388 cases of beer, 24 pints to the case, which was ready for shipment, and in the racking room found 25 half barrels of beer. A house adjoining the brewery had about 14,000 gallons of beer mash fermenting in vats in the basement, according to the agents, who turned spigots and ran it out.

Women Jumped Out Windows.

Two of the women jumped out windows when the agents entered. The men gave their names as Howard Chester, 51 years old, who is said to have leased the plant; William E. Bowman, 42 years old; Fred J. Meyer, 25; Adolph Sachse, 42; P. S. Rettergelt, 29, and Herman J. Rettergelt, 27. Chester said he had come from the East and that the others were residents of Old Appleton. Bonds for the six were fixed at $1000 each.

Until two years ago the Old Appleton Brewery had a Federal permit to make beer and dealcoholize it into near beer. Following two raids, however, the brewery was forced to give up its permit. Last May it was raided a third time and the agents, failing to find anything in the brewery proper, traced pipe lines to the adjoining house and found 6000 gallons of beer in aging vats.

Theodore Meyer, a brewmaster of former days, was arrested, but a charge against him was dismissed on the ground that the search warrant obtained for the brewery did not permit legal entry into the house.

Q. How much did these checks aggregate? A. Roughly, I should say a couple of thousand dollars.

Heard About Fine.

Q. Did you read in the papers about a fine having been imposed on Sherwood? A. I heard about it afterward.

Q. Did the Sheriff ever ask you for any of this money of Sherwood's? A. No, sir.

Miss Day said she told several of Seabury's assistants about the $2000 she had received for Sherwood.

Sherwood, for his failure to return to New York and appear before the Hofstadter Legislative Committee, was held in contempt by the Supreme Court last winter and was fined $50,000. Since then some of his property has been sold at a Sheriff's sale to meet the fine.

Seabury handed Miss Day a checkbook. "This is one of Mayor Walker's checkbooks," he said. "Please examine it carefully and tell me if you see any writing on the stubs other than that of Russell T. Sherwood."

"Let me see that," the Mayor demanded. "I never saw it before."

"No, there is no other writing here except Mr. Sherwood's," Miss Day said.

Names in Check Book Read.

Seabury read off a list of names from the check books stubs, among them the name of Senator John A. Hastings.

Mayor Walker stepped forward and said: "I insist that the Judge should not be permitted to make that statement for newspaper publicity unless he can submit proof."

Seabury had referred to a check stub showing Hastings had sent the Mayor $300.

"That money was for tickets," Walker said. "Hastings went down to Madison Square Garden and bought tickets for a fight. I advanced the money for a lot of people who wanted those tickets. They paid Senator Hastings and he paid me.

"That sort of thing happens right along. I'm always getting tickets for fights, football games, and so on."

"The Mayor never writes his own checks," Miss Day said. "I draw them for him now."

Hofstadter on Stand.

As the afternoon session opened, Senator Samuel H. Hofstadter. chairman of the committee that bears his name, was called to the stand by Curtin, who asked whether records of the private hearing of the committee had been made available to him. "I have never seen the minutes of the private hearings," the Senator said. Some of the private hearings, he explained, were held with no member of the committee present.

"Has the committee filed any charges against the Mayor?" Curtin asked. "The committee has filed no charges," Hofstadter answered.

"Did Judge Seabury ask—" Curtin began. "Wait a minute! Wait a minute!" Gov. Roosevelt interrupted. "What is the relevancy of that?" He directed Curtin to withdraw the question.

"Senator," Gov. Roosevelt said. "to whom does the committee report?" "To the Legislature," was Hofstadter's reply.

Tells of Hunt for Sherwood.

Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney then testified Walker had asked him to try to find Sherwood and that he had sent pictures of Sherwood to Des Moines, Ia., and Grand Rapids, Mich., where there were reports Sherwood had been seen.

While Mulrooney was on the stand it was brought out that there was a secret agency, in addition to the Pinkertons and the police, searching for Sherwood.

Seabury said he thought he knew. "I wouldn't tell Judge Seabury!" Walker shouted, leaping to his feet.

Denies Herrick's Statement.

Edward L Stanton, former secretary of Mayor Walker, was the next witness. He was asked if he, as Park Commissioner Walter R. Herrick testified, sent to Herrick money with which Herrick bought 300 shares of Interstate Trust Co. stock in 1927. This stock later appeared as collateral put up by an officer of the Equitable Coach Co., Inc., for a loan to help finance the company's campaign for a bus franchise in New York City. The Mayor has denied he ever owned the stock. Herrick testified before the committee that he bought the stock with cash that "came from the City Hall." He assumed, he said, that he was buying the stock for the Mayor. Herrick said he dealt with Stanton in the transaction and told of telephone conversations with Stanton on the subject. Stanton denied today he had ever discussed the matter with Herrick or had sent him any money to buy Interstate Trust Co. stock.

"Did you hear Mr. Herrick's testimony at the hearing:" asked Martin Conboy. "I don't think Mr. Herrick knew where the money came from," was Stanton's reply.

Tells of Talk With Herrick.

Gov. Roosevelt read to Stanton testimony by Herrick before the Hofstadter committee in which Herrick was quoted as saying Stanton had reminded him that he (Stanton), not the Mayor, conducted the interstate stock transaction. "Did you ever tell Mr. Herrick that?" the Governor asked. "No," Stanton replied. "I did have a conversation with Mr. Herrick."

"What was the substance of that conversation?" the Governor asked. "I said," Stanton said, "'whatever put it into your mind, Senator Herrick, that I had anything to do with that stock? I never had anything to do with it.' Herrick replied he had always been under the impression I handled it."

"Weren't you interested enough to trace those certificates?" the Governor asked. "I felt that I had convinced Mr. Herrick he was wrong and it was up to him to go back and tell Judge Seabury about it," Stanton said. "Apparently he did not."

Gov. Roosevelt asked Stanton if he had ever discussed the matter with Mayor Walker. "No," Stanton answered.

"Did you ever deliver any Interstate Trust Co. stock to the Mayor?" asked Curtin. "I did not." Stanton replied.

"Did you ever receive any money from the Mayor to purchase such stock?" Curtin asked. "I did not."

Corroborated by Secretary.

Miss Evelyn Wagner, one of the Mayor's confidential secretaries, was next called to the stand.

Miss Wagner said she had neither received the Interstate stock nor sent out money for its purchase—neither for the Mayor, Stanton nor herself. "I don't remember ever having sent anything to Mr. Herrick," she said.

Miss Wagner, a niece of Senator Robert F. Wagner, was a member of the Mayor's party on the European trip in 1927. She said she remembered seeing Senator Bernard F. Downing "handling the money."

Curtin's next witness was Fritz Brieger, who once filed charges with the Governor and the Hofstadter Committee against Borough President George U. Harvey of Queens.

Curtin started to question Brieger about his charges against Harvey, but the Governor ruled questions along that line irrelevant.

"All the Good Stuff Goes Out."

"All the good stuff goes out," Walker remarked.

As Brieger left the stand Curtin said he had run out of witnesses.

"You might call for volunteers," the Governor observed, laughing.

Over the vigorous objection of Curtin, Seabury had read into the record at the end of the day headlines and date lines from the New York Times, pertaining to stories on Sherwood's presence in Mexico City while he was being sought for questioning.

"I am allowing this to be put into the record," the Governor ruled, "to refresh my recollection as to the great public notoriety concerning Sherwood's whereabouts at the time."

The hearing was adjourned at 3 p. m. until 7 p. m. Monday.

Brown Shoe Co. Increases Force.

By the Associated Press.

MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 26.—The Brown Shoe Co. plant here has increased production from 4500 pairs daily to 9500 and has boosted it working force from 700 to 900, only 200 under the peak. Officers say the outlook is for steady work at this rate at least until November. The factory is also now operating five days a week instead of three and one-half and nine-hour days instead of eight.

GROUP ORGANIZED TO STOP POLITICS IN GAME BUREAU

Speaker Points Out That It Costs Missouri $55 a Thousand to Plant Million Fish in Year.

A St. Louis branch of the Fish, Game and Forest League of Missouri—designed to concentrate the 600,000 sportsmen of the State on the definite object of taking the Missouri Fish and Game Department out of politics—was formed last night at the North Side Y. M. C. A. Dr. G. W. Ruddell, a physician with offices in the Lister building, was elected secretary-treasurer.

The Missouri department spends 78.5 per cent of its revenue for salaries, traveling expenses and State parks, said C. B. Elliott of Kansas City, secretary and treasurer of the league, and political control, rather than department personnel under any particular administration, is the cause.

The league, he said, had the cooperation of the department, as well as that of local and national sportsmen's organizations toward its purely State objectives. It has a membership of 1500 in 97 counties. It plans in the next session of the Legislature, he said, to foster legislation to supplant political control with a bipartisan commission of outstanding sportsmen, serving without pay, which would hire trained fish and game culturists for their qualifications and not their politics.

"Pennsylvania plants 391,000,000 fish a year at a cost of 47 cents a thousand," Elliott said. "Missouri plants 1,000,000 a year, and it costs Missouri $55 a thousand. From 50 deer in 1906 Pennsylvania has 1,000,000 now. We have 5000. Missouri hunters got 54 deer last year. Pennsylvania sportsmen got 25,000.

"The reason is that Pennsylvania has had bipartisan control for 23 years. The men who run its fish and game department are there because they produce results—not because they produce votes."

Points to Other States.

"You all understand how the department is run in Missouri. The Governor appoints one man to head it, and that one man appoints the 91 others. They are all of one political faith, of course. And you know that, if we have a change of administration within a few months, every one of them, no matter how efficient, will be replaced by political spoilsmen.

"Our system is antiquated. It was established 25 years ago, when we had no good roads, when there was cover for game, and when hunting was not increasing as it is now. Every other state once had the same sort of system, but 31 states have eliminated political control and established bipartisan boards of outstanding sportsmen serving without pay."

Hunters and fishermen were entitled to demand such a board, he remarked, comparing them to stockholders who paid their license fees to "put back in the fields and streams what we take out." The league purposes, he said, to see that the 78.5 per cent diverted to other uses shall be used for propagation.

Revenue to State Parks.

This is the only State, said Elliott, where a minimum of 25 per cent of license revenues must go to State parks. The league is committed to repeal of that provision and, Elliott said, some arrangement could be worked out for support of those parks suitable for game refuges.

Probably 300 persons, including a few women, crowded into the small auditorium. They kept up a lively comment as Elliott showed several reels of fishing and hunting pictures, and vigorously applauded his announcement of the league's objects.

"When we speak with the voice of 600,000 hunters and fishermen," said Elliott, "we can very nearly demand our rights and get them. But we'll never get them until we do."

UNIVERSITY CITY TO SELL BONDS FOR STREET PROJECTS

Disposal to Be Made of $75,000 Worth, Half of Issue Voted in 1928.

The University City Board of Aldermen voted last night to sell $75,000 in bonds, half of a $150,000 issue approved by the voters in 1928 to provide a revolving fund for the opening, widening and improvement of streets.

From proceeds of the sale about $45,000 will be paid into the general revenue fund, advances from which had been made for street opening and widening purposes to save the city interest which would have accrued if the bonds had been sold in 1928. Mayor Ruth estimated the city saved $12,000 by deferring sale of the bonds.

The board also authorized the Mayor and the City Treasurer to borrow $12,000 from banks to tide the city over for current expenses until the bonds are sold. Loans will be repaid from the $45,000 payment to the general revenue fund.

LEGION FOR 'FLEXIBLE WEEK'

Second Phase of Campaign to Reduce Unemployment.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—A statement issued yesterday by Mark T. McKee, executive director of the American Legion's National Employment Commission, said Legion Posts in 3300 cities and communities were working toward "the adoption by industry generally of the shorter or 'flexible' working week as a means of spreading employment."

"The same well-organized machine which carried the first objective—the finding or creating of 1,000,000 jobs—through to a successful conclusion on July 1," the statement said, "is running full blast in the second phase of the campaign," with the assistance of industrial and labor leaders in an industrial advisory council and a labor advisory council.

CITY TO ASK R. F. C. FOR $1,500,000 FOR BRIDGE WORK

Application for Funds to Construct Rail Approaches for Municipal Span to Be Made in Week.

City officials announced today, after a conference with executives of the Terminal Association, that the city will seek a $1,500,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, for use in providing the approaches needed for the Municipal Bridge, for its use by the Terminal.

Acting Mayor Neun said the application would be prepared by the City Law Department within a week, and that the effort would be made to obtain the money as early as possible, to provide employment in construction and to complete the bridge for use by the railroads.

The city, not the Terminal, will be the applicant for the loan. The purpose of completing the approaches is to enable the Terminal Association and its constituent railroads to begin use of the Municipal Bridge lower deck. At the same time, under an existing agreement and ordinances, the upper deck of Eads Bridge will be turned over by the Terminal Association to the city, to be made a public highway similar to the upper deck of the Municipal Bridge.

Under its agreement with the city, the Terminal was to furnish the cost of the needed approaches, about $3,000,000, and was to be repaid this money and to be compensated for Eads Bridge, by remission of the regular toll charges on the Municipal Bridge. The Terminal advanced to the city $1,370,000, which was used on the East St. Louis Union Station approach. The other approaches, still to be built, are the western extension and three minor approaches, one of them on the East Side.

A statement issued after the conference today said:

"The Terminal Association has requested that further advances by it for Municipal Bridge approaches be deferred until business conditions improve. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has given consideration to ways and means of taking advantage of the Federal act, to borrow money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, to expedite completion of the approaches as originally planned."

At the conference today, the clause of the recent Federal act authorizing such loans was read. It gave the Reconstruction Finance Corporation authority "to make loans to aid in financing the construction of any publicly-owned bridge to be used for railroad and highway uses, the construction cost of which will be returned in part by means of tolls, fees or other charges and the remainder by means of taxes and tolls pursuant to state law."

The act gave the Reconstruction Finance Corporation power to purchase bonds issued for construction of such bridges. It stated that such projects should be considered self-liquidating if they would be made self-supporting and financially solvent, and would be able to make repayment within a reasonable time.

Those attending today's conference at City Hall were Neun, Comptroller Nolte, City Counselor Muench, President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service, A. C. Meyers of the Comptroller's office, President Henry Miller and Counsel Thomas M. Pierce of the Terminal, and M. H. Doyne, consulting engineer.

ROBBER TIES JEWELER, TAKES $1040 LOOT

August J. Wehmueller's Feet Bound With Wire at 2810 North Grand.

August J. Wehmueller, jeweler at 2810 North Grand boulevard, was held up shortly after 9:30 a. m. today by an armed robber who stole jewelry and watches valued at $1000 and $40 in cash.

Wehmueller was in the rear of the store when the robber entered. As the jeweler went forward, the robber asked to look at some goggles and then drawing a revolver, demanded loose stones, of which Wehmueller said he had none.

The jeweler was then ordered to the rear room and was bound with wire. The robber returned to the shop, put the watches and jewelry in a bag and took the money from the cash register. He then ran out and, according to witnesses, escaped in an automobile. Wehmueller called for help and was released by a man from an adjoining business place. The same shop was robbed of jewelry valued at $1500 and $10 in cash last May 28.

Investigating a fire at the Linda Baking Co., 110 Victor street, last night, police discovered it apparently had been started by burglars who looted the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Hamwi, proprietors of the company, on the second floor of the building.

Hamwi was not in the city but his wife, who was visiting friends on Lafayette avenue, told police $60 in cash, a $900 ring and $100 worth of clothing were missing from the apartment. An iron grating had been pried off a rear window. Damage from the fire was $250 to the contents of the building and $25 to the building. The company manufactures ice cream cones and other bakery products.

Julius Klearman, 1343 Montclair avenue, suffered a skull injury last night in a holdup in the 4500 block of Cote Brilliante avenue. Klearman had entered a truck used in his cleaning and dyeing business when a Negro asked him a street direction and then drew a revolver. Fearing other violence he leaped out of the truck, which was already in motion, and struck his head on the pavement. The truck ran against a nearby building and stopped. The robber escaped.

MARINE BAND USE AT HOOVER NOTIFICATION AGAIN ASSAILED

Union Attacks Navy Secretary as Having No Sympathy "for Man Who Struggles for Living."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Renewing its protest against the use of the Marine Band at the Hoover notification ceremonies, the American Federation of Musicians suggested yesterday that Secretary of the Navy Adams felt no real sympathy for "the man who struggles for a living."

Joseph N. Weber, president of the federation, in a letter to Adams, said in a hundred instances during his administration he had permitted the Navy Department to furnish music free "to the very wealthy, thus taking from poverty-stricken civilian musicians a means of livelihood which was theirs by right and which they greatly needed."

In a previous letter, Weber said the use of the band at the notification ceremonies was a "lawless, political, prosticuted use at the request of the Republican National Committee."

Secretary Adams replied that the band was used because it was its duty to play wherever the President was present, whether or not the occasion was official.

Weber, in his letter yesterday, replied that Adams had cited no law to uphold his contention and that this view had been disclaimed by Presidents Wilson and Harding.

SPEED PLANE RACE DELAYED

Los Angeles-Cleveland Dash Postponed Until Monday.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Failure of entrants to get their airplanes here for the scheduled take-off tomorrow morning for the annual cross-country speed dash to Cleveland caused National Air Race officials to postpone the start until 3 a. m. Monday. C. F. Lienesch, local director of the contest, also said the starting time may be changed again in event unfavorable flying weather is forecast for Monday mornnig.

All pilots in the event were due to be at the United Airport in suburban Burbank, the starting point for the race, today, but at least one of the flyers had not left the East last night. Two of the entrants arrived yesterday. One of them, James Haizlip of St. Louis, damaged his plane in landing but was unhurt. James Wedell of Patterson, La., builder of three planes entered in the race, was the other. Besides his own plane Wedell built those of Haizlip and of Col. Roscoe Turner.

FARMERS INVADE COUNCIL BLUFFS, FREE 55 IN JAIL

With 200 Deputies to Defend Place, Sheriff Lets Imprisoned Pickets Out on Bond.

By the Associated Press.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Aug. 26.—Having forced the Council Bluffs authorities to release on bond 55 farm pickets held in jail for unlawful assembly, striking farmers massed in blockades along the principal highways into the city today. Sheriff Lainson withdrew his deputies last night and no attempt was made to keep the roads open. Council Bluffs is the gateway to the Omaha (Neb.) market.

For a time last night the situation was tense. With about 200 deputies defending the county jail, which bristled with submachine guns and sawed-off shotguns, the invading farm forces from the northwest poured into the city and gathered around the building.

County officials parleyed with leaders of the farmers. Authorities finally agreed to release 43 of the prisoners, arrested on charges of unlawful assemblage, on bonds of $100 each. Twelve others, who had been sentenced to 30 days in jail, were liberated on appeal bonds.

At the conclusion of a four-hour conference last night between city officials, representatives of the strikers, Chamber of Commerce members and county officers, Sheriff Lainson promised to communicate with Attorney-General John Fletcher at Des Moines on the legality of placing deputies among picketers of the Farmers' Holiday Association. John L. Hemp, Granville farmer, said the picketers wanted the deputies as a guarantee that order would be preserved.

A committee of eight who said they represented strikers from Woodbury, Plymouth, Sioux and O'Brien Counties issued a statement criticising Sheriff Lainson and declaring that the large group would leave the Council Bluffs area at once.

"These 2000 men came down here to get the boys out of jail. We were victors in a way," the committee said.

"We think that with the 2000 men we brought into Council Bluffs we overcame a great obstacle," one of the leaders said. "We showed the world that we could raise an army if necessary. We are going home as fast as we can, feeling confidence that the pickets who remain will be able to achieve the objective of the strike.

"We have reached the agreement with officials that we have the right to picket peacefully." He added that by peaceful picketing the strikers mean stopping of trucks and urging the drivers to return home.

Highways into Omaha were picketed today by Nebraska farmers. Pickets were posted on the road from Blair, Neb., just across the Missouri River from Missouri Valley, Ia., to Omaha, the main route here from the northeast section of the State.

The pickets stopped all trucks, but allowed all to proceed into Omaha after warning the drivers that "this is the last time we'll let you through—after this we mean business."

MIDWEST RED CROSS AREA ALLOTTED CLOTH

62 Chapters Get Orders for 374,295 Yards of Farm Board Material.

Orders for 374,295 yards of cotton cloth to be made into garments and distributed to the needy have been issued to 62 of the 1560 chapters of the Midwestern area of the Red Cross, with headquarters in St. Louis.

Although distribution of the 500,000 bales of Farm Board cotton only began last Monday, applications are arriving by every mail throughout the 17-state area, from Texas to North Dakota and Montana to Michigan.

Initial shipments authorized for Missouri and Illinois include: In Missouri, 2350 yards to Fulton, 5100, Moberly; 4000, Sedalia, and 10,000, Higginsville.

In Illinois—2700 yards to Litchfield; 10,000, Hillsboro; 2875 Aquawka; 6000, Centralia; 4000, Gibson City, and 11,000 to Clinton. Other shipments have been ordered made to chapters in Texas, Kansas, Michigan and Iowa and a few in the other states of the area.

No applications have been received from the larger cities, but their preliminary questionnaires indicate they will make heavy requests.

Red Cross officials estimated today that the demand, which is based only on proved present needs in each community, will far exceed the supply.

Word has been received from 277 chapters in this area that a total of 29,915 volunteer workers are ready to begin sewing the cloth into garments as soon as it arrives. It is anticipated that the cloth, converted from the cotton in textile mills which retain part of each bale as their compensation, will begin to reach various communities within two weeks.

Red Cross officials here estimate that the volunteer army of garment makers in this area will comprise more than 150,000 women. Standard patterns for various garments will accompany each initial shipment of cloth.

The cotton is distributed under the same system applying to wheat distribution except that orders are forwarded direct from St. Louis to Washington, D. C., instead of Chicago.

Retains Bait Casting Title.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 26.—Despite adverse winds, Tony Accetta, Cleveland, O., yesterday retained his ⅝-ounce bait casting championship at Carnegie Lake. Seventeen persons participated in the opening event of the tournament being held by the National Association of Scientific Casting Clubs of America. Acetta, who also holds the Pennsylvania title for this event, made an average of 233.4 feet.

MUENCH DEFENDS MOVE FOR R. F. C. FUND AS PROPER

Says Even if Aid Proves Donation City Would Be Justified Because of U. S. Revenue Here.

City Counselor Muench, in a letter to Gov. Caulfield which was made public today, said that the $1,037,000 loans for which city officials are asking the Governor to apply to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for St. Louis relief needs, "may prove to be an out-and-out donation."

The City Counselor added that St. Louis and other cities, which are asking Federal aid in their relief work, are the chief contributors of income taxes to the Federal Government, hence that the present request is a proper one.

Muench in his letter cited provisions of the State Constitution and the city charter, which, he said, authorized such applications as that which the Governor is now asked to make in the city's behalf. He said the city had done everything legally within its power to raise funds for relief by special taxation, short of measures which would destroy business. Of the $4,600,000 bond issue proposal to be submitted to the voters Nov. 8, he said:

"We cannot guarantee that this bond issue will be approved, but it is all the city has the power to do.

Not Strictly Charity Donation.

"I believe," he continued, "that we are justified in keeping in mind this point: While we appear, as a State, to be asking for a loan from the Federal Government, which, it is conceded, may prove to be an out-and-out donation, it is not strictly a charity in the sense that it would be if the funds out of which the advance will be made were funds which we were not helping to create.

"As a matter of fact, regardless of the form in which loans will be made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, they will really be advances to the various states and, through them, to their municipalities, in much the same proportion in which states and the various communities in them make payments into the national Treasury in the shape of luxury and other special taxes.

"Instead of creating funds locally by special taxation, which, because of lack of uniformity, may have the effect of driving business enterprises and, with them, taxable values, into adjoining communities, these taxes are assessed and collected uniformly by the national Government, with less hardship on local communities, and with more effective collection machinery, and are then returned to the communities in accordance with their needs. While the relief may not in each instance be exactly commensurate with the contributions made, it will be approximately so, I believe, because there is every indication that the greatest amount of distress will continue to be in the larger cities, from which, in the very nature of things, the heaviest contributions, under the old, as well as the new, forms of taxation, will come."

Neun Cites Tax Assessment Cut.

Acting Mayor Neun, in his letter to the Governor on the same subject, recited the special taxes imposed, and the appropriations made, by the city to meet unemployment relief needs. He draws the conclusion that the city has exhausted its resources, and that outside help is necessary. He made the point that the State Board of Equalization, of which Gov. Caulfield is a member, had reduced real estate assessments by 10 per cent, and that this largely caused the city's difficulty in raising the needed revenues for municipal purposes and for relief work.

"The City of St. Louis," Neun wrote, "appropriated $600,000 out of municipal revenue for relief from December, 1930, to January, 1932. The city also appropriated $125,000 in December, 1930, to prevent the usual seasonal lay-offs of city employes.

"In the crisis campaign for relief funds in the early part of 1932 the city pledged $600,000 for relief, which is now entirely expended. Recently when there was another crisis due to a shortage of funds, the city agreed to advance another $200,000. Thus the City of St. Louis in 1932 advanced another $800,000 for relief.

"Special tax legislation has been passed that should produce about $1,000,000 revenue per year, but it will be July, 1933, before these taxes are all collected. Therefore, the city can assume no more obligations at this time and set them up against municipal revenue. The legislation mentioned is as follows:

"Tax on gasoline—an additional ½c per gallon; tax on undertakers; tax on barber shops; toll on Municipal Bridge; tax on slot machines; increased tax on real estate brokers; tax on bowling companies; tax on clothing contractors; and tax on towel service companies.

"The relief groups of St. Louis will this fall conduct their drive for funds by individual subscription for the year 1933. You have full information as to funds now available from individual subscriptions, and it has been made clear to you by representative citizens that no more drives can be made to raise additional money for 1932.

"It is, therefore, impossible for the city of St. Louis to carry on its program of relief for the balance of 1932 without the funds that you, as Governor of Missouri, have been requested to obtain for that purpose from the Federal Government. I sincerely hope that you willl make the certification necessary to carry the St. Louis relief program through 1932, and hope the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will find that the data submitted to you by St. Louis clearly establishes the justice of our request."

15,000 REPORTED KILLED IN BRAZILIAN CIVIL WAR

"Well Informed Person," Says Both Sides Have Plenty of Troops and Funds.

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 26.—Dispatches from Santotome quoted a "well informed person" just arrived from Porte Allegre, Brazil, to the effect that 15,000 men had been killed in the Brazilian civil war.

The informant added that the rebels of Sao Paulo were powerfully entrenched on all fronts. The end of the fight was not in sight, this source said, because both the Federals and the rebels had plenty of troops and ample funds.

Rio de Janeiro advices said the rebels had refused peace terms providing for general amnesty and adoption of a provisional constitution pending convention of a constituent assembly.

Porte Allegre, Brazil, dispatches said six rebel planes had bombarded Federal headquarters at Gaupiara, killing three soldiers and wounding eight.

Spent $1365 in Campaign.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 26.—Charles T. (Tom) Hays of Hannibal, Democratic nominee for Division No. 1 of the Supreme Court, reported to the Secretary of State today that he spent $1365.79 on his primary campaign. He reported contributions of $325.

WOUNDED MAN SAID TO ADMIT TAKING PART IN STORE HOLDUP

Arrested While Being Treated by Doctor Hour After Druggist Reports Shooting Robber.

Police announced today that Milton Norman, 22 years old, a wounded prisoner at City Hospital, has confessed participation in a $58 holdup a week ago of the drug store of Henry J. Lander, 3208 Alabama avenue, in which shots were exchanged. Two young men he named as his accomplices were arrested, but denied they had participated.

Norman was arrested as he was being treated by Dr. Joseph P. Berman, 1510 North Sixteenth street, for a bullet wound in his back an hour after the druggist reported to police he had shot one of two masked robbers who entered his store at night, fleeing in a car driven by a third man. Lander was unable to identify the prisoner or the two men arrested yesterday. Until yesterday, he had stuck to a story that he was wounded in a fight.

Part of the money represented receipts from a postal substation in the store.

EDITH M'CORMICK FUNERAL SET FOR 3 P. M. TOMORROW

Body of Daughter of John D. Rockefeller Lies in State at Mansion—Burial to Be Private.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, youngest daughter of John D. Rockefeller, died after a lingering illness of cancer of the breast in a suite in the Drake Hotel yesterday afternoon. Had Mrs. McCormick lived until next Wednesday she would have been 60 years old.

The body of Mrs. McCormick lay in state today in the gray stone mansion at 1000 Lake Shore drive where she long ruled as Chicago's social dictator. Closed two months ago when Mrs. McCormick forsook her residence to spend her last days in a hotel, the home was reopened temporarily at least. A wreath of white lilies and palms hung on the door, and servants tidied up the mansion for the funeral to be held there at 3 p. m. tomorrow. Burial will be private in Graceland Cemetery.

With her when she died were members of her family and Edwin Krenn, her friend and business associate who threw into the market his personal fortune of more than $1,000,000 in an attempt to bolster her dwindling fortune. She once was regarded as the richest woman in the world.

Also in the group as the end came was Harold F. McCormick, from whom Mrs. McCormick was divorced in 1921. There, too, was Mrs. McCormick's only son, Fowler, who alone had never completely broken the family ties. Present also were her older daughter, Muriel, now Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard of Middletown, Conn.; her third youngest child, Mrs. Max Oser, the former Mathilde McCormick; Mrs. Fowler McCormick, the former Fifi Stillman; Mrs. Stillman's son, Alexander Stillman, and Maj. Hubbard, Muriel's husband.

In the opinion of Krenn, financial worries contributed to Mrs. McCormick's breakdown. Once Chicago financiers estimated that Mrs. McCormick's wealth exceeded $40,000,000. That fortune, the gift of her father, is now but a fraction of that amount. Falling stock prices and decreased values of real estate were blamed for the decline.

She was the organizer of vast Chicago and suburban real estate holdings and with the decline in values she sacrificed much of her Standard Oil and other stocks to aid those who had purchased property from her.

The sadness of Mrs. McCormick's fatal illness was tempered by the knowledge before she died that family schisms had disappeared. Before her illness she and her daughter, Mrs. Oser, had been estranged because of the latter's marriage to the Swiss riding master. Mrs. Hubbard's marriage last year, followed by Fowler's marriage to a former Mrs. Stillman, brought further discord.

It is considered extremely unlikely that John D. Rockefeller, now in his ninety-third year, will be able to attend the funeral. His son, John D. Rockefeller Jr., who visited his sister recently, is expected to come from his father's summer estate near Pocantico Hills, N. Y.

SCIENTISTS TO STUDY ATOM DURING ECLIPSE OF THE SUN

Party of 18 From London to Calculate How Fast the Universe Is Dying.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Dr. F. W. Aston, professor at Trinity College, Cambridge, England, and winner of the Nobel prize in chemistry for 1922, arrived here last night with a party of 17 members of the Royal Astronomical Society of London, on the way to Northwestern United States points to study the total eclipse of the sun, Aug. 31.

"We plan to center our attention on the corona," Dr. Aston said. "The green coronium line (in the spectrum) previously has been considered an element. We hope to determine during this eclipse what atom composes that line, and thus add to our knowledge of the structure of the atom. The observations will also help us to calculate how fast the universe is dying."

The sun's corona, which the party will study, is composed of gaseous flames that surround the sun during an eclipse.

Being Returned to Missouri.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Chester Swinford, 29 years old, who was arrested here Aug. 16, left last night in custody of Sheriff H. E. Presnell of Farmington, Mo., for that city. Swinford is charged with being one of four youths who on March 17, 1928, held up a party of seven persons, wounding one. His companions now are reported to be serving terms in the Missouri penitentiary.

WHITE HOUSE DOGS ENJOY PRESIDENT'S RAPIDAN CAMP

Weejie — Named by Peggie Ann, and Pat Regularly Accompany Owners on Outings.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—When the White House cars set off for Camp Rapidan, two dogs with intelligent eyes leap with delight and get ready to take a ride.

They are Weejl and Pat, so truly a part of the White House family that they even share the Hoover penchant for camp life. Wading in mountain streams is their favorite sport.

Recently Mrs. Hoover was making a midweek trip, and the dogs were to have been left behind. But Weejie, sensing her intention, managed to get out of the enclosure and jumped from the ground into Mrs. Hoover's lap in the car, whining and looking mournful. It worked.

Nothing backward about Weejie. He's the dog which, as a small puppie, piled into the President's lap with Granddaughter Peggy Ann at breakfast time and helped himself to a fried egg off the Presidential plate. Peggie Ann named him. She couldn't say the name of his breed, "Norwegian Elk Hound"—Norwegian to her was "Weejie."

Perhaps it was his puppy-hood friendship with Peggy Ann, perhaps his own winsoms ways had something to do with it, but certainly Weejie is the particular pet of Mrs. Hoover.

And Pat, princely police dog, has almost taken the place of the late famed King Tut in the President's affections.

Spent $1365 in Campaign.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 26.—Charles T. (Tom) Hays of Hannibal, Democratic nominee for Division No. 1 of the Supreme Court, reported to the Secretary of State today that he spent $1365.79 on his primary campaign. He reported contributions of $325.

The glasses were perched on a beam near a coupling.

PROTECTIVE GROUP TO FIGHT FRISCO'S FINANCING PLAN

Urges Bondholders to Withhold Assent to Readjustment, Calls It "Discriminatory."

Following the filing of a suit for a receiver for the Frisco Railroad in Federal Court yesterday by two holders of the railroad's prior lien bonds, a committee, formed to protect holders of prior lien and consolidated gold mortgage bonds, today advised such bondholders who had not agreed to the railroad's financial readjustment plan to withhold their assent.

The commitee, formed to secure for these bondholders adequate representation in the formulation of an acceptable plan, expressed the opinion that the proposed readjustment was inequitable and discriminatory.

"The plan is discriminatory," the committee said, "in that it calls for sacrifices by prior lien and consolidated bondholders disproportionate to concessions made by other classes of bondholders. These bondholders are to waive payment of interest (except for contingent interest certificates) until July 1, 1937, and thereafter to accept 50 per cent in the case of prior lien bonds and 40 per cent in the case of consolidated bonds as a fixed charge, the remaining interest to be contingent on earnings until July 1, 1942.

New $25,000,000 Issue.

"The prior lien and consolidated bonds, moreover, are to be subordinated to a new issue of $25,000,000 mortgage bonds 'for general corporate purposes.' In the opinion of the committee this opens the door to preferential treatment to general and unsecured creditors."

The plan has failed to secure sufficient support because of its "fundamental inequities" and requires important revisions, in the opinion of the committee.

It was stated yesterday that the bonds deposited under the plan, which had been extended from Aug. 15 to next Monday, amounted to more than 45 per cent. E. N. Brown of New York, chairman of the board, said yesterday that substantial deposits under the plan were essential to enable the company to meet its Sept. 1 requirements and avoid receivership on that date.

Ask for Hearing Sept. 6.

Counsel for the petitioners in the receivership suit today filed a motoin for the naming of a temporary receiver or receivers, and for a hearing in court Sept. 6. It is expected that Judge Faris, to whom the case has been assigned, will take the case up on or about that day.

In the motion filed today, the petitioners say the railroad company is insolvent, and unable to pay maturing obligations, that foreclosure by creditors is probable, and that this would tend to disintegration of the property. The action requested was said to be necessary to prevent disintegration, and to keep a balance among creditors until their respective equities can be determined.

J. M. Kurn of St. Louis, president, said the application for a receiver would be vigorously opposed. He denied that the company was insolvent, as charged in the application, and said it expected to pay the interest on consolidated bonds due Sept. 1. It is understood that the interest due on that date amounts to about $2,500,000.

Details of Indebtedness.

The railroad has a funded indebtedness of $291,245,767. Of the issues in the interests of which the committee was formed, there are bonds totaling about $275,000,000 divided as follows: $93,398,347 in 4 per cent prior lien bonds, of which $92,105,097 is in the hands of the public; $72,195,800 in 5 per cent prior lien bonds, of which $25,589,500 is held by the public; more than $109,000,000 in consolidated bonds, all held by the public. The prior lien bonds not held by the public are pledged under the consolidated mortgage.

A special meeting of Frisco stockholders has been called for Sept. 12 at 9 a. m. in the railroad's general offices at 906 Olive street to vote on proposals to carry out the plan or any modification of it.

The attorneys who filed the receivership suit for the two bondholders said they would prepare a new plan, in co-operation with the railroad if desired, for submission to the Court. The suit was filed on behalf of Charles and Dora R. Gans of Baltimore by Louis Mayer, Irl B. Rosenblum and Clyde Wagner, St. Louis attorneys, and the New York law firm of Levy, Kraus & Leman. Mayer said that, although the two petitioners held only $3500 in prior lien bonds, the attorneys were acting for a "very substantial group" of prior lien bondholders.

The suit for a receiver was based on allegations that the readjustment plan was unfair to holders of the prior lien bonds. It alleged also that at the end of last year the road's current liabilities exceeded its current assets by about $4,224,000 and cited borrowings from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Railroad Credit Corporation to meet obligations.

TWO MEN IN ROBBER GANG KILLED; 4 SUSPECTS CAUGHT

One of Los Angeles Prisoners Confesses After Fatal Shooting in Bank Holdup.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Six of an alleged gang of seven robbers are dead or captured as the result of an unsuccessful attempt Wednesday to rob the South Broadway branch of the Bank of America.

Two of the robbers were killed by Manager Wetzel Ord of the bank in an exchange of shots in which Teller H. R. Read was wounded. Police yesterday raided a rooming house and captured four suspects. George Turcott was shot through the abdomen when he resisted arrest.

Still searching for the seventh man, police said they had obtained a confession from Robert York, one of the prisoners, declaring he organized the gang to "terrorize the city" after his discharge from Folsom prison. Police said he also confessed he shot and killed W. J. Kirkpatrick, Battle Creek, Mich., a wealthy Olympic games visitor, when the latter entered a jewelry store during a robbery last month.

The other prisoners are Homer Rodgers, once under arrest here on suspicion of murder, and Arthur Alvarado, brother of Frank Alvarado, one of the men slain in the attempted bank robbery. The other victim of Ord's marksmanship was Henry Younkers, Negro.

"I want the rope," York said, according to police, and continued, referring to the Kirkpatrick slaying, "I shot the old man squarely between the yees. I hated to od it, but he wouldn't obey orders."

GASOLINE MOTOR CAR PUT INTO SERVICE BY FRISCO

It Replaces All But One of Road's St. Louis-Valley Park Accommodation Trains.

All but one of the Frisco accommodation trains between Valley Park and St. Louis have been supplanted by a car driven by a gasoline motor. The change in service began Wednesday.

The car was brought here from the railroad shops at Springfield, after several years of service on branch lines elsewhere. The change was made in the interest of economy, officials said, as only an engineer is required for its operation.

The train will leave Valley Park at 5:35 a. m., arrive Union Station at 6:30 a. m., leave Union Station at 6:38 a. m., arrive Valley Park at 7:30 a. m., leave Valley Park at 7:45 a. m., arrive Union Station at 8:40 a. m. and leave Union Station at 5:58 p. m. The steam line to be contnued leaves Valley Park at 6:28 a. m., arrives at Union Station at 7:30 a. m., leaves Union Station at 5:31 p. m. and arrives at Valley Park at 6:20 p. m.

This is the first use by the Frisco of motor cars in the St. Louis district though they have been operated here by other lines for several years.

Hoover Invited to "Bath Town."

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—President Hoover, in a ceremony on the south lawn of the White House, yesterday, received the "key to the town of Bath" and was invited to attend home-coming week at Berkeley Springs, W. Va., Sept. 1 to 5. After former Gov. Morgan of West Virginia presented the committee of 12, the President received the large wooden key, along with a clay pipe.

TIERNON-FOR-CORONER CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Defeated Candidates of Both Parties Back Democratic Nominee in County.

The Tiernon-for-Coroner Club, headed by defeated candidates for both the Republican and Democratic nominations for Coroner of St. Louis County in the recent primary, was organized at a meeting at the Roosevelt Hotel last night.

The meeting was attended by about 75 county physicians and a dozen funeral directors, who pledged their support to help elect Dr. Luke B. Tiernon, Democratic nominee and proprietor of a hospital in Pine Lawn. He is opposed by Louis H. Bopp, Kirkwood undertaker and former Coroner and Sheriff, who has the strong Republican organization backing in the county.

Dr. Elmer O. Breckenridge of Maplewood, who was defeated in the primary by Dr. Tiernon by 1328 votes for the Democratic nomination, was elected president of the club. Dr. John H. Sutter, University City, defeated by Bopp for the Republican nomination; Dr. Arnold H. Wurzer, also defeated by Tiernon, and Dr. John O'Connell, the present Coroner, were named vice-presidents.

Dr. Emmett P. North, member of the State Board of Health, called on the medical profession to work as a unit for the election of physician-Coroners throughout the State. He said that conditions that had prevailed in the past in St. Louis County were duplicated in many other counties where the Coroner's offices are made a means of distributing business favors.

Dr. Tiernon said the election of a physician to the office would prevent the unnecessary expenditure of more than $10,000, even if no other economies were effected. This, he said, would result from the elimination of fees to physicians for postmortems and dispensing with unnecessary inquests, with attendant constable fees and fees for jurors and witnesses.

Speaking for the funeral directors, George W. Hoffmeister, 7814 South Broadway, reviewed the grand jury investigation of the Coroner's office in 1928, when Bopp's administration was under fire. He said that the grand jury found ample evidence of abuse of official power and recommended that undertakers be made ineligible to hold the office of Coroner.

Bopp's son, Rolland, who was nominated on the Republican ticket in 1928 to succeed his father, was defeated by Dr. O'Connell, a Democrat, after the grand jury made its report.

HELD ON CHARGE OF GIVING FALSE ALARMS TO POLICE

Man Says He Reported Robberies to Relieve His Mind After Being Rebuked by Wife.

A man who said he was Raymond Scaggs, 27 years old, 3912A Folsom avenue, was charged with giving police false telephone calls last night after radio scout cars had responded to two false alarms.

After going to Thirty-ninth street and Castleman avenue to a mythical grocery holdup and a few minutes later to Thirty-ninth street and Folsom avenue on a report a drug store was robbed, police arrested Scaggs a few blocks away. They were told he had just telephoned from a store. Scaggs told police, they stated, that he telephoned the reports for "some excitement" to relieve his mind because his wife had remonstrated with him for drinking.

Boy, 10, Accidentally Shot.

Everett E. Stewart Jr., 10 years old, St. Charles, was struck and superficially wounded by 14 shot in the back and left leg yesterday, when an automatic shotgun was accidentally discharged as Robert Campbell of St. Charles laid it in a truck, near the Stewart home. The charge passed through the two-inch wooden side of the truck. Everett was playing across the street.

ADMITS KILLING WIFE FOR HUSBAND FOR $500

Detroit Man Says Butcher Hired Him to Shoot Woman in Fake Holdup.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Aug. 26.—Police have announced that the four-months-old murder of Mrs. Alex Wysocki, wife of a meat market proprietor, has been solved by the confession of Ira Sams that Wysocki paid him $500 to kill his wife in a fake holdup attempt.

Wysocki, Sams and three witnesses were arrested. Mrs. Wysocki was slain as she rode with her husband in their automobile by a man who leaped on the running board of the car. Wysocki, after the slaying, said the man attempted to hold them up and when he seized the robber's pistol, the man fired at his wife.

Sams said Wysocki paid him the $500 in installments after the slaying.

Florence Marsh, former cashier in Wysocki's meat market; Elmer Emper, said to be a saloon operator, and Marie Lewis, friend of Emper, were held as witnesses. Police said they were friends of Sams.

RECEIVERS APPOINTED FOR NEW YORK SUBWAY

Interborough Rapid Transit Co. Consents to Action—Line Largest in City.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Equity receivers were appointed today for the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., which operates subway and elevated lines connecting four of the city's five boroughs.

Judge Martin T. Manton of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals appointed former Justice Victor J. Dowling and Thomas E. Murray equity receivers.

The application for the receivership was made by attorneys for the American Brake Shoe & Foundry Co., a creditor, and was consented to by the Interborough.

The I. R. T. is the largest subway operator in New York, but not the only one. The Brooklyn Manhattan Transit Co. also operates a subway system connecting Kings, Manhattan and Queens Boroughs.

The petition sets forth that the outstanding capital stock of the corporation is $35,000,000; that there is a first and refunding mortgage, dated March 20, 1913, to the Guaranty Trust Co. of $132,000,000 and an additional mortgage of $54,000,000; that there are due on both sums aggregating $31,672,100, and that the floating indebtedness of the corporation amounts to $2,500,000.

The petition also charges that the I. R. T. has failed to pay real estate taxes in the sum of $480,000 to the city of New York.

BOARD REJECTS BOTH BIDS ON WATERWORKS CLARIFIERS

The Board of Standardization today rejected the two bids submitted for the manufacture of four metal clarifiers for new basins under construction at the Howard's Bend waterworks. It held that more general bidding might stimulate competition, with favorable results to the city.

Director of Public Utilities Pritchard had recommended acceptance of the $81,060 bid of the Dorr Co., Inc., of New York and Chicago, over the bid of $56,600 made by Stupp Bros. Bridge & Iron Co. of St. Louis. He said Stupp Bros. never had constructed such apparatus. The specifications called for equipment "as manufactured by the Dorr Co."

In rejecting both offers, the board suggested that new specifications be drafted to permit bidding on different parts of the mechanism, and containing provisions protecting the city against claims of patent infringement, such claims having entered into the two bids received. It is also suggested that Water Department engineers investigate the feasibility of developing an original design for the equipment, to be erected by employes of the department.

BANK CASHIER AGAIN ACCUSED

J. C. Willebrand, who was cashier of the defunct Central Trust Co. of St. Charles, was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday after preliminary hearing on an information charging acceptance of a deposit when the bank was insolvent.

An indictment on the same ground, accepting a $700 deposit by Mrs. Mary Plackemeier a week before the bank closed in January last year, was found defective and dismissed three weeks ago. Willebrand gave $1500 bond following the hearing by Justice of the Peace W. F. Wolter.

DIVORCES C. C. CAMERON JR.

Mrs. Patricia Cameron, 721 Leland avenue, University City, obtained a divorce at Clayton today from Charles C. Cameron Jr., foreign freight agent for the Illinois Central Railroad and son of a vice-president of the road.

Mrs. Cameron charged general indignities. They were married in 1931, at Collinsville. Cameron did not contest. He resides at Parks Air College.

TRAVEL BUREAU MAN GIVES HIS SIDE OF CONTROVERSY

Comments on $50 Fine for Illegal Transportation of Interstate Passengers.

R. J. McKnight, proprietor of the National Travel Service, 4040 Olive street, said today that the law prohibiting interstate transportation of passengers without a permit from the State Public Service Commission was a Missouri statute and did not prevent the bureaus from arranging passage in private cars on a "share expense" basis, through other states.

California and Florida have similar laws, McKnight said.

Lew Lewis, travel bureau proprietor, was fined $50 at St. Charles Wednesday for violation of the statute.

Travel bureaus holding a city license to transport passengers, according to McKnight, are permitted to operate within the St. Louis area, thus enabling them to reach a route to their destination through another State than Missouri. The machine carrying passengers booked by Lewis was traveling through St. Charles, outside the St. Louis area.

Robber Gets $17, Leaves Security.

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 26.—The robber who held up Glenn Pelton's oil filling station demanded and got $17, but before he departed he left a watch and chain as "security." "I need the $17," he said, "to bail a friend of mine out of jail."

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., IS WINNER OF EASTERN LEGION BASEBALL TITLE

As a result of the victory, Springfield will meet the Western champion in the national finals at Manchester, N. H., next week.

GLEDHILL AND VINES DEFEAT BERNARD AND HENRI COCHET

By the Associated Press.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 26.—Henri Cochet and Marcel Bernard, representing France in the fifty-first annual national doubles tennis tournament, today bowed to Ellsworth Vines and Keith Gledhill, the crack California net team, 16—14, 3—6, 4—6, 9—7, 6—2, in an exciting but poorly played semifinal match at Longwood.

The opening play was weird tennis. Neither was able to do much against service, the Americans breaking three times and the Frenchmen four times. Cochet was guilty of the big break, in the twenty-ninth game, when he banged four returns beyond the base line to drop a love game. Gledhill then ran out the set, which lasted 58 minutes, score 16—14.

The French team squared the match by taking the second set, 6—3, breaking down Geldhill's service by playing against his weak backhand in the fourth game.

Cochet and Bernard broke Gledhill in the seventh game of the third set for a 6—4 victory and retired for the 10-minute rest period a set to the good.

Vines and Gledhill pulled up even by capturing the fourth set, 9—7, after a hard fight. Bernard and Vines lost their services early in the set but the former broke down again in the sixteenth game under a terrific American fire.

The American team put on a mildly impressive rally in the fourth set to square the match and in the fifth they outplayed the French by a wide margin, breaking down Bernard's service twice, to gain the championship round, which will be played tomorrow against the defending champions, Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn.

The defeat ended another of France's many attempts to gain the American team title. They have come over here many times in the last decade but no French team has ever been strong enough to survive the semifinal round.

Each wrestler must post $2500 to compete in the tournament, of which the commission will act as sponsor and matchmaker.

Following are those, besides Londos, who were declared eligible: Ed "Strangler" Lewis, Joe Stecher, Gus Sonnenberg, Don George, Dick Shikat, Jim McMillen, Hans Steinke, Joe Savoldi, George Zaharias, Henri de Glane, John Pesek, Everett Marshall and Nat Pendleton.

New Redbird

CHARLEY WILSON.

CHARLEY WILSON TO PLAY WITH CARDS SUNDAY

Charley Wilson, infielder, recently purchased by the Cardinals from the Rochester club of the International League, has been ordered to report to Manager Gabby Street. He will arrive here in time to play shortstop in Sunday's doubleheader with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Wilson will replace Charley Gelbert, who is on the injured list.

Branch Rickey, vice-president and general manager of the Redbirds, recently said that Wilson was one of the best young infielders in the minor leagues.

This will be his second trial in the majors. A few seasons ago, he was tried out by the Boston Braves, but there was such a big price tag attached to the infielder that he was sent back to the Rochester team by the Hubtown entry.

Latest International League averages show Wilson with a batting average of .298 in 117 games. In 419 times at bat, he has made 124 hits. He has scored 69 runs and batted in 71. His hits include 25 doubles, four triples and nine homers.

Wilson is the second athlete to be brought up recently from the Cardinals' International League "farm." The other was George Puccinelli, who now is playing left field for Gabby Street's fast fading world champions.

The new infielder is 26 years of age. He started his baseball career with Marshalltown in the Mississippi Valley League in 1927.

Wilson, who has been suffering from a sore arm, has entirely recovered, although he has not played regularly, since Rochester, out of the race for the I. L. flag, has been using recruit players.

SPEED BEST WEAPON FOR PITCHERS IN NIGHT BALL GAMES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—The technique of pitching is different at nights than in daytime, the performance of several Pacific Coast League twirlers indicate. Ted Pillette of the San Francisco Mission changes his style most completely.

Under the sun he depends largely upon change of pace to confuse batsmen, but under electric lights he concentrates on speed and sharply breaking fast curves. Pillette says he can't get away with a change of pace pitching as the ball looms up at night and makes it easy for the fellow at bat. During daylight games he still makes the most of changing his speed.

Other moundsmen have also said that night-time games call for a faster ball, with speed the most effective weapon against the heavy hitters.

GALLANT SIR WINS IN HIS FIRST START SINCE KENTUCKY DERBY

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The Norworthy Stable's Gallant Sir, making his first start since he ran eighth in the Kentucky Derby, romped to an easy victory in hte Rolling Green purse at Hawthorne today.

Melvin Lewis rushed Gallant Sir to the front at the start and led at every post. Al Anderson on Stock Market, the favorite, could get no closed to the victor than a length and a half. Sobieha fniished third. Gallant Sir, a three-year-old son of Galahad III-Sun Pot, ran the six furlongs in 1:13 1-5, and paid $7.80 to win. Such good horses as Sweep All, Don Leon and Colonial Belle were among the conquered.

MISS RAVIOR LEADS SWIM AFTER 5 MILES

TORONTO, Aug. 26.—With perfect weather conditions prevailing, 29 women today plunged into the waters of the lake at 1:30 p. m. in the national 10-mile swimming marathon. Gertrude Ederle was among seven entrants who failed to appear.

No word had been received explaining Miss Ederle's failure to arrive.

Other withdrawals were Marjorie Royce of Dayton, Ky.; Mathilde von Leer, Terre Haute, Ind.; Mrs. Urban S. Reininger, Forest Hills, N. Y., and May Holding, Revere, Mass.

At the end of the first leg, 1588 yards from the start, Miss Margaret Ravior of Philadelphia, who has won the swim two years in succession, had pulled into a lead of five yards with Evelyn Armstrong of Detroit, Leah Riley from Keansburg, N. J., and Ruth Tower Corson of Toronto in that order behind her.

At the end of the first five miles, Miss Ravior led the field, with Evelyn Armstrong second, 300 yards behind. Miss Ravior was swimming easily but with tremendous power.

As the swim neared its finish, a terrific rainstorm swept over the course, forcing the thousands of spectators to run for cover.

With Miss Ravior leading by 1000 yards with only slightly more than two miles to go, many of the swimmers left the water. Among those taken out were Martha Stager, Chicago; Bertha Elaskey, Cleveland, and Lilliam Copplestone, one of the favorites, from Christ Church, New Zealand.

PEPPER MARTIN LIKELY TO BE TRIED AT THIRD BASE SOON

GABBY STREET TO EXPERIMENT WITH TEAM FOR 1933 SEASON

By J. Roy Stockton.

Charley Street's Cardinals, who are 10½ games behind the Cubs and who can't hit a ball out of the infield with the bases filled and Old Adolfo Luque on the hill, have arrived at the experimental stage of the 1932 season and the Old Sergeant is likely to turn his attention soon to some of the problems that will confront him next spring.

Gabby, you know, will have to find a third baseman to replace Sparky Adams, who may be through as a regular, and among the prospects is a broad-shouldered young man with bulging muscles, one Johnny "Pepper" Martin. You'll remember Martin as the galloping center fielder of the 1931 world series. And you may consider it strange for him to be ranked as a candidate for a job at third base. But that's what he is.

Martin, you know, broke into baseball as an infielder, but his arm was so strong that when he picked up a grounder and threw, the force of the heave frequently knocked a first baseman right off the bag. Johnny was playing third and the shortstop and second sacker, from taking occasional throws from the Martin boy, were regular visitors at the infirmary, seeking treatment for bruised hands.

He's Smarter Now.

However Johnny Martin has learned things since those days of his youth. He has become master of those bulging muscles. He has learned that haste makes waste and that if you continue to ruin first basemen, it's very bad for the team. And Johnny Martin would like to play third base.

The Cardinals, you know, expect to have an over-supply of good outfielders next spring. Joe Medwick, a combination of George Sisler, Ty Cobb and Pepper Martin, with Cobb's daring, Sisler's skill and Martin's strength, is sure to graduate from Houston. Then George Puccinelli will be a candidate for an outfield job. And so it would take a big load off Gabby Street's mind and still leave no vacancy in the outfield if Martin were to develop into a third sacker.

Pepper Has Been Practicing.

Martin believes in himself. He was talking over the proposition with a Cardinal official and expressed confidence that he could develop into an excellent infielder. And why shouldn't he play third base? He certainly has the equipment. Quick starting on ground balls and the ability to dart this way and that are essentials for the job and Martin certainly doesn't waste any time getting started. He has the arm and he has the courage.

So don't be surprised one of these days if Announcer Kelly tells you that Martin is playing third base for the Cardinals. He has been working out there early, and is about ready for a trial.

Bears' Football Team Will Start Practice, Sept. 10

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY'S football squad will report for fall football practice on Sept. 10, according to a call for players sent out yesterday by Head Coach Jimmy Conzelman.

"I will have all my good players back with one exception, I believe," Conzelman said. "Jack Soest, second string tackle, reports that he will not be in school this year and that weakens my replacements by a good man. However, all my regulars will be available.

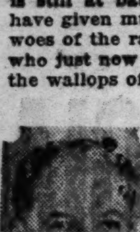
"I will have a stone wall line but my backfield is not yet settled."

Wagner, a star tackle from Westminster College, will matriculate at Washington this fall and will be available for football next year, but not this fall.

Wray's COLUMN

Racing Now Back to 1902.

WHILE loud moans from the boxing promoters and baseball magnates attest the fact that depression with a capital D is still at bat, nobody seems to have given much attention to the woes of the race track promoter, who just now is staggering under the wallops of Dame Fortune.



EDDY.

Signs of the times are noted in Lincoln Fields' reduction to a $1 admission — with Annie Oakleys easy to obtain. Purses have been cut more than 50 per cent at some tracks; and at Fairmount this fall the low purse will be $400, exactly the size of the purse offered at St. Louis tracks 30 years ago!

The inflation that sent stakes ballooning over the $100,000 mark and daily purses to $1500 averages, has declined. Deflation is on and racing is getting back to normalcy. In the process the promoter naturally has been reduced to his last year's wardrobe.

Luck, 100 Per Cent Bad.

IT remained for Robert S. Eddy Jr., general manager of Fairmount, to run head on into Luck, all of it bad. When he arrived last week to take over the handling of affairs here he suffered a body blow. He kept on smiling, but the effect is still there.

This setback was the announcement that the street car line that has served Fairmount for several years, handling from 1000 to several thousand a day, has been discontinued and its franchise surrendered. It is very questionable if authority to resume its operations can be obtained. Even then, the company may not be willing to operate for a mere 25 days.

Also, since last meeting, the free bridge is no longer free—and although the toll is only 10 cents, it delays the handling of the traffic, which is the race track's principal grief.

As the situation now stands, the 1000 to 3500 extra customers that were cared for daily by the street cars will now have to be hauled by busses. It will take at least 50 of these and although a 20-cent rate is contemplated, these additional large vehicles, added to Fairmount's parking and highway troubles, produce a problem that has not yet been solved.

Last Race at 4:40 P. M.

"WE are going to try out the Post-Dispatch's suggestion that we start early, cut down the intermission periods and put on the last race around 4:40. That would get everybody back to St. Louis in time for a hot supper," Eddy commented today.

"As far as the mutuels are concerned, not more than 15 minutes are actually needed. That time is necessary to pay off on the last race while betting is going on for the next event. However, there are other considerations that take time. Jockeys must go to the showers and change suits for the next race, and other routine procedure requires that about 20 minutes is the minimum intermission needed. We hope to run the races off rapidly enough to start the customers home from the last race at 5 o'clock."

This, of course, will be a big concession. Owing to highway conditions, transportation homeward by auto, has been extremely tedious for those who waited until after 5 o'clock to quit the track. With some 2000 more persons to transport by auto or bus, an earlier getway will certainly be helpful.

A New Betting Wrinkle.

THE success of the "daily double" pari-mutuel feature last year has inspired another betting novelty which originated at the Canadian tracks of the Dandurand circuit, of which Fairmount and Bainbridge are American components.

This novelty is the "one-two" ticket, and the inducement is the long price. The bettor is asked to pick the race "one, two." That is, name the first and second horses in the order of their finish.

"The daily double was a real popular move," Eddy observed, "but this one is going over big in Canada. The odds are good and the public likes to pick the hard ones if the rewards are big."

Naming a winner is hard enough; but picking a race one-two is taking the horse-racing "science" right into the foolish house. However, the one-two bet is easier on the mutuel than the daily double, which ties up a certain amount of the public's bankroll for TWO races instead of one.

$2500 Daily Tax Must Go.

DEPRESSION days are likely to do one thing for horse racing—knock out the $2500 a day tax and substitute for it either a tax based on the amount of money handled by the mutuel or cause a reduction in the $2500 total.

Fairmount sought such a reduction on good grounds—that it was not fair to assess it the same amount as was asked of tracks three times as costly and many times greater in their pari-mutuel handle.

The "highly immoral" reduction asked last year by Fairmount is now sought by the Matt Winn tracks, because the financial shoe is beginning to pinch. It all depends on whose ox is gored what you think of that $2500 tax.

There is good chance that if all the tracks together request a change of law it will be forthcoming. Legislators are not likely to tamper at this time with any industry or promotion that pays salaries to thousands of men and makes possible breeding and other industries.

First-Year Stars Make Bids For Places on Babe Ruth's Team

Three St. Louis Players Have Shown Great Promise—Herman, Cubs, Weaver, Senator Pitcher, and Others Earn Consideration.

By Herman Wecke.

Although Babe Ruth in past seasons has not named a first-year man on his All-America team, the Yankees' star will have his hands full trying to decide against some of the rookies of 1932 when he selects this season's All-Star Club.

There are some youngsters who have played important parts in the success of their respective clubs this season and own records which entitle them to consideration against some of the older stars.

No fewer than three of these men are with the two St. Louis clubs. Despite the fact that he has won but 13 games, while losing 11, Dizzy Dean is a real pitcher. For one thing he leads the National League in strikeouts, which in itself is no small feat for a man who is serving his first year in the "big tent." Dean, records show, can be classed as one of the "hard luck" twirlers of the league, But even without Dean, there are some mighty fine young hurlers in the majors.

Browns Have Two Hopes.

In addition to Dean, the Browns have two fine prospects. They are Bruce Campbell, the right fielder, regarded by many as a sure star in one or two years. Then there is Art Scharein, the young man brought up from the Texas League, who apparently has filled out the weak third base position for Bill Killefer, although he did not come up to the majors as a third sacker, having played second for Longview. Both are hitting close to the .300 mark.

Even excepting Dean, there are several hurlers, who warrant consideration for All-America team honors. First of all, there is Monte Weaver, the right-hander with the Senators, who has won 19 games and lost only seven this year. That's a mighty good mark and places him second to Lefty Gomez among the regulars in the American League.

Then there is Johnny Allen, with the Yankees, who has won 12 and lost only two, while Tony Freitas, the southpaw brought up from the Pacific Coast by the Athletics, has an 8-2 record. The best in the National League, besides Dean, appear to be Huck Betts and Bob Brown of the Braves, who have 12-6 records. These men would make a pretty fair pitching staff for any club in the big leagues.

Two New First Sackers.

There are two pretty fair first basemen this season. There is Harry Davis, with the Tigers, who proved good enough to permit the Detroit club to trade Dale Alexander to the Boston Club. Then Bud Clancy, brought up from the International League, who has been a big help to the Brooklyn club in its recent successful run in the N. L.

Billy Herman of the Cubs appears the best of the second sackers, although Olson of the lowly Boston Red Sox has played some good ball. Except for Scharein, the young third sackers do not show up so well.

Among the new shortstops, Floyd Vaughan, who played such great ball for the Pirates in the early stages of the race, appears to have the edge on Crosetti of the Yankees.

There's a pretty fair young outfield roaming in the majors, made up of Gerald Walker of the Tigers in left field; George Davis Phillies, center field, and Bruce Campbell, Browns, right field.

Maybe Ruth will place one of these young men on the 1932 All-America. Then again he may consider that the experience of the veterans entitles them to the various positions, despite the fine records of the new players.

Contest Ends Aug. 31.

However that is for Ruth and the fans, who contemplate entering the Post-Dispatch contest to decide. Less than a week remains before the close of the contest, in which there are $700 in prizes. And fans entering should not forget the 250-word essay, which in the end may decide the winners of the major prizes.

Post-Dispatch Contest Rules

THE contest is open to everyone, except employes of the Post-Dispatch and their families.

Entries will close Aug. 31 at midnight, and letters bearing postmark up to that time will be considered eligible.

The contestant naming the same players in the same positions and batting order as Babe Ruth wins the first prize; but in event no contestant duplicates Ruth's picks, the one nearest will be considered the winner.

In addition to naming the players to conform to those chosen by Ruth, contestants must arrange them in the same batting order as Babe Ruth. The Babe has agreed to place his choices in the order in which he thinks they should go to the plate.

An explanatory letter of not more than 250 words must accompany the selections and will be passed upon by the judges. This is as important as selecting the players. Babe himself will write an explanation of his choices. In event of a tie, excellence of the compositions would determine the winner. (Write on one side of the paper only and make your selections on a separate sheet.)

Ten players will make up the team, two pitchers and eight other players, one for each position. Only one team may be submitted by each contestant.

No corrections will be accepted once an entry has been received and filed.

Babe Ruth is not eligible. He will not pick himself.

Players must be selected on the basis of their play in the 1932 season only. Performances of previous years do not count.

A player may be placed in a position other than the one he regularly occupies, provided he has played such position in one or more championship games. Otherwise, regular positions must be rigidly adhered to. For instance, a regular left fielder may not be placed in right field unless he has played there at least once in 1932.

The prizes will be $200 cash for first, $150 for second, $100 for third, $50 for fourth. There will be five of $20 each and 10 of $10 each. The next 25 winners will receive baseball bats, autographed by Babe Ruth, and the last 25 winners will be awarded regulation American League baseballs, autographed by Ruth and mounted for use as blotters.

Mail selections to the Babe Ruth Contest Editor, care the Post-Dispatch.

TWO OHIOANS LEAD SHOOT WITH PERFECT SCORES

By the Associated Press.

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 26.—Two Ohioans, A. H. Conkey, Cleveland manufacturer, and Lewis Seaborn, Youngstown, O., jumped itno the lead of the Grand American trapshoot championship here today by breaking 50 straight targets. They were among the first to reach the halfway mark. Conkey is shooting from the 18-yard line and Seaborn from 23 yards.

Bobby Olds, the Lansing (Mich.) lad who won the preliminary handicap yesterday, remained in the running by smashing 47 out of 50. Mrs. Joseph Murphy of Freehold, N. J., paced the feminine field with 48.

The Rev. Garrison Roebuck of Defiance, O., defending his championship, passed completely out of the picture this morning, breaking only 31 out of 50. The Rev. Mr. Roebuck is shooting from the 21-yard line this year as compared with 17 yards last year.

Despite the bad weather conditions, 13 other shooters had registered 49, with about half the field still to report at the halfway mark.

Miller Meets Ross.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Ray Miller, Chicago's left hook artist, and Barney Ross, another lightweight from the same West Side neighborhood, will engage in a 10-round act at the Sparta Stadium tonight.

TABER, IN CITY, TO REORGANIZE HOCKEY CLUB

By W. J. McGoogan.

Harry S. Taber, president of the St. Louis Hockey Club, is in St. Louis, trying to get the affairs of the organization in shape to start the American Hockey League season with a strong team, well financed.

Announcement from Chicago today that the Shamrocks had withdrawn from the American League and will be transferred to Detroit as a National League outfit, means a realignment of the American League.

Steps in that direction already have been taken. The American League has applied for reinstatement to organized hockey and if this is granted will drop its claims to a major organization and again accept the status of a minor league with its players subject to the draft.

Tulsa Dropped From League.

Taber said that it is the intention of the American League to have clubs in St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, Duluth and possibly St. Paul and Omaha. Tulsa has been dropped and, although a group of men in that city have made overtures to the league to keep a club there, Taber said it probably would not be considered largely because of Tulsa's geographical location which puts such a transportation burden on the other teams in the league.

Several of the American League players have applied for reinstatement to the National League. Among them is Burr Williams, star defense man of the St. Louis team last season, over whom the battle waged between Chicago and St. Louis last winter. Paddy Byrne, former Chicago goaltender, Syl Acaster and Hansen of Tulsa have been reinstated, according to Taber. And a part of the agreement between the Shamrocks and the National Hockey League called for the drafting of two star players of the former American League team, MacFayden and MacKenzie.

Taber is seeking to straighten out the financial tangle in which the St. Louis team found itself at the close of last season which resulted in many of its players being stranded here without transportation to their homes.

Much of the trouble of last winter came from bills which the team had inherited from previous seasons and which, despite a paid attendance of more than 100,000 during the season, it was unable to make up.

Many of the obligations still remain and it is Taber's intention to liquidate these before plans for the new season are made.

Seeks New Lease on Arena.

To this end he is seeking a new lease with The Arena. Last season the club paid 33 1-3 per cent of its gross receipts for rent and it is Taber's assertion that his organization can not earn money under those conditions.

There will be fewer players carried this season than last, the roster including not more than a dozen and needless to say salaries will be readjusted.

Taber declared that his organization would have earned its way last season had it started off from scratch and that is what he is striving to bring about this year.

DEFFAA AND GEORGER WIN DOUBLES TITLE

Edward Deffaa and Orville Goerger won the Municipal Class B men's double tennis tournament, defeating Henry Stahl and Paul Crandall in the final round at Forest Park yesterday afternoon. The complete score was 6—3, 6—2, 2—6, 6—4.

Sport Salad by L. Davis

By Limerick Luke.

IF someone should ask you "Who is he?"
Just tell him his label is "Dizzy."
Every day on the mound
He is apt to be found,
For he likes to be kept fairly busy.

His actions are often erratic,
But we'll tell in language emphatic
That he chucks a mean pill,
And when out on the hill
There are no signs of bats in his attic.

That bozo not only can fling 'em,
Right smack on the nose he can sting 'em.
And speaking of bats,
We again doff out hats,
For he certainly knows how to swing 'em.

Busy Dean.

All work and no play may make Jack a dull boy, but "Dizzy" Dean says it keeps him on edge.

"Veeck Pays High Tribute to Charley Grimm."

Strange as it may seem, it doesn't cost anything to pay high tributes.

But there are exceptional cases. Br'er Veeck paid high tribute to Rogers Hornsby when he hired him and had to continue paying it after he fired him.

Tickets for the world series in Brooklyn have already been printed, naming the Yankees as the opposing team. A little early in the season, especially for a club trailing by several games. Still it is a noble gesture and may act as an incentive for the Dodgers to validate the tickets.

It looks like the Dodgers have stolen a march on the Cubs and Pirates but a ticket on the Cubs still looks far from bad.

Ed Prante, 225-pound boxer, hopes to follow Gene Tunney as champ when his enlistment in the Navy expires. With this end in view he is reading Shakespeare and fighting when he can get a chance. So the heavyweight championship looks safe for the Navy, no matter what happens to Sharkey.

The following lineup of a freshman team announced by Coach "Slip" Madigan of St. Mary's indicates that "Slip" is going to fight the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame with their own fire:

Ends—Yerzerski, Erdlatz.
Tackles—Brasnyo, Cambianicia, Sartini.
Guards — Tacconi, Elduayan, Krlajevich.
Centers—Delaua, Jirsa, Popajana.
Backs—Rios, Vanlivich, Magrini, Bracco, Mattos.

IT'S the greatest bunch of Irish

And proves there's nothing in a

Walsh Orders Billiken Football Squad to Report Sept. 10; Only Seven Games on Team's Schedule

By James M. Gould.

Charles F. (Chile) Walsh, director of athletics and head football coach at St. Louis University, is in Moberly, Mo., where, today and tomorrow, he will give lectures as part of the course in a football coaching school. Walsh, telling other coaches "what it is all about" might be a bit happier if he knew "what it is all about" at his own school.

There have been "wars and rumors of wars" at St. Louis U. over the scholarship situation. What have been construed as "warnings" have been received by the Billikens from the North Central Association, and it is the apparent determination of Father Johnston, president of the university, to see that the athletic activities and methods of his university are approved by that governing body.

WALSH.

Just how much effect this determination will have on the prowess of the 1932 Billiken eleven remains to be seen. Coach Walsh, Earl Painter, chairman of the athletic board, and Father Johnston will "huddle" again on Walsh's return from Moberly and some definite line on the policies to be followed may be obtained.

Practice to Start Sept. 10.

Walsh seems sure that he will have a good team on the field this fall. He has issued a tentative call for the beginning of practice on Sept. 10, and not until the roll is called at the first gathering of the candidates will he know what inroads—if any—have been made into his squad, which, at the close of the 1931 football season, was one of the most promising in this section.

Observers here, noting that last year Walsh had three varsity squads of nearly equal ability and power, feel that if only the so-called "third squad" players are available this year, St. Louis will make an excellent showing, especially as there are several freshmen, notably Moser, the big center, who are more than ordinarily promising.

As things stand now, a seven-game schedule will be played. Originally, 10 games were booked but for economic reasons games with Drake, Marquette and Carnegie Tech were canceled.

Reports that Rolla might be booked to fill one of the vacated spots are not justified, according to Coach Walsh. He has heard nothing of such an arrangement and his present plans call for the tuning up of his team on the seven-game basis.

Five of the seven games, including the University of Kansas contest, will be played at night, all on Fridays. The Thanksgiving day clash with the Washington Bears and the Dec. 3 battle with Missouri are the only day games.

Yesterday several of the 1931 stars, including big Manuel Rapp, reported at the gymnasium and talked with Coach Walsh. They were all anxious to start the campaign.

Joe Maxwell, Walsh's assistant coach, will return in that capacity this season. Coaches for the freshmen eleven have not yet been selected.

The schedule:

Sept. 30—McKendree at Walsh Stadium.
Oct. 7—Wyoming at Walsh Stadium.
Oct. 14—Open.
Oct. [illegible]—Loyola at New Orleans.
Oct. 28—Kansas at Walsh Stadium.
Nov. 5—Open.
Nov. 11—Haskell Indians at Walsh Stadium.

COURT WILL BE ASKED TO PASS ON CONTRACT OF HANS KAMPFER

The managerial troubles of Hans Kampfer, one of the finest built men to be found in any of the wrestling "circuses" now bidding for favor, will come to a head Sept. 7 when the massive German will attempt to show his wares under the promotion of Thomas N. Packs.

Kampfer, according to a contract on file at the commission office in Springfield, Mo., signed last year for three years to let George Lawrence of New York manage his affairs and book all his matches for him.

Recently the Battery A Arena wrestling promoters booked Kampfer to show on their opening card, with Lawrence doing the booking. Kampfer refused to appear, saying that he had signed a contract to let Tom Packs handle his affairs.

The Battery A promoters announced some weeks ago that any attempt to show Kampfer under Packs' auspices here would be fought legally, their contention being that Lawrence's contract with Kampfer still held.

William Berberich, one of the promoters of the Battery A wrestling shows, said this morning that the attempt to exhibit Kampfer by Packs would be resisted by George Lawrence, holder of Kampfer's first contract, which still has two years to run. Attorneys for Lawrence will seek a Federal injunction restraining Kampfer from appearing anywhere except under Lawrence's supervision.

Kampfer Training Here.

Packs signed Kampfer for the match yesterday, his opponent to be named later. Hans has been in St. Louis for the past few weeks training for the fall and winter campaign.

Kampfer proved a real hit in St. Louis last season, helping pack the Arena twice, in matches with Jim Londos. He also met Steele, Lewis, O'Shocker, McMillen and other topnotchers at the Arena.

It is estimated that in six matches as a headliner Kampfer helped draw $85,000 into the local promoters' box office.

Kampfer returned to Germany last May for a vacation and while in Europe appeared in one match, which he won.

He returned to St. Louis a short time ago.

The main event of Packs' program announced last Sunday will feature Ray Steele of Glendale, Cal., and Jim McMillen, who first attained fame as the captain of the Illinois U. football team upon which "Red" Grange was a member.

McMillen defeated Steele last winter at the Arena ,using the flying tackle to knock his opponent from the ring.

Terry Agrees to Box Pat Murphy

Lou Terry, St. Louis lightweight star, has agreed to meet Pat Murphy, Indiana knockout artist, who is a protege of Bud Taylor, in a 10-round bout at Jack C. Tippett's boxing show next Friday night at Battery A, it was announced today.

Terry, who is handled by Bob Riley, has shown improvement both in the gymnasium and in fights since he fought Tracy Cox here at the Battery. He has met Cox, Wesley Ramey and other nationally known battlers and has never been knocked off his feet.

It is expected that George Wilsman, Allen Matthews' manager, today will sign a contract for his fighter to meet Sammy (Kid) Slaughter, another member of Bud Taylor's glove troupe, in the star 10-rounder. Slaughter, who has stopped Angel Clivelle, Gary Leach, Chick Rains and Paul Pirrone before the fifth round, already has been signed.

COURT WILL BE ASKED TO PASS ON CONTRACT OF HANS KAMPFER

The managerial troubles of Hans Kampfer, one of the finest built men to be found in any of the wrestling "circuses" now bidding for favor, will come to a head Sept. 7 when the massive German will attempt to show his wares under the promotion of Thomas N. Packs.

Kampfer, according to a contract on file at the commission office in Springfield, Mo., signed last year for three years to let George Lawrence of New York manage his affairs and book all his matches for him.

Recently the Battery A Arena wrestling promoters booked Kampfer to show on their opening card, with Lawrence doing the booking. Kampfer refused to appear, saying that he had signed a contract to let Tom Packs handle his affairs.

The Battery A promoters announced some weeks ago that any attempt to show Kampfer under Packs' auspices here would be fought legally, their contention being that Lawrence's contract with Kampfer still held.

William Berberich, one of the promoters of the Battery A wrestling shows, said this morning that the attempt to exhibit Kampfer by Packs would be resisted by George Lawrence, holder of Kampfer's first contract, which still has two years to run. Attorneys for Lawrence will seek a Federal injunction restraining Kampfer from appearing anywhere except under Lawrence's supervision.

Kampfer Training Here.

Packs signed Kampfer for the match yesterday, his opponent to be named later. Hans has been in St. Louis for the past few weeks training for the fall and winter campaign.

Kampfer proved a real hit in St. Louis last season, helping pack the Arena twice, in matches with Jim Londos. He also met Steele, Lewis, O'Shocker, McMillen and other top-notchers at the Arena.

It is estimated that in six matches as a headliner Kampfer helped draw $85,000 into the local promoters' box office.

Kampfer returned to Germany last May for a vacation and while in Europe appeared in one match, which he won.

He returned to St. Louis a short time ago.

The main event of Packs' program announced last Sunday will feature Ray Steele of Glendale, Cal., and Jim McMillen, who first attained fame as the captain of the Illinois U. football team upon which "Red" Grange was a member.

McMillen defeated Steele last winter at the Arena, using the flying tackle to knock his opponent from the ring.

Terry Agrees to Box Pat Murphy

Lou Terry, St. Louis lightweight star, has agreed to meet Pat Murphy, Indiana knockout artist, who is a protege of Bud Taylor, in a 10-round bout at Jack C. Tippett's boxing show next Friday night at Battery A, it was announced today.

Terry, who is handled by Bob Riley, has shown improvement both in the gymnasium and in fights since he fought Tracy Cox here at the Battery. He has met Cox, Wesley Ramey and other nationally known battlers and has never been knocked off his feet.

It is expected that George Wilsman, Allen Matthews' manager, today will sign a contract for his fighter to meet Sammy (Kid) Slaughter, another member of Bud Taylor's glove troupe, in the star 10-rounder. Slaughter, who has stopped Angel Clivelle, Gary Leach, Chick Rains and Paul Pirrone before the fifth round, already has been signed.

Shires Undergoes An Operation for His Injured Knee

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Aug. 26.—Arthur Shires, Boston Braves' first baseman, who was injured in an early season game, yesterday underwent an operation for his damaged knee.

The operation was performed by Drs. Frederick Broderick and Michael McGarty, the latter the Braves' physician. Dr. McGarty said particles of bone that har reduced the player's freedom of knee action about 50 per cent had been removed and he expected the player to recover thoroughly from the injury.

The operation took place at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where Shires has been confined in the same suite with Red Worthington, slugging Braves' fielder, who is laid up with a broken ankle.

Shires received his injury when he collided with Joe Stripp of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The game was particularly costly to the garrulous one, as he also had his nose broken just prior to the collision.

Shires is on the Braves "voluntary retired" list, having refused to go back to the minors.

Champion to Box Former Champion At Amateur Show

The bantamweight feature on Wednesday night's Mississippi Valley Amateur Association boxing card at Battery A brings together Merl Thompson of Barney McCarthy's North Side amateur stable and Elmer Savage, a protege of Dan O'Keefe.

Thompson is a former champion and Savage at present is wearing the crown. Thompson punches with a wallop, but his slambang style is his main ring asset. His puzzling style has enabled him to win nearly all of his bouts during the past year. He has has a great deal more experience than Savage, who a few months ago was an unknown in local simon-pure ranks. However, in the recent tourney, he whipped all the opposition with apparent ease. Savage is looked upon as an exceptionally good ring prospect.

Fistic teams from Columbia and Kansas City, Mo., have been invited to compete in the coming tournament. Les Schulte and Irwin Sirelbel, heavyweight stars, also are in line for bouts on the coming card, Matchmaker Willie Miller states.

FLAG BEARER TO RUN IN MEET AT FAIRMOUNT PARK

Among the latest applications for stalls for the race meeting at Fairmount is that of Ed McCuan, who has been winning purses here ever since the track was built.

McCuan has asked for 19 stalls, which puts him at the head of the list so far as numbers go. Every horse in his barn is a useful racer and McCuan keeps them working. The horses he has in hand now, started 394 times last year and won 70 races, or almost 18 per cent of their starts. The five-year-old Brooksie went to the post 45 times last year, almost one race a week for the 12 months. This five-year-old mare won 10 races, was second 14 times and third eight times in 1931 and for the first seven months of this season she has started 28 times, winning four races, second six times and third five times.

That's typical of the way McCuan works his horses. The string he is bringing to Fairmount for the fall meeting which opens Sept. 17 is as follows: Herb Ashby, Sun Worship, My Beauty, Skibo, Gurgler, Sweep Net, Bab Axe, Little Coventry, Commandman, Domina, Parties, Flag Bearer, Jack Collins, Brooksie, Morocco and Sobieha, as well as three two-year-olds, Issued, Dr. Jillson and Kinnear.

Melvin Knight is his jockey. He made riding history at Fairmount, but left McCuan for a whirl at "big time" riding in the East under the Greentree Stable, and then returned to McCuan, the man under whom he made such a brilliant start, at Fairmount.

This gasoline is higher in anti-knock than some premium gasolines

Extra PEP!... Extra MILES! —but no extra price!

From Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to Miami, Florida, motorists everywhere are cashing in on the benefits from the new Sinclair Regular Gasoline. We have published the sensational sales increases made by the new Sinclair Regular far and wide—not only as an advertisement—but to show America that the back of the depression can be broken if you give people more for their money then they ever got before.

Sinclair spent $18,000,000 on new refinery equipment to step up the anti-knock quality of Sinclair Regular Gasoline by 70%. The new Sinclair Regular actually has a higher anti-knock rating than some premium fuels which cost you 3 cents more per gallon!

Give this new high-test motor fuel a 30-day trial. Let the results convince you. Ask for the new Sinclair Regular Gasoline, stepped up 70%.

NOTE: For best results, use Sinclair Opaline or Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. Both have been de-waxed, and also freed from petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero.

INQUIRY IS STARTED IN THIRD DEGREE KILLING IN DETROIT

Officers Accused of Killing Prisoner Say Victim Was Shot When He Grabbed at Pistol.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Aug. 26.—State police and the County Prosecutor today are investigating the death of David Cantor, alias Youssenoff, from a gunshot wound received while he was a police prisoner.

Detective Vincent Hoesel, who shot him, and the three other policenemen who were present, said Cantor reached for the pistol of one of his captors as he was being taken to the scene of a recent burglary in an effort to elicit a confession.

Cantor was quoted as saying before he died that he was attempting to ward off a blow when the shot was fired.

In promising State Police aid, Attorney-General Paul W. Voorhies said last night he never had heard of police "being brutal enough to shoot a man who refused to respond to their demands for a confession."

Investigators said the prisoner, a bullet wound in his abdomen, was taken to a precinct police station and there forced to stand and undergo questioning before he was taken to Receiving Hospital.

Hospital attaches said Cantor's shoulder had been grazed by a second bullet and that he had severe bruises on his head and abrasions on one leg and on his face.

Another 'Merry-Go-Round' Book Takes Officials on Dizzy Ride

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
201-205 Kellogg Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. — A volume entitled "More Merry-Go-Round," by the same anonymous authors who wrote the best selling "Washington Merry-Go-Round," went on sale here yesterday. Like the preceding volume, it is devoted almost entirely to biting sketches of high Government officials. The authors are Washington newspaper correspondents.

Among the personages who suffer severely in the new volume are Secretary of War Hurley, Chief Justice Hughes and Justices McReynolds and Butler of the Supreme Court, Secretary of Labor Doak, and Senators Smoot, Robinson of Arkansas, Moses, Watson, Hale and Fess.

The book makes the interesting statement that the late Chief Justice and former President Taft, who bitterly opposed the appointment of Justice Brandeis to the Supreme Court, subsequently apologized to him, saying: "Mr. Brandeis, I once did you a great injustice. I am sorry."

Concerning Hurley, who is described as "the playboy of the Cabinet," the volume states that although during the war he was attached to the office of Judge Advocate-General in a legal capacity, he managed to get himself sent up to the front lines two hours before the armistice was signed in order to put himself in line for a decoration. Scorching reference is made to Hurley's frequent trips in army airplanes to make political speeches, one of which resulted in cracking up a valuable army plane.

Among the more unusual statements contained in the book are the following:

That the speeches of Senator Hale (Rep.), Maine, chairman of the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs, are written for him by officers in the Navy Department.

That Senator Smoot (Rep.), Utah, has built up a private patronage army in Washington second in size and influence only to that of the President.

That when President Hoover was considering the appointment of Justice Cardozo to the Supreme Court, Justice Butler and McReynolds appealed to him not to "afflict the court with another Jew."

That Senator McNary (Rep.), Oregon, ordered Senators Fess (Rep.), Ohio, and Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, out of his office when they asked him to oppose a bill providing for relief for flood sufferers in Southern States.

That after Hoover was nominated in 1928 he asked President Coolidge to give a Cabinet place to Walter Brown, the present Postmaster-General, and that Coolidge replied: "If you want him in the Cabinet, you can put him there after you are elected; I've got my own man for the place."

That Eugene Meyer, Governor of the Federal Reserve Board, resigned as director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation because of alarm over Secretary of the Treasury Mills' policy of lending its funds freely to friends and supporters of the administration.

That Hurley obtained control of the news and editorial policies of the Washington Post by buying the country estate of Edward B. McLean, owner of the paper, at a time when McLean was pinched for ready money.

FILES SUIT FOR ACCOUNTING ON MARK TWAIN HOTEL SALE

Dollar Investment Co. Says Purchaser Has Failed to Make Payments Agreed On.

Suit was filed in Circuit Court today by the Dollar Investment Co. (formerly the Mark Twain Hotel Co.) for an accounting of its equity in the sale price of the Mark Twain Hotel property at Eighth and Pine streets.

The petition sets forth that on Feb. 13, 1929, the Mark Twain Hotel Co. entered into an agreement with the Claridge Hotel Co., by which the latter purchased the Mark Twain Hotel on the basis of $1,337,500. The purchaser assumed a bond issue of $1,062,500 and agreed to pay $35,000 in cash and $190,000 in bonds issued by the Claridge Hotel Co. as plaintiff's equity, it was stated.

Under the agreement part of the equity consideration was to be held in escrow by the Title Insurance Corporation of St. Louis until the purchaser was satisfied there were no mechanics' liens against the property. The petitioner sets forth it has complied with its part of the contract, but has not received either the cash or bonds. The Claridge Co., its president, Charles F. Levy, and the Title Insurance Corporation, are named as defendants in the action.

It was said the Claridge Hotel Co. had refused to make delivery because of unpaid mechanics' liens against the property, contending it was necessary to hold the cash and securities for settlement of these claims. A. Samuel Bender, attorney for plaintiff, said the mechanics' liens in controversy were not incurred by his client.

EX-POLICEMAN SEEKS REVIEW OF OUSTER FOR FILING SUIT

Gilbert Kennedy Charges Rule in Manual Violates U. S. Constitution.

Gilbert Kennedy, former policeman, asked the Circuit Court yesterday to review the action of the Police Board in discharging him from the force Aug. 19 for filing a suit without permission.

The suit, to enjoin the board from forcing him to contribute 10 per cent of his patrolman's pay to unemployment relief, is still pending. In today's petition Kennedy argued that the police manual requirement that a member of the force obtain permission before filing suit violated the Federal Constitution, in depriving him of a right without due process, and the State Constitution, in running counter to the guarantee that the courts of justice should be open to everyone.

HIT BY BOAT, SEEKS $10,000

Suit Filed by Meramec Bather Against Motor Craft's Occupants.

Suit for $10,000 damages has been filed at Clayton by Justine J. Burns of Webster Groves, for injuries he says he suffered on Aug. 15 when struck by a motorboat when swimming in the Meramec River at Holzer's Park, near Lemay Ferry road.

The suit is directed against the occupants of the boat, described as Sylvester Berg, 2504 Sutotn avenue, Maplewood; Al Hunt, 4215 Darby street, and William Springnether of Holzer's Park. The petition charges that the craft was being operated at a dangerous speed. Burns suffered lacerations of the hands and arms when struck by the propeller.

"These circumstances impose a avy responsibility upon every ember of the Republican State mmittee, and upon me as Gover-

"Disrepute to State."

He said that if Davis did not thdraw he either would be deated, or, if elected, would be the use of bringing disrepute to the ate for "having him as one of Senators" or the Senate would fuse to seat him.
Recalling his refusal six years
o to certify William S. Vare's ection, instead advising the Sen-e that Vare appeared to have ole country was aroused against cketeering in all its forms and at "Davis stands indicted as a

In this situation, he said, the epublican State Committee had can against him."

Six years ago Pinchot in refus-g to certify Vare's election to the enate said it had been "partly ought and partly stolen," and adised the people of Pennsylvania hat he never would be seated. He aid he was laughed at for his ains, but now wanted to say that if Davis should be elected he, ike Vare, will never be allowed to ake his seat for the full term."

Concerning the charges recently made against Davis, Pinchot said is alleged that he not only roke the law by actively engaging n an illegal lottery, but that he lso received at least $100,000 from he proceeds of the lottery, and

In the primary last April, Pin-hot indorsed Smedley D. Butler, efeated Butler overwhelmingly.

TEXT OF HOOVER'S ADDRESS ON OBJECTS OF NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON BUSINESS

Purpose Is to Co-Ordinate Private Enterprise With Government Activity to Aid in Trade Recovery.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.

THE text of President Hoover's address to the conference of the Federal Reserve District Banking and Industrial Committees follows:

We have asked you, the members of the twelve Federal Reserve District Banking and Industrial Committees, to confer together and with the officials of the Government agencies which are engaged in the problems of the depression. The purpose of the conference is to better organize private initiative and to co-ordinate it with governmental activities so as to further aid in the progress of recovery of business, agriculture and employment. The committees of the different Federal Reserve districts were created some time since and have already been of great service in the solution of many local problems.

Many constructive projects have been advanced by them. We wish to expand the ideas and solutions developed in the different districts over other areas where they may be adaptable, to co-ordinate private and governmental agencies, to initiate steps for organization of groups to undertake special and immediate problems in credit, in industry, in agriculture and in employment as they arise in the different districts. In other words, this is a meeting not to pass resolutions on economic questions but to give you the opportunity to organize for action. It is not proposed that you shall have authority from the Government but that you should join in stimulation of organized private initiative of America.

Major Crisis Overcome.

The reason for calling this conference at this particular moment is that we are convinced that we have overcome the major financial crises—a crisis in severity unparalleled in the history of the world—and that with its relaxation confidence and hope have reappeared in the world. We are now able to take further steps in solution of the industrial and agricultural problems with which we are still confronted.

To have overcome this stupendous crisis is not alone a tribute to the courage of American people but a proof of our resources. A moment in review of the magnitude of the forces we have overcome should strengthen our confidence for the future and the steps we now propose.

You will recollect that after a year of world-wide depression we came into the first quarter of 1931 with strong evidences of our recuperation. During those early months of 1931 the failure of banks decreased by 70 per cent from the previous quarter. The hoarding of currency practically disappeared. The signs of resumption of industrial activity and employment gave us the right to hope that the country was righting itself.

Catastrophes from Abroad.

Then there came to us a concentration of catastrophes from abroad such as we have not experienced in the whole of our economic history. The economic and political demoralization in foreign countries, weakened by the great war and the treaties, together with the general depression itself, loosened a host of new forces of destruction.

The first evidence of the impending financial collapse abroad was the difficulties of the largest bank of Vienna, in April a year ago. In rapid succession were the difficulties of the national banks of Austria, of Jugo-Slavia, and finally of the Reichsbank, in the month of May. The general panic began in Germany in June and finally culminated in drastic governmental decrees suspending exchanges, closing all banks, and accompanied by the failure of important institutions. Similar suspensions took place in other important areas in Central Europe.

The difficulties were further increased by the revolution in Spain and revolutions in Peru and other South American countries, the latter adding many further defaults upon foreign obligations.

Dropping of Gold Standard.

On Aug. 1, evidence of distress in the Bank of England was indicated by heavy borrowings from abroad, further emphasized at the end of August by the large foreign loans by the British Government in an effort to protect exchanges. But the strain proved too great, and the gold standard was abandoned by England at the end of September, followed in October and November by similar action in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Finland, Australia, India and Egypt, with restrictions upon exchange in many other countries, which equally disrupted international payments and foreign trade.

In September the conflict in the Far East began, and was followed by the suspension of the gold standard in Japan in December and the disturbing military operations of last winter. During the early months of this year we witnessed more revolutions in smaller countries and further defaults upon their obligations.

In even normal times any one of these many shocks to economic stability would have seriously impaired our economic life and created falls of prices and unemployment. The effects upon us of each of these invasions were instantaneous. American securities held abroad were dumped upon our markets. The prices of our stocks and bonds and commodities were continuously undermined. Huge foreign deposits in our banks were frantically withdrawn.

Pressure on Every Borrower.

Our own borrowers on commodities and on securities were called upon for more margins. The necessity of meeting these drains brought pressure on every borrower in America, whether it be a bank or bank's customer, a manufacturer or a farmer, a home owner or a merchant.

Paralyzing fears spread into every quarter of our country. These fears added fuel to the fire through nation-wide hoarding of currency. This hoarding increased to $70,000,000 a week at the time of the German collapse, but stopped temporarily with the German moratorium, but rose to $150,000,000 a week after the failure in England. The demand for goods slackened over the whole world and agricultural prices gave way entirely. Unavoidable delays and difficulties in legislative action added to the fears and apprehensions of our people.

Strangulation of Credit.

As we look back over the depression now we find over $2,400,000,000 was withdrawn from us by foreign nations and their citizens, and a total of $1,600,000,000 of currency was at one time withdrawn by our own citizens from our own banks. You know, and I know, that this foreign exchange, the gold shipped abroad, the currency and gold hoarded in our own country, is taken from the base of the inverted pyramid of our credit structure and translates itself into a strangulation of the volume of credit from two to ten times even these huge amounts. Let no man believe that these are questions which are of interest solely to big business. They are the origin of millions of human tragedies of losses, unemployment and distress.

Defense and Counter-Attack.

The whole of this 18 months has been a period of constant defense and counter-attack against these invading forces. The German moratorium, the German standstill agreement, the advances of our banks to the national banks of foreign countries, the creation of the National Credit Corporation, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the increased powers to the Federal Reserve System, the balancing of the budget, the financial aids to the farm loan banks, and above all, the unity and courage of our people, represent our incessant action in defense and counter-attack.

Today that picture has greatly changed. We can look with assurance upon the cessation of foreign withdrawals from our country simply because they have substantially removed their holdings and we have successfully accommodated ourselves to it. Our strength has proved equal to the shock, although with many casualties. Confidence is returning. A return flow of gold from abroad has begun. Europeans are again investing in our markets.

Daughters of Constitution to Center Vote on Congress, Mrs. Hocker Announces.

The Daughters of the American Constitution, national dry organization, will support neither of the major presidential candidates in the coming election, but will devote its energies to supporting dry candidates for Congress and the state legislatures, it is announced by Mrs. Lon O. Hocker, 39 Portland place, national president.

The decision was made at a meeting of the national board of the organization in St. Louis last Monday.

"Believing the prohibition question to be a great moral issue affecting the home, womanhood, childhood and the future destiny of America," Mrs. Hocker said, "members refuse to lend their moral support to what appears to be a surrender on the part of the Democratic party, or a compromise on the part of the Republican party, to the drink trade and its proponents."

INDIAN PRAYERS ANSWERED

Rain Falls After Appeals by Hopi Medicine Men.

By the Associated Press.

GALLUP, N. M., Aug. 26.—Prayers of the chief medicine men of the Hopi Indians for rain were answered yesterday.

While the medicine makers were chanting their ceremonial prayers at Toreva, Mesa Village, thunder crashed from the lowering clouds and rain fell in torrents, breaking a long drouth. The rain area extended throughout the Hopi country and as far south as Winslow, Ariz. One bridge was washed out on the main highway 70 miles west of Gallup, but road crews replaced it immediately. A crowd of visitors witnessed the annual intertribal ceremonials. The snake dance of the Hopi was carried out although rain had fallen. The secrets of the tribe include a strangely efficacious antidote for bites of the venomous snakes used by the dancers.

ROOSEVELT CALLS FOR SMALL GIFTS TO PARTY'S FUND

Declares on Radio That "We Have No Grundys" and Democratic Organization "Is Not for Sale."

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic presidential nominee, speaking to a nation-wide radio audience from Albany last night, appealed for small contributions—a dollar or more—for the national campaign fund.

The Financial Committee tentatively has set $1,500,000 as the amount to be raised for the campaign, an amount much smaller than was spent on some political campaigns of the past.

"The Democratic party," Gov. Roosevelt said, "fortunately has no favorite group on which it can call for large sums under the promise of privilege or immunity, expressed or implied. The Democratic party is not for sale.

Grundy and the Tariff.

"We have no Grundys to collect donations which are to be returned manifold through tariff increases. Moreover, it is my opinion, and I think it must be the opinion of my hearers, that a Democratic fund ought to be raised in a representative way; that an aggregate of small contributions is immensely more valuable than a similar sum given by great financial interests."

The Governor recessed the Walker ouster hearing for 12 minutes to make his talk.

On the same program were Evans Woollen, Indiana banker and chairman of the Campaign Finance Committee, speaking from Indianapolis; former Gov. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, chairman of the Executive Campaign Finance Committee, speaking from New York, and James A. Farley, national chairman, also speaking from New York.

"We figure that there will be 20,000,000 votes cast to make Gov. Roosevelt President of the United States," said Farley.

Views of East and West.

"In the West they (the Republican leaders) are picturing Franklin D. Roosevelt as a Tammany ally and a creature of Wall street," said Woolen. "In the East they are presenting him as a dangerous radical whose advent in the White House would make every great industry shudder. Obviously he could not do both. Actually he is neither."

Woollen said in Roosevelt's two terms as Governor "no legitimate business that I ever heard of has made any claim that he made things difficult for it, or showed any symptom of the radicalism that his assailants charge him with."

"During that same period," he continued, "I have yet to learn that labor suffered under his administration, that he was bossed or controlled by either or both Tammany and big business.

"In short, he has been a normal, able, conscientious, just and intelligent executive. He has fought corruption at every turn and has been his own man every day of his long public service."

Frank C. Walker, Democratic campaign treasurer, reports that, as a result of Gov. Roosevelt's appeal, compaign contributions are beginning to arrive in national headquarters.

Dr. M. Collier, a dentist, was waiting in the Biltmore Hotel when the headquarters was opened this morning to be the first to answer the appeal. He had a $1 bill in his hand, and said he hoped to make additional contributions later. A midtown business man contributed a check for $500.

When the hall at headquarters was opened this morning a silver half-dollar minted in 1830 was found in a letter from J. S. Forgrave, Democratic County chairman of Van Buren County, Iowa.

"I am enclosing some Andrew Jackson money for Gov. Roosevelt," Forgrave wrote.

BOLIVIA APPEALS TO LEAGUE

Insists It Has Right to Part of the Gran Chaco.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Aug. 26.—Bolivia sent the League of Nations another note today in connection with its dispute with Paraguay over the Gran Chaco. The communication repeats that Bolivia seeks an outlet through the Chaco to the sea not only as a necessity but as a right.

SPANISH DEPUTIES IN FIST FIGHTS ON SANJURJO DECISION

Radical Socialists Quit Chamber in Protest Against Commutation of Rebel's Death Sentence.

By the Associated Press.

MADRID, Aug. 26.—Widespread disorders followed the conviction of Gen. Jose Sanjurjo and his sentence to death for leading the abortive monarchist rebellion against the Republic early this month. The Government speedily commuted the death sentence to life imprisonment and today Sanjurjo was reported being taken to El Dueso Penitentiary in Santander province to serve out his sentence.

Authorities declined to comment, but it was understood that the transfer of the prisoner from Madrid had been suddenly ordered in the hope of averting further disorder.

Madrid was greatly excited, and many groups of agitators were dispersed by troops, especially near the prison where Gen. Sanjurjo and fellow rebels were confined.

Communists at Bilbao and nearby Gallarta protested yesterday against the Government's leniency. In a clash with civil guards one Communist was reported slain and several injured.

Corunna reported that Gen. Sanjurjo's home province was celebrating the commutation with enthusiasm. At San Sebastian, Monarchists and Republicans clashed in the streets. Civil guards got the upper hand just as the Monarchists were about to be lynched.

Surrounded by friends, Gen. Sanjurjo took the turn of events philosophically. He said he was glad he would not have to face a firing squad composed of men he used to command.

Gen. Sanjurjo and two companions were found guilty of leading the rebellion of Seville early this month, which spread to various cities, and caused much bloodshed. His life-long companion in arms, Gen. Herranz, was sentenced to 30 years, and Lieutenant-Colonel Infantes to 12. The General's son, Justo Sanjurjo, was freed.

Although Justo Sanjurjo was freed, his property was confiscated, his stock broker's license canceled, his officer's rank removed, and he is now detained under orders of the Government. It is expected that he will be deported.

As soon as the Supreme Court had reached its verdict the Cabinet met to consider it. After a stormy day's session the Cabinet compromised and commuted the death sentence. The penalties imposed on the others were not altered.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Our Blighted Areas Must Go.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ST. LOUIS has within its borders half a dozen blighted areas. They must go. They are doomed on two accounts. From the humanitarian angle, they are not only disgraceful, but in many cases dangerous. From the economic angle, they are impossible—a drain upon their owners and a stain upon St. Louis.

During the past few months the Neighborhood Association Committee on Better Housing has been trying to awaken an interest in the matter of slum clearance. Not satisfied with hypotheses, the committee is now at work producing statistics which will show what can, and what cannot be done, in the matter of building new comfortable homes for the great masses of people at a rental little in advance of what they are now paying, and with a fair return to the investor. If this work goes forward it will probably proceed as a limited dividend corporation.

Great projects like this move slowly. It is difficult to capture the imagination of people. They are eye-minded. Could they but see the marvelous dwellings abroad, and in our own country, they would quickly grasp the opportunity that is here at their very doorstep.

The Franklin District Neighborhood Association is an organization of property owners, business and professional men and women, parents, and others who believe in the comeback power of this community. While it is actively interested in the work of the Better Housing Committee and the attempt to provide new, clean homes for the masses, it now seeks the immediate renovation of such houses as have outlived their usefulness as they now stand, and believe that careful planning and necessary alterations can make these houses attractive and profitable, now.

Many of the houses in the Franklin district were built 50 or 60 years ago. Due to the strict building code the outer walls are still splendidly intact. Investigation of the inside, however, convinces one that they are not desirable as dwellings. The rooms are too large for present use; they are forbidding in appearance and difficult to heat. The hallways are not constructed so as to afford privacy; bath facilities are wholly inadequate. Many of these buildings are entirely empty. Countless landlords have tried the rooming-house expedient as a way out, only to give it up. Taxes are high, rents are down and things go from bad to worse. Other large cities have convincing proof that unrentable, run-down, poorly arranged space can be altered to the advantage of tenants and landlords. In these old homes, five or six productive apartments can take the place of two or three unrentables. Once the owners catch the significance of this truth, not only the Franklin district, but other blighted areas will come back.

Facts must be faced; eyes opened. The Franklin district is in the very heart of St. Louis; close to conveniences. It has the "walk-to-work" appeal. People will move back if they can find:

1. Reasonable rents.
2. Clean, attractive rooms.
3. Light, gas, running water and a simple shower or tub.
4. Clean, attractive entrances and hallways.
5. Advantages for their children.

With less than these simple necessities, the standard of living cannot be called decent. People packed six, seven and eight in a room cannot be conducive to good city spirit or good anything else.

With materials so cheap, and with so many unemployed, it is apparent that now is the time for action. The owners must be "sold" to the possibilities inherent in their property. Now is the time for the architect, the plumber, the carpenter, the general contractor, and all the rest to get busy. There is plenty of work for all. In the process of renovation, thousands of men can find profitable work and the dollars paid to them will circulate to the good of us all. Condemned tumbledowns can be razed, lots and alleys cleared of rubbish, back yards cleaned and hundreds of odd jobs unearthed.

As the Franklin District Neighborhood Association has pointed out on many occasions, there is every reason why the Franklin district should come back. In addition to the "walk-to-work" appeal, the neighborhood has the advantages of four good schools, a small park, a thoroughly up-to-date settlement (Neighborhood Association), two nurseries, two public libraries, churches, good stores, physicians and unusually fine supervision for boys and girls.

The property owners should realize that either what they now have will disintegrate to the vanishing point, being a white elephant on their hands, or that by making proper alterations they can thaw out their frozen dollars and bring this neighborhood back to its former place of importance. Certain it is that desolate areas like this are a discredit to our city. We pay for them in increased delinquency and crime. It is hard for a child to rise higher than the level of his home. Many of the parents with whom we deal have qualities of the heroic. Despite the lack of work, lack of food, and crowding unfit for animals, they do their best—with the cards stacked against them. J. A. WOLF, Executive Director, Neighborhood Association.

MISSOURI'S INSURANCE SCANDAL.

We have made an investigation of the status of fire insurance refunds, due the people of Missouri under the 10 per cent reduction order of 1922, and find that all is not well. It will be recalled that the stock fire insurance companies resisted this order with every resource at their command, in the meantime collecting the old premiums. For seven years the battle raged in the courts, and the people won a complete victory. Then the insurance companies turned their onslaught upon Gov. Caulfield, urging him, in August, 1929, to accept a compromise by which they would have been relieved of paying about $8,000,000 in refunds. The Governor resisted this brazen effort to gain through him what they had lost in the courts, and the insurance companies finally made the gesture of accepting defeat.

That meant the return to policy holders of an amount estimated at between $14,000,000 and $15,000,000, which had been collected in excess premiums. Three years have elapsed since then, and it becomes pertinent to inquire what has happened. The Insurance Department of Missouri admits that it does not know, although it is taking steps, in pending court cases, to compel an accounting. In December, 1930, it was informed that the companies had refunded nearly $3,000,000, but this was not a verified report. In September, 1931, the department was given an unverified estimate by a company representative that approximately 60 per cent of the refunds had been paid.

Lacking definite information, the department estimates that, under the refund method being followed by the companies, $3,000,000 or more would be retained by the companies, representing claims that would not be paid through failure of policy holders to file claims, or to file them properly, or through failure to locate policy holders to whom refunds are due.

If this estimate is correct, it means that the stock fire insurance companies will profit enormously at the expense of the people of Missouri, by reason of their defiance to, and prolonged resistance of, an order of the State body invested by the law with power over them.

Besides inventing a complicated machinery for making refunds following the gesture of 1929, the insurance companies pulled another card from their sleeves. About three months later, in December, 1929, they filed a new rate schedule, carrying a 16 2-3 per cent increase. The schedule was suspended by the Insurance Department, pending investigation, and while it was in progress the companies rushed into Federal Court at Kansas City for an injunction restraining the department from interfering with the rate increase. Supt. Thompson, acting hastily before notice of the suit was served upon him, issued an order denying the increase. However, the Federal Court issued a temporary injunction.

There are now pending 135 separate injunction suits in Federal Court, filed by the companies, to restrain interference with the new rates. In these suits it is contended that the Insurance Department must consider the individual experience of each company in determining the reasonableness of its rates. A few days after these suits were filed, other companies filed a suit in Cole County Circuit Court at Jefferson City for review of the order denying the rate increase. Seventy companies are parties to this suit, and it involves a test of the Missouri law authorizing the Superintendent to consider the aggregate experience of the fire insurance companies for a test period of five years, to determine the reasonableness of rates.

In these two offensives, the companies are working both sides of the street. In Federal Court they demand individual consideration. In State court they are contending the rate increase is reasonable because of aggregate experience. This is a perfect illustration of the companies' habit of crawling into every loophole to resist the State.

Fortunately, unlike the condition in the previous struggle, the courts have authorized the impounding of premiums in the rate increase cases, and so far approximately $760,000 has been impounded in the State case, and approximately $3,250,000 in the Federal cases. Thus, policy holders, in case the rate increase is denied, will have protection of the courts and will not be left, as in the rate reduction case, to the mercy of the companies.

Months, possibly years, will elapse before the pending cases are determined. In the meantime, the people of Missouri may well ponder a situation by which stock fire insurance companies move heaven and earth to prevent regulation duly provided by law as a precedent to doing business in Missouri. It is, in effect, a form of anarchy, of defiance of constituted authority that is an alarming symptom of our times.

In the recent Missouri primaries these rebellious companies, seeking to control the Governor, and through him the Insurance Department, were a much greater factor than is generally realized. They are playing for big stakes. They are quite unconscionable in their methods, and were so characterized by Gov. Caulfield when he refused to compromise their obligation to their policy holders.

It looks like "Home, James!" for Jimmie.

PARTY COMPETITION OF THE RIGHT SORT.

With its present Governor the Democratic candidate for President, the State of New York is concerning itself with the task of selecting another occupant for the chair at Albany. To succeed Mr. Roosevelt many prominent Democrats in the Empire State are urging the nomination of Lieutenant-Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York City and since Mr. Lehman has accepted their support, he may be considered the leading candidate of the party.

As a rule Lieutenant-Governors have small opportunity to make themselves known to the voters of their state. Like the Vice President of the United States, they preside over the upper branch of a legislative unit and that is about all. Mr. Lehman has been an exception. Gov. Roosevelt has allowed his understudy to play the Governor's role in several important matters and the New York press agrees that the Lieutenant-Governor has acquitted himself well. Moreover, his recent work as mediator in a labor dispute won him the acclaim of all concerned.

What Mr. Lehman's political opponents think of him may be gathered from the opinion of the national Republican leader of the press, the New York Herald Tribune. Declaring his avowal of his candidacy "a model of candor and good faith," the Herald Tribune said: "To residents of this city, the record of Mr. Lehman as a public-spirited citizen has long been no secret. In office he has shown both ability and force."

A candidacy which can meet with such comment challenges the opposition to put forth its best candidate, and that is the type of competition in which party government should indulge.

STOP THE MINE WAR!

Southern Illinois may be thankful it is not surveying another such tragedy as that which occurred near Herrin 10 years ago this summer. That the invasion of the southern coal field by some 15,000 protesting miners and their wives from the mid-state field should end without more serious consequences was more than most observers dared hope.

Nevertheless, there is another mine war stain on the State's record. What happened at Mulkeytown, just across the Big Muddy River in Franklin County, is a disgrace to a social order which has at its command the devices of arbitration and peaceful settlement. At that point armed deputy sheriffs, in order to protect miners who were working in Franklin County, met and routed a part of the nine-mile caravan by smashing windshields, puncturing tires, radiators and gasoline tanks and by clubbing the heads of some of the miners. Hundreds of shots were fired and numerous machine guns were in evidence. In all, more than 100 persons were injured. The whole affair was on the low level of the army attack on the bonus camp at Washington.

It must be evident now to the protesting miners that their marches, first on Christian County, where they won out, and second on Franklin County, like the bonus marches, were exceedingly ill-advised. Peaceful picketing, which the United States Supreme Court has upheld, is not accomplished that way. Great numbers are not needed for peaceful picketing. One man or, at most a few, at a coal mine is enough to advise those who are at work that they are invited to join in a strike. The presence of thousands of men constitutes a threat which perforce substitutes coercion for sympathetic explanation and persuasion.

The protesting miners say they have a legitimate objection to the $5 wage scale, which their state and national leaders declared in effect after a reported theft of the second referendum tally sheets in Springfield. They claim that the mine owners have misrepresented matters relative to the competition with other fields and operations under the old scale of $6.10. Granting, for the sake of argument, that all the protesting miners say is true, would not they then stand to win out if the controversy should be arbitrated by an impartial and capable board such as might well be commanded? Willingness to submit their case to such a body would only strengthen the miners' cause. Reliance on peaceful settlement rather than on violence would win the support of public opinion, which every just cause must have in the end.

Mass action, as well as violence, then, must be counted out. The miners have a union organization, with subdistricts and locals and various officials. If they can prove that the $5 scale was not ratified—and they say it was not—then that scale is not in force and the way is open for the Policy Committee to decide whether the matter will be submitted to arbitration or still another attempt made to negotiate with the operators. September is at hand and there must be work if there is the opportunity in the Illinois coal fields this winter.

ONE INSURGENT WHO GETS BY.

When a Republican Senator such as Norris or La Follette follows his own conscience instead of the dictates of his party leaders, he is called an insurgent, an insurrectionist, or, perchance, the son of the wild jackass. Now we have Vice-President Curtis declaring that prohibition is a success and should be retained, despite the fact that Mr. Hoover, the accepted leader of the party, has announced that conditions under prohibition are intolerable and that liquor control should revert to the states. A week has passed since "our Charlie," as the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette fondly calls the Vice-President, broke with his chief, and still not one of the Republican apostles of regularity has arisen to brand the recalcitrant a traitor. However, it may be taken for granted that his enforced silence has placed a powerful strain on the left ventricle of George Higgins Moses.

NO CAUSE FOR WONDER.

Declaring that "the Legislatures of the States will presently be called upon to consider ratification," the generally alert Milwaukee Journal expresses amazement that more attention is not being paid by political parties to the proposed twentieth amendment to abolish the lame duck session of Congress. The Journal wonders why neither the Republican nor Democratic platforms took notice of Senator Norris' proposal and why the parties in Wisconsin are saying nothing about it in the primary campaign.

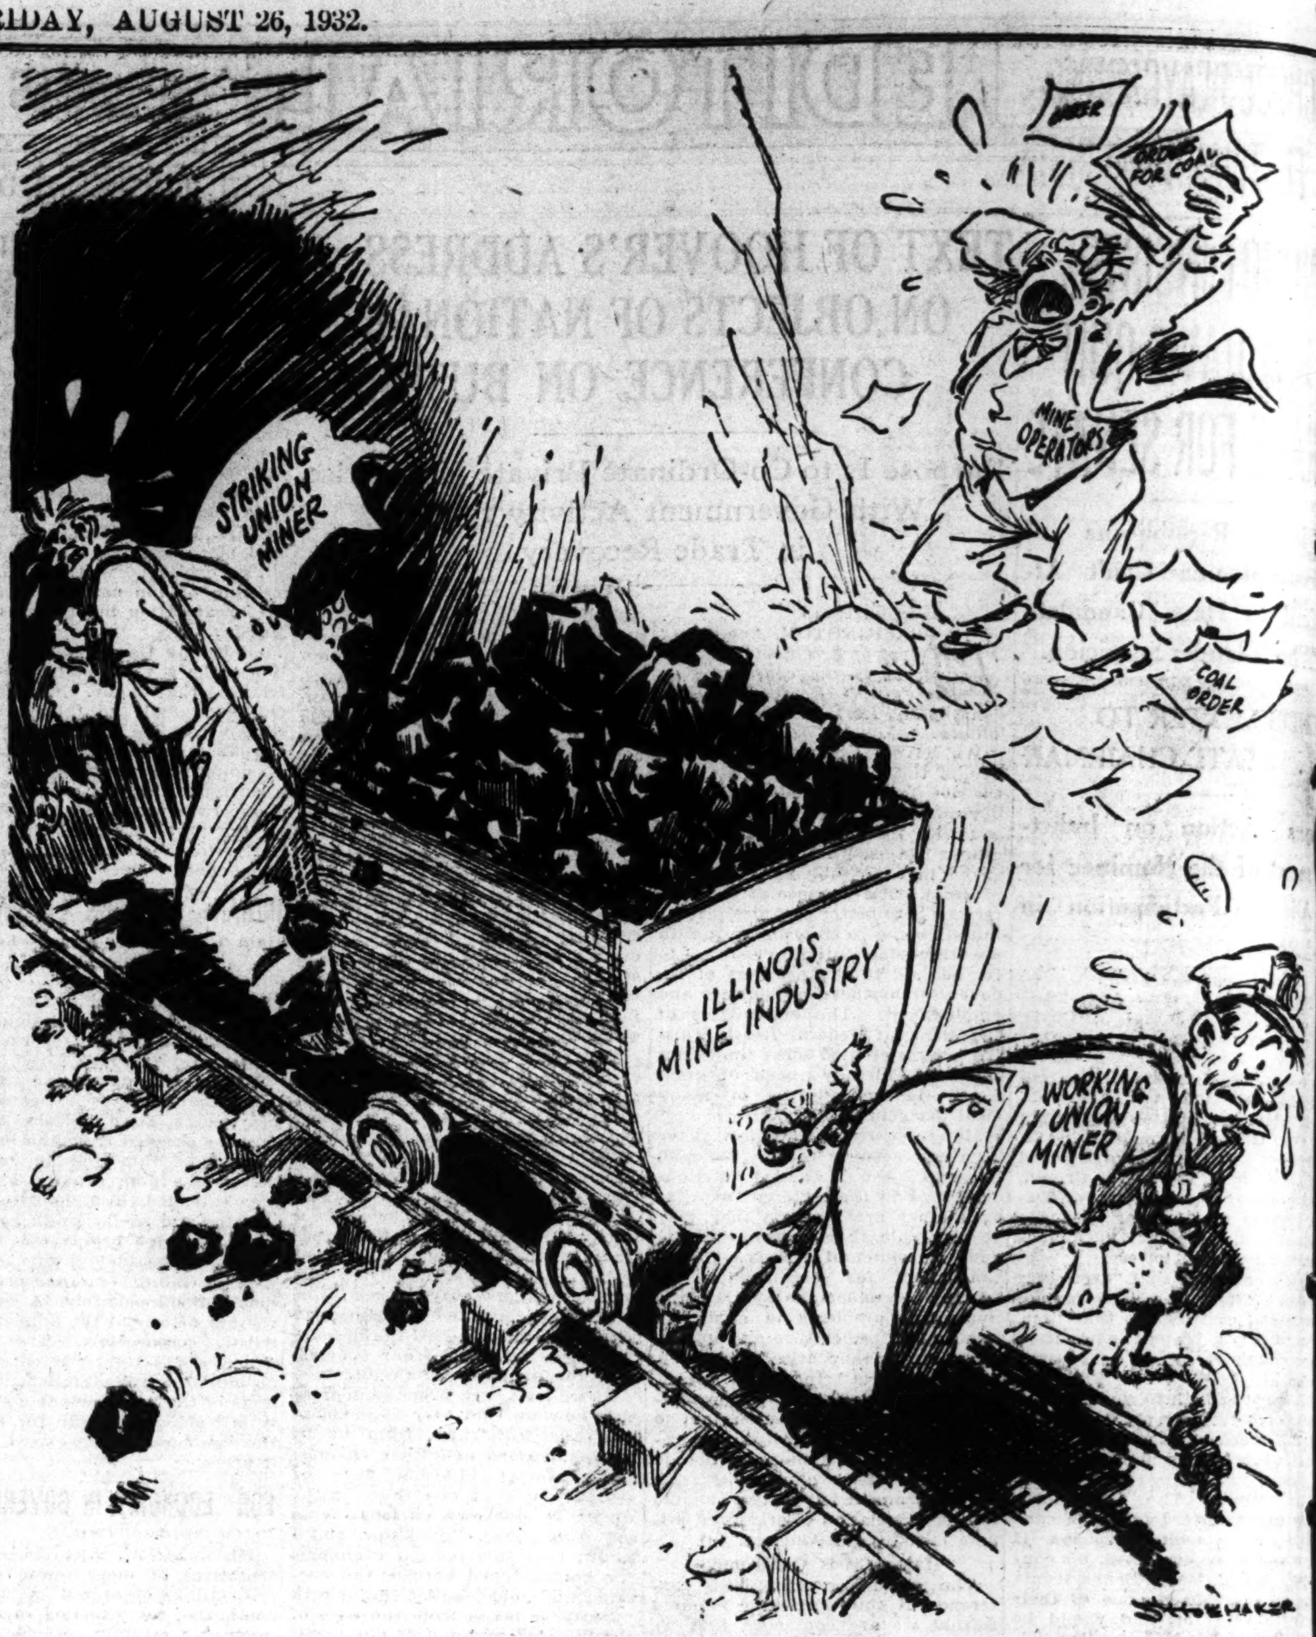
The reason is not far to seek. There is no issue for the simple reason that there is no opposition. The amendment is now virtually as good as a part of the Constitution. Passing Congress by overwhelming majorities—only a handful of the reactionaries had the hardihood to hold out to the bitter end—the proposal became available for state action March 3. Only a few of the Legislatures have been in session since, most of these in special session, yet more than one-third the number required for ratification have approved it generally without so much as a dissent.

When the Legislatures meet next year there is not the slightest doubt but that enough states will add their approval speedily to make it part of the Constitution. Thus, the lame duck session which will meet in December will in all probability be the last of the species.

If Senator Norris had accomplished nothing else in his career in the Senate, this alone would make him one of our greatest political benefactors.

PLAYDAY OF PLAYDAYS.

The start of school, like prosperity, may be just around the corner, yet we have it on good authority that the boys and girls of St. Louis aren't wasting any time this week worrying over impending arithmetic home work and the like. Not with the tenth annual festival and pageant of the public school playgrounds scheduled for tomorrow afternoon! No less than 5500 children will take part in acting out the story of Ahmed Corru, the thief of Bagdad, and those who don't take part will be spectators or participants in the championship games or displayers of handicraft turned out this summer. It is no slight to the Municipal Opera to say that the nightly entertainment in Forest Park is not St. Louis' only claim to outside notice during the summer months. Persons who are not acquainted with the accomplishments of St. Louis' playgrounds should spend tomorrow afternoon in the Public Schools Stadium. Awaiting them is a treat that will open their eyes to one of the finest sides of the city's life.



HOW TO GET NOWHERE.

—From the Chicago Daily News.

Phony Veterans

Since more than half of war compensation now being paid goes for injuries not connected with service, and cost is growing yearly, great revolt of taxpayers is likely; ex-officer fears deserving men will be treated unjustly as a result; calls on veterans to kick out grafters and fakers, to save entire group of ex-soldiers from disgrace.

Gerald W. Johnson in the Baltimore Evening Sun.

DID you know that under the law an emergency Captain 30 per cent disabled in the World War can draw $150 a month from the Government, but that the widow, with one child, of an emergency Captain actually killed in the war can draw but $40? Did you know that in 1931 more than half—54.27 per cent—of the beds in veterans' hospitals were occupied by men in no way injured in the war?

Did you know that $445,000,000 of the $927,000,000 spent by the Veterans' Bureau annually could be cut off without affecting the compensation paid the dependents of any veteran killed in the war, or the pension paid any man disabled in the war?

In brief, do you know that more than half of the staggering sums we are paying out go not to real veterans who suffered war injuries but to people with no war claims, and in many cases to grafters and panhandlers masquerading as veterans?

If you don't know these things, you will do well to take a look at a little book just published ("Peace Veterans," by Roger Burlingame; Minton, Balch & Co.). The author was a First Lieutenant in the Three Hundred and Eighth Machine Gun Battalion, A. E. F. That is to say, he is a real veteran who saw real service in France; and his concern in this book is not so much with the taxpayers as with the veterans.

He foresees the time when the taxpaying public will begin to get on to the way it has been gypped, and he fears that it will turn furiously on all veterans, without discrimination. He doesn't enjoy the prospects of being hated and despised by his fellow citizens, so he makes this appeal to the veterans to bestir themselves and put an end to the shameless stealing that is being committed in their name.

There has been plenty of it. Most of it has been done not by veterans but by politicians fishing for the soldier vote. Nevertheless, a small minority of the men who wore the uniform has been the beneficiary of the thefts, so veterans in general must share the blame.

The trick has been turned by laws amending the wise and far-sighted legislation adopted at the beginning of the conflict. The original War Risk Insurance Act was a just and necessary measure. But that original act has been amended so often and so radically that it bears no traceable resemblance to its original form; and the Civil War pension scandals are about to be repeated in enormously exaggerated form.

Already the Veterans' Bureau is spending 24 per cent of all it takes to run the Government, and the peak has not been reached, by a great deal. Already the peace veterans vastly outnumber the war veterans among the beneficiaries of the Veterans' Bureau, and the pigs have only just begun to get their feet into the trough. Already it is apparent that, if the present tendency continues unchecked, the American Legion is destined to be to the G. A. R. as an expert cracksman is to a pilferer of milk bottles. Already it is estimated that, even if not a single new law is passed, we shall be paying to veterans a billion and a half in 1942, and in that year 35 cents of every tax dollar will go to the veterans. And, adds Lieut. Burlingame, "Judging by the record of the Civil War pensions, these veteran costs will continue to grow for 58 years, but at a faster rate."

This is a sufficiently appalling prospect. Theoretically, it means that payments to the veterans within 20 years or so will bankrupt the Government. Practically, of course, that will never occur. What actually will occur will be that the taxpayers, goaded beyond endurance, will turn wrathfully upon all veterans, honest and dishonest, and kick the lot of them into the street. This will means that a great many honest men, with perfectly sound claims, will be treated unjustly. But if the honest men continue to permit the swine to use their names in their raids on the Treasury, they will be inviting this sort of injustice.

To the shrewder men among the ex-soldiers, this is already plain, and at least two organizations have been formed for the purpose of preventing it, if possible, by reducing the waste and graft that are making it inevitable. One of these is the Veterans' Committee for Reducing the Cost of Peace, captained by Knowlton Durham. The other is the National Economy League, headed by Archibald Roosevelt and Grenville Clark.

The latter has prepared a list of possible economies that might be made without affecting the payments made to any man actually disabled in the war, or those to dependents of any man killed in the war. Merely by striking off the pension rolls those veterans—including Spanish War veterans—whose disabilities have arisen since the war, they would save $445,000,000; and if emergency officers disabled in the World War were treated as disabled enlisted men are treated, $7,000,000 more would be saved, making a grand total of $452,000,000.

No self-respecting man would touch one cent of the money that is being paid to men who were actually hit by an enemy shot, still less any of the money being paid to dependents of men killed in battle. No self-respecting man would deny any of the medical care and hospital facilities provided for men who were actually hit, or who broke physically under the strain of war-time service.

But what self-respecting veteran can view with anything but loathing the spectacle of men who came back from the war hale, hearty and strong, filling 54 per cent of the beds in hospitals for wounded veterans?

Every soldier knows the type. It is they who have padded the pension rolls until they are already bloated out of all reason and still swelling. It is they who work on cowardly politicians and secure the passage of grotesquely unfair and evil legislation. And it is they who are eventually going to bring disgrace upon the very name of veteran, if something is not done to stop them.

Lieut. Burlingame's book is one effort to stop them, and for that reason, if for no other, it deserves the attention of every self-respecting veteran in the country.

The Walker Wrangle

From the New York World-Telegram.

TO date—and the hearings have alread covered the major Seabury conclusion —the defense tactics of Mayor James Walker and his counsel, John J. Curti have been:

(1) To discredit all charges on the pl of political persecution.

(2) To outlaw certain charges on th ground that they relate to acts during th Mayor's first term.

(3) To exclude certain charges beca they involve the Mayor's private affairs.

(4) To exclude all Hofstadter Committ testimony as incompetent.

(5) To impugn the honesty and goo faith of Samuel Seabury.

(6) To emphasize the Mayor's "veste interest" in a proceeding that might mea loss of his official salary.

(7) To plead constitutional right an privilege.

(8) To interpose countless technical jections, demands and complications every possible point in the hearings.

That these tactics have failed cannot ob scure the fact that they have been tri and persisted in.

Yet even such tactics might weigh le against the Mayor had he at the same tim squarely faced charges and facts, answere the Governor's questions with convincin frankness, created a new impression o openness, candor and truth.

The Mayor has had his full and final op portunity to make that impression. He ha not done so. His actual answers have bee for the most part, on a par with his mor general defense tactics—a strange mixtur of defiance, evasion, denial and only hal concealed impudence.

A Mayor of New York City who com before a Governor of the State and delib erately presents a defense of this characte has shown, we think, by the very natur and tone of that defense his unfitness fo the high office he holds.

The decision will rest with Gov. Roosevel But the patience, fairness and penetrat with which the Governor has conducted t hearings to date have thrown into ye sharper relief the utter shiftiness of th defense. The Governor cannot fail to tak into account, it seems to us, the significanc of the wriggling, wrangling and obstructio with which he has had to deal.

The manner of a defense often tells a much as its matter. The Mayor proves it.

IS GARNER A RADICAL?

From the Cleveland Press.

JOHN GARNER, the Democratic vic presidential candidate, has knocked do another straw man. This straw man w patched together by Republicans and othe in the likeness of Garner, and named "Rad cal." Whispers went about: We can't af ford to have radicals in this government; b careful of him! Sh-h-h-h-!

There was always something funny abou that "Radical" scarecrow, Garner, a banke and party regular, has been in Congress al most 30 years. His record is there to sho that the Speaker is a very astute conserva tive. His Republican colleagues in th House know that.

Now Speaker Garner, telling New Yor that he is safe, says: "I began voting ver early, at 19 years of age, and I want to sa that I have never scratched a Democrat ticket. . . . I have been accused in Tex of being more of a conservative than progressive, and have been attacked by th progressives of my state."

No one who knows him would call Ga ner a progressive, much less a radical. Th is just another humorous episode in the days of the presidential campaign.

TEXT OF PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS ON PURPOSE OF BUSINESS PARLEY

foreign pressure and its constantly renewed fears, the domestic hoarding of currency has ceased and is now returning at the rate of nearly $20,000,000 a week. The demands for banking assistance from the Reconstruction Corporation have diminished by $170,000,000 from the previous month. That our financial foundations are unimpaired is indicated by the fact that, measured in amount of their trusts, 98 per cent of our banking and fiduciary obligations to the public are intact. Seventy million insurance policies and 25,000,000 depositors have been saved from jeopardy.

It is not alone our country that is making a successful fight for the return of stability. Foreign countries have not been idle in placing their own houses in order. The Lausanne agreement has contributed to the return of confidence. But, while we thus see growing improvement in the financial sector, we must continue the battle upon the industrial and agricultural fronts.

There is, however, a new setting of the depression, which offers opportunity through this confidence to set up machinery for wider-spread co-operation of private forces and to co-ordinate them with our Government agencies for aid and action in industrial and agricultural fields.

Promises Definite Program.

Definite projects will be laid before you affecting the better distribution of credit, of employment and commodities. What I wish is that banking and industry and business generally should in this new setting assume further initiative and responsibility; that they should co-operate with agriculture and labor and the Governmen agencies to organize and develop every possible avenue of co-ordidated effort on the economic front.

Your committees have in different districts already made positive contributions. These tried methods need spread and more definite national organization; they need co-ordination with our governmental programs. You can assist to make that great program more effective. In so doing you will bring hope and added security to every farmhouse and every cottage door.

It is not proposed to engage in artificialities. "Nor is it proposed that you attempt to settle here in a day great economic problems of the future. It is simply proposed that you organize for action in the problems immediately before us. Great future problems will occur to you, as they are in the minds of all of us. You will no doubt seek the co-operation of national groups of business, agriculture and labor to put such questions on the road to investigation and consideration.

Seeks Smoother Flow of Credit.

I should like to suggest to you some general directions of thought.

We have a powerful governmental program in action for aid to recovery formulated and organized upon a non-partisan basis. I am in hopes you will familiarize yourselves with its possibilities so as to co-ordinate your activities with it.

We need a better distribution of credit. Credit is available, but in many sections it is flowing inadequately in directions which would stimulate consumption of goods and employment. It needs resolution to use our banking and governmental resources and co-ordination to make them effective.

There can be no question that there are in certain sections large numbers of businesses, particularly small businesses, which have been unable to find the credit facilities to buy raw material and to employ labor on goods which they can sell. There are difficulties in livestock and farm credits. There are foreclosures of home and farm mortgages because of inability to secure renewals. Yet credit is available if it be properly directed.

Urges Shorter Working Hours.

In the furtherance of business recovery it is clearly necessary that there be co-ordination of effort in hastening the return of unemployed to employment in their natural industries. It is doubtful whether any action we could take at this time would so greatly accelerate our progress, serve the welfare of our unemployed millions, or so quickly give us as a nation the benefit of widespread spending power as further spread of equitable plans of sharing the available work.

As a matter of nationl policy, the shortening of hours is necessary not alone to meet the need of the moment, but it may be necessary to take up the slack in the future from the vast and sudden advance in labor-saving devices As the result of conferences similar to this nearly three years ago many industries realigned their operations by shorter hours to retain hundreds of thousands of workers who would otherwise have been dismissed. Nevertheless, the still further spreading of available work in industrial, commercial and service activities, especially with every recovery of employment, would be a vital contribution. Your committee in the Twelfth District recently inaugurated a drive for this spread of work. Already it is a great success.

Many methods have been proposed by labor and industrial leaders to systematically shorten hours. While I heartily favor the purpose of these plans, I agree with both the employers and the leaders of labor whom I have consulted that its direction is not properly the function of Government, except as applied to the operation of Government service.

Calls for Organized Effort.

Moreover with all the various phases of employment and operation to be met in private business no general rule can be applied. Results must be achieved through cooperation on the part of employers and employes suited to each locality and industry. I suggest you should consider the effective part which you can play in further forwarding organization to this end.

Needs of Agriculture.

I do not need to remind you that the distressing problems of Agriculture are not alone the problems of the farmer and the Government. Its relief is one of the primary foundations of all progress in our country, and upon it does the progress of your business depend. It is as much your problem as it is the problem of the farmer, and cooperation of your committees with the leaders of agriculture and the agencies which affect their welfare cannot but be helpful.

The other speakers will compass these many questions in detail, and I have but one final word. Now, as always, recuperation of the country will be the result of the multitude of activities of our citizens and the sustained confidence of our people in its great future. The problem before this conference is not to settle great questions of the future or to establish artificialities, but rather by practical steps today, or organization, contribute to make more effective the activities of every agency which can promote the recovery of the nation.

The great war against depression is being fought on many fronts in many parts of the world. One of the most stupendous actions of this great front has been the long battle of the last 18 months to carry our financial structure safely through the world-wide collapse. That battle may be likened to the great battle of Chateau-Thierry. That attack on our line has been stopped. But I warn you that the war is not over. We must now re-form our forces for the battle of Soissons.

nounced the Cabinet's decision to a tense Chamber of Deputies last night and there was immediate pandemonium. Fist fights broke out as waves of applause swept in from the Right and shouts of resentment came from the radical Left. Pickles Good in Summer.

Pickles contribute something tasty and piquant to the menu—whether they are in an appetizer, a garnish, a sauce, a salad or a sandwich. They are particularly good with leftover meats, and generally make for more appetite-teasing summer meals because they moderate strong, heavy flavors and accentuate weak ones.

PLANNING THE MENU; RECIPES FOR WEEK

Baked Chicken for Dinner and Left-Overs in Corn Chowder.

On Sunday, in Menus for the Week, in this section, baked chicken is suggested. Have the chicken cut in pieces for serving, roll in flour seasoned with salt and pepper and than dip in salad oil. Place close together in a baking pan, skin side up, cover the pan and bake in a hot oven for 35 minutes or until tender. Add a little hot water if necessary. Serve with mushroom sauce and candied sweet potatoes on slices of sauted pineapple.

The potatoes and pineapple should be baked at the same time as the chicken. Use boiled sweet potatoes; place slices of canned pineapple in a well-greased baking pan, on each slice put a small sweet potato dipped in melted butter or cooking oil, and sprinkle thickly with light brown sugar. Bake in a hot oven, basting several times with the juice that forms in the pan and a little of the pineapple juice. When delicately browned, the potatoes are done.

Any pineapple juice left over from Sunday should be mixed with orange juice for Monday breakfast, or use plain canned pineapple juice and orange juice in equal proportions. Be sure it is well chilled.

The bones from Sunday's baked chicken, together with any scraps of meat that may be left over, are utilized in making the corn and chicken chowder served on Tuesday for lunch. This is a hearty and rather novel kind of chowder recipe for which follows:

Corn and Chicken Chowder.

Break up the carcass of a baked chicken and put it in a saucepan with a large sliced onion, two quarts of cold water and two teaspoons salt. Cover and heat slowly to the boiling point, then boil gently for an hour. Strain broth and pick all bits of meat from bones. Melt two tablespoons butter in a saucepan, add two cups thinly sliced celery and cook slowly for 10 minutes. Add two cups diced raw potatoes, chicken stock and meat and two cups fresh raw corn cut from the cob. Cover and boil gently for 20 minutes, until the vegetables are tender. Thicken with two tablespoons flour mixed with a little cold water and add, just before serving, one-half cup thin cream or undiluted evaporated milk.

Dutch Peach Cake.

Sift two cups flour with one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter cup sugar and one-quarter teaspoon cinnamon. Rub in one-third cup shortening with the tips of the fingers or a fork until thoroughly blended. Beat an egg in a measuring cup, fill the cup with milk and stir into the flour mixture. Mix to a soft dough lightly and quickly and spread in a greased rather shallow baking pan. Peel and quarter ripe peaches, then cut in eighths and press the sharp edge of the peaches in the dough, placing the peaches as close together as possible until the whole surface is covered.

Sprinkle with sugar and bake in a moderate oven for 35 minutes. Five minutes before the cake is removed from the oven pour over it a syrup made by boiling together one-half cup sugar and one-quarter cup water for five minutes, then adding two tablespoons orange or leman juice. Serve the cake warm.

Baked Veal, Swedish Style.

Have two and one-half pounds breast of veal cut in pieces for serving, or in about two-inch squares, and sprinkle with salt, pepper and flour. Melt two tablespoons shortening or drippings in a heavy frying pan, add a large onion sliced thin and let cook slowly until the onion is yellow. Add veal and let cook about 10 minutes, stirring several times. Stir in one teaspoon paprika and enough boiling water to just cover meat.

Cover closely and cook slowly for one and one-half hours. Add more water if necessary during the cooking. There should be enough to keep meat well moistened. Just before serving stir in one-half cup thick sour cream, let boil up once and serve with mounds of boiled rice of noodles, and green peas.

Spiced Grape Juice.

Mix one cup sugar with two cups water, 12 whole cloves, a two-inch piece of stick cinnamon and a small handful of mint leaves. Boil for 10 minutes, then strain and add to two cups grape juice the juice of two lemons and two cups cold water. Chill with cracked ice and serve with a thin slice of lemon or orange in each glass.

FROZEN SALADS SERVE FOR DESERTS IN DOUBLE COURSE

Honey Fruit Salad.

One cup whipping cream, two tablespoons strained honey, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon gelatine, one tablespoon cold water, one-half cup diced pineapple, one-half cup diced orange pulp, one-half cup sliced peaches, one-half cup stoned cherries.

Whip cream until stiff and beat in honey. Add lemon juice and salt, and gelatine which has been softened in cold water and dissolved over steam. Fold in prepared fruits. Turn mixture into a freezing tray and let stand until frozen. Cut in squares and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise to which whipped cream has been added, or with a fruit-juice dressing.

Frozen Cheese Salad.

Three-ounce package cream cheese, one-quarter cup mayonnaise, one-half cup whipping cream, one tablespoon lemon juice, one teaspoon sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half cup cooked prunes, one-half cup cooked apricots, one-half cup diced pineapple.

Mash the cheese and mix with the mayonnaise. Blend with the cream which has been whipped until stiff. Add the seasonings and fruit cut in small pieces. Put in freezing tray and let stand until firm. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

COLOR COMBINATION IMPORTANT

Color combinations and textures are important in choosing the right food. No meal is as appetizing as it should be if it is made up entirely of soft foods, or of highly seasoned foods, if it has no outstanding flavor characteristic, or if it lacks color. For instance, in serving creamed foods, care should always be taken to add something crisp such as raw celery, shredded raw cabbage, or perhaps just a crisp roll.

Seek for contrasts in color, in flavor and in texture, but remember that colors and flavors must blend. Cultivate the use of a number of flavoring extracts and condiments, as they are useful in adding to the appetizing qualities of many inexpensive foods.

FAMOUS CHEF GIVES REFRESHING DRINKS

Recipes From George Rector for Four Fruit Concoctions.

George Rector, whose meals have charmed great personages, on a recent visit to St. Louis, gave away many of his culinary secrets.

Among them were some hot weather beverages which are so good, and at the same time, simple enough for anyone to try.

Spiced Lemonade.

One cup water, one cup sugar, four lemons, half teaspoon whole cloves, small piece stick cinnamon.

Boil the water, sugar, a small piece of lemon rind and spices until a thick sirup is formed. Add lemon juice and boil a few minutes longer. Strain and cool. Use two tablespoons of this sirup to each glass of lemonade. Add crushed ice and fill the glass with water or ginger ale.

Grape Juice Punch.

One quart water, one cup sugar, one pint grape juice, half cup lime or lemon juice, one pint ginger ale.

Dissolve sugar in water and add remaining ingredients. Pour over crushed ice to chill.

Lime Cooler.

Half cup crushed ice, quarter cup orange syrup, quarter cup of grape juice, quarter cup lime juice, charged water.

Put ice in an iced tea glass. Add orange syrup and fruit juice. Mix well, and fill glass with charged water.

For the orange syrup boil the following ingredients for five minutes: Juice and rind of one orange, one cup sugar and one cup water.

Ginger Orangeade.

One and a half cups orange juice, half cup sugar, one quart ginger ale.

Mix the orange juice and sugar and let stand in refrigerator until thoroughly chilled. Just before serving add ginger ale. Serve with crushed ice.

Stuffed Tomatoes.

Fill tomatoes with chopped Bermuda onions, green peppers, grapefruit, bananas. Mix with a little mayonnaise.

SIMPLE CHOP SUEY.

One-fourth cup rice, three medium-sihed potatoes, diced, three tablespoons fat, two chopped onions, one-half pound chopped beef, two cups tomatoes, salt, pepper.

Boil rice 10 minutes, add diced potatoes and cook until soft. Melt fat, add onion and meat and cook until brown. Drain rice and potatoes and mix with meat, add the tomatoes and seasoning. Pour mixture into a well greased baking dish. Bake in hot over until brown. Left-over cooked meat may be used.

RICE AND VEAL SALAD

Two cups cold cooked rice, one and one-half cups diced veal, one-half cup chopped celery or apple, two tablespoons French dressing, salt and pepper to taste, mayonnaise, lettuce.

Toss together rice, meat, celery, seasoning with French dressing; add mayonnaise to blend. Serve on lettuce with a garnish of mayonnaise.

PEPPER RELISHES ARE PUNGENTLY SAVORY

Onions Are Added to One of the Recipes Given Today.

Don't forget peppers in making up your supply of winter relishes. They have a zippy taste all their own when served with meat or poultry.

We give two recipes below. Onions have been added to one to vary the flavor.

Onions and Peppers.

Put 12 green peppers, 12 red peppers and 12 medium-sized onions through food chopper, using the medium blade. Cover with boiling water and let stand 15 minutes. Drain, cover again with boiling water and let stand another 15 miutes.

Drain, then cover pulp with three pints of mild vinegar, add four tablespoons salt and two cups sugar. Cook 30 minutes. Seal while hot in sterilized jars.

Pepper Relish.

Two cups (14 ounces), prepared pepper, one and one-half cups mild vinegar, six and one-half cups (2¾ pounds), sugar, one bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare peppers, cut open about one dozen medium peppers and discard seeds. Use equal amounts green and red sweet peppers. Put through food chopper twice, using finest knife. Drain pulp in sieve.

Measure sugar and vinegar into large kettle. Add prepared pepper, packing it solidly into cup until juice comes to top. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constanntly before and while boiling. Boil hard two minutes. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot relish at once. Makes about nine eight-ounce glasses.

No Shiny Nose.

A hostess, noted for the meals she can get up at a moment's notice, says, "last of all, powder your nose and serve the dinner; haste is no excuse for a shiny nose."

SUMMER COOKERY FOR INVALIDS IMPORTANT

Hot Weather Emphasizes Necessity by Care in Feeding Sick.

Digestive upsets due to hot weather, too strenuous exercise in the sun, and summer colds are perhaps the most frequent causes of our minor ills at this season—in addition to the disturbances caused by over-eating and vacation schedules. It is a strange thing how often vacations which are supposed to "recreate" require a rest period afterwards—generally because of too sudden a change from regular schedules of eating and sleeping.

In cases of severe illness, the physician, of course, prescribes a specific diet, and his instructions must be rigidly adhered to, but there are many times when minor illnesses attack some member of the family and the need for a special diet arises—a diet where instructions are more or less general. "Eat lightly for a few days," or "stick to a liquid diet for the next week," the doctor may say.

Three General Classes.

Dietetically speaking, food for the sick is divided into three general classes known as liquid, soft or semi-soft, and light or convalescent diets.

When the doctor says to stick to a liquid diet, he means it to include clear soups and broth, beef tea and juice, cream soups made from vegetable juices and milk, cereal gruels, milk plain or modified or combined with beaten egg, fruit juice, water, etc. The clear soups and broths serve as stimulants to the flow of gastric juice, are pleasant to take and satisfy the pangs of hunger. Cereal gruels are especially useful when the appetite is poor, as they are rapidly digested and assimilated. Their fuel value depends on the amount and kind of cereal used. Milk is one of the most valuable of all foods for the sick room, for it contains some of all the elements required for growth and maintenance of the body. It may be used in so many ways in combinations with the cereal gruels, eggs, cocoa, coffee, fruit juices, vegetable juices or purees. In minor illnesses, when a liquid diet is ordered, it is only for a few days and then a gradual return is made to a regular diet.

Middle Stage.

The soft or semi-liquid diet follows the liquid diet and includes all the foods mentioned in that, and in addition such things as milk toast, cream of vegetable soups (made with vegetable pulp), fruit ices, milk and milk sherbets.

The light or convalescent diet consists of a good variety of simple, wholesome foods—all those mentioned in the liquid and soft diets and in addition lean meat and fish, chicken, purees of vegetables, baked potatoes, stewed or baked fruits, omelets, poached eggs, etc. Small portions of food should be served, only a few foods used at a time, and meals served at regular intervals.

Summer colds will respond more quickly to treatment if a light diet of fruits, vegetables and milk is included for a few days. Drink plenty of fruit juices and water and eat lightly.

Lamb Rib Chops.

Remove the long bone from rib chops, trim off the fat and roll tail up to fill hollow and make the chop round. Wrap a piece of bacon around chop, fasten with a toothpick and broil until chop is done and brown and the bacon crisp. Place on squares of toast with dots of mint or crab apple jelly.

HIS HEALTH IMPROVED 40%

After Use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

If you are constipated, read this letter which Mr. Murray had attested by Notary Public:

"Two months ago I commenced using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to relieve constipation. I am in better health today than I have been in years, due to the use of your wonderful bran. My bowels move regularly, and my general health has improved 40%."—George A. Murray, 288 K Street, South Boston, Mass.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much better to use ALL-BRAN than to abuse your system with pills and drugs—often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation—in serious cases, with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WEEKLY FRUIT AND VEGETABLE GOSSIP

There's Still Plenty of Fruit for Preserves and Jelly.

Late comers for preserving and jelly-making need not despair for there is a lot of fruit still to be had.

Peaches are here from many points and while not as plentiful or cheap as last summer, yet are within reason for preserving.

Damson plums, Concord grapes and Seckle pears are at their best. A few crabapples have come in from Michigan with quantities to follow a little later.

Wild Cherries.

There are wild cherries from Michigan also which make most delicious tangy jelly.

Rocky Ford melons are excellent now, as also are honeyball melons. A novelty, and a good one, is the larger Persian melon from California. Larger and juicier grapefruits are also in.

Vegetables.

The usual profusion of vegetables continues with string and wax beans, peppers, egg plant and many others abundant.

Bright red pimento peppers for pickling give a vivid dash of color to the market stalls. Deeper shades of the same hue are seen in new red cabbages.

A winter favorite with many which has arrived early this season is the yellow rutabaga, which has joined the root vegetable in many markets.

SPICED ROUND OF BEEF

Six pounds beef upper round, three onions sliced, one teaspoon cloves, two tablespoons cinnamon, one teaspoon allspice, three tablespoons currants or seedless raisins, one lemon sliced, one teaspoon ginger vinegar.

Make enough brine of equal parts of water and vinegar to cover meat. Boil spices in part of the brine first. Then add the remainder with other ingredients. Let meat stand in brine for three days. Turn often. Boil as for boiled beef.

Mrs. Scotti offers—crispy, light, hot waffles with her delicious creamed chicken.
A rare treat—you will agree.

Peel tomatoes, scoop out center, sprinkle inside with salt and set open side down in a refrigerator dish to drain thoroughly. Do not stuff them until just before you are ready to serve them, or the stuffing will become watery.

Fill with any of the following: Chicken, lobster or crab meat, or a combination of celery, cucumber, green pepper and tiny onions.

CREOLE STEW

One fat chicken, one can tomatoes, one can peas, six onions, few grains red pepper, six sliced potatoes, one can mushrooms, two cups water, one teaspoon salt.

Put ingredients in a pot and let cook for four hours. Do not stir more than you can help and when you do, put a long handled spoon tip down and gently stir from bottom to prevent burning.

MENU FOR FOURSOME BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Meal for a Hostess Without a Maid Which Is Easily Prepared.

"Please give me a simple menu for my bridge club. There are four of us and we always eat rather a hearty lunch before beginning to play," is one of the week's requests.

So we suggest the following, which will not be hard to prepare even if the hostess has no maid.

Menu.

Melon balls in ginger ale.
Broiled chicken   Creamed corn
Small rolls   Jelly
Peach shortcakes
Iced coffee or tea

Cut tiny balls from a ripe honey dew melon with a vegetable cutter such as may be bought in almost any five-and-ten cent store or in all housefurnishing stores. Do this early in the day and put balls in the icebox to thoroughly chill. Just before serving put them in sherbet or cocktail glasses and pour chilled ginger ale over them. Garnish with a sprig of mint.

Two broilers weighing about a pound each will make four servings. Have them split, sprinkle with salt and pepper and spread the skin side with cooking oil or melted butter. Place skin side down on a greased broiler and cook for ten minutes. Turn skin side up and cook 10 to 15 minutes longer or until tender and a golden brown. Reduce the gas flame if necessary.

Creamed Corn.

Cut corn from the cob to make two cupsful. Put in a double boiler with one tablespoon butter and one cup rich milk. Cover and cook for 25 minutes or until tender. Season with salt and pepper and thicken with one teaspoon flour.

Make the shortcakes from sponge cakes, fill them with sliced peaches and serve with plain or whipped cream. The little sponge cakes may be bought ready to use.

PINEAPPLE MUFFINS

Pineapple muffins add a new note to the breakfast or luncheon menu. Make them by adding one cup well drained canned crushed pineapple to your favorite muffin recipe just before putting the batter in the pans. Use about two tablespoons less milk than usual to allow for the juice in the pineapple—yes, we know we said to drain it, but even so, there is some moisture left. One cup of pineapple is used in a recipe calling for approximately two cups of flour.

CANNED ASPARAGUS OMELET FOR THE LEISURELY BREAKFAST

Open a can of asparagus tips and remove asparagus carefully from can. Place it in a shallow pan with the juice and heat slowly while omelet is cooking. Melt two tablespoons butter, add two tablespoons flour and when well blended stir in one-half cup milk and one-quarter cup of the hot asparagus juice. Stir until thickened and smooth, season with one teaspoon lemon juice, a little salt and paprika.

Drain the rest of juice from hot asparagus, add sauce and keep hot while preparing the omelet. Beat six eggs until the whites and yolks are mixed, stir in one-half cup milk, one-half teaspoon salt and pepper to season. Melt two tablespoons butter in a heavy, large frying pan, and when bubbling pour in the eggs. Cook slowly until firm, lifting the omelet away from the sides of the pan as it cooks.

When firm, pour the asparagus carefully on the omelet, fold over and turn out on a hot platter. Garnish with watercress — a liberal amount of it—and serve with crisp, hot potato chips.

Lamb Tongues.

Put four lamb tongues in kettle cover with boiling water and simmer till tender. Take tongue from water and remove skins. Place in deep pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper and surround with one pint each of peas and tomatoes. Cover with boiling water, cover closely and bake until vegetables are tender. Sauce may be thickened with flour.

SOUP OF OTHER LANDS AS THE ONE HOT DISH

Cold and Simple Meal Adequate if Begun With One of These.

We hear so much caution against too much cold food, and also are often advised to serve hot soup both to offset an otherwise cold menu, and because it is so nourishing.

Particularly substantial are the soups of other countries where often they are the main item of a meal with very little more served.

As good examples, we give three soups drawn from Italy, Scotland and Germany.

Italian Tomato Soup.

Simmer for a half hour one quart can of tomatoes, one-half a small onion, bit of bay leaf, three cloves, teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon white pepper, teaspoon sugar and two cups boiling water. Then press through a sieve. This can be done one day and the puree kept in the refrigerator until the next day. Have on hand one-half cup cooked rice. When ready to serve add to puree one-eighth teaspoon soda. Blend two tablespoons butter with two of flour, and cook until it begins to brown. Add a little of the puree to it, stir smooth, then put this with the rest of the hot soup and stir until smooth. Add rice, stir until grains separate, sprinkle some minced parsley over the soup and serve.

German Potato Soup.

Pare and slice three medium size potatoes. Put to boil in two cups water, with one cup celery tops, one small onion, cut in half, and a few sprigs of parsley. Cook until the potatoes crumble, then press through a sieve, add three cups hot milk, thicken with two tablespoons butter blended with two of flour, and season with salt and pepper. When well thickened, it is safer to cook it in the double boiler lest the milk scorch, strain again and serve with croutons.

Scotch Broth.

Cut in small pieces three pounds neck of lamb, and cook with three quarts of water for four or five hours, reducing heat to just a simmer after boiling point is reached. Strain, and cool, and when perfectly cold, remove all fat. Have soaking four tablespoons pearl barley, add to stock with four tablespoons well washed rice, and let cook gently while preparing one-half cup each grated carrot, grated turnip, chopped onion and chopped celery. Add all to stock, and cook slowly for an hour and a half. Select some of the best pieces of the lean mutton cooked for the stock, cut fine and add. Season with pepper, salt and a little chopped parsley, and thicken slightly with two tablespoons butter and one and one-half tablespoons flour.

Canned Food.

Busy housekeepers realize the convenience and advantage of canned foods, and they know that the use of the can opener casts no reflection on their prowess as a cook. So keep a good supply always on hand.

OAK PLANKS

Individual oak planks can be bought in sets of four or six and are splendid for meals of individual planked steaks, fish or chops. These planks are just the right size for individual servings and allow room for garnishing and the array of vegetables that make planked foods so interesting.

Beets Stuffed With Peas.

Both vegetables may be prepared the day before, then combined half an hour before serving. Cook beets of uniform size, skin and scoop out center. Drain peas, season with salt and pepper. Fill the beet cups, put a spoonful melted butter or substitute over each cup and heat hot in oven.

CHEESE AND POTATOES ARE TASTY LUNCHEON FAVORITES

Six potatoes, two onions, one tablespoon fat, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-half cup water, one-half cup milk, one-half cup grated cheese, one tablespoon chopped parsley.

Pare and slice potatoes, add chopped onions, parsley, salt, pepper. Melt fat in saucepan, add potato mixture. Pour in water, cover tightly, cook gently for 20 minutes. Then add milk and cook for another 15 minutes. Serve on a hot platter sprinkled with grated cheese.

Six potatoes, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, two tablespoons butter, one egg, two cups milk, one-fourth cup grated cheese.

Peel, wash, slice potatoes thinly. Fill a baking dish with the sliced potatoes, sprinkle each layer with salt, pepper, grated cheese. Dot top with pieces of butter, pour over one egg beaten with two cups milk. Cover, bake half an hour. Uncover the dish and brown.

Tomato Sauce.

Heat canned tomatoes scalding hot, seasoning with a little sugar, pepper and salt, adding if liked a few whole cloves and allspice. This makes a delicious hot sauce for lamb.

HOT BREAD DESIRED IN ANY WEATHER

Occasional Indulgences Not Bad Even if the Temperature Soars.

Now and then, even on warm days, biscuits and rolls fresh from the oven seem to touch just the right spot. They often finish out very well a scanty luncheon.

They may be of white or dark flour, made with yeast or baking powder, just as long as they are hot and well baked. But don't serve them too often!

Whole Wheat Biscuit.

Sift three cups whole wheat flour with four teaspoons baking powder, teaspoon salt, teaspoon sugar. Sift twice, then rub in one-fourth cup shortening, mix to a dough as for baking powder biscuit, using all milk or half milk, half water. About a cup will give dough of the desired consistency. Roll out as for any biscuit, and cut with a small cutter. Brush tops with melted butter or milk and bake for 15 minutes in hot oven. Better the second day than the day they are made. Reheat before using.

Graham Rolls.

Sift together three times, a pint Graham flour, cup white flour, one-half teaspoon salt and two teaspoons baking powder. Chop in first, then rub in until like meal two tablespoons lard or any preferred shortening, and mix to a dough with 1⅓ cups milk. It may require a little more or a little less liquid as flours differ in density. Flour the bread board, turn out douh, work lightly, then make a long roll, which cut into pieces the size of an egg and form into rolls, about two inches wide, three or four inches long. Brush with melted butter and bake in greased pan.

Hot Raised Rolls.

Sift a teaspoon salt with four cups bread flour, and chop into it a tablespoon butter. Scald a pint of milk, cool until it is lukewarm, then beat with it the yolks of two raw eggs, and mix with the flour. crumble one-third yeast cake and dissolve in one-half cup lukewarm water, add a teaspoon sugar and stir with the rest. Mix well with a wood spoon. Let rise for four hours; it should double in bulk by that time. Knead lightly, make into a long roll and cut this into pieces the size of walnuts. Roll into balls with the floured hands, and set close together in greased baking pan. Cover with a clean dishtowel and let rise for one-half hour. Brush tops with a little milk and bake in a hot oven from 12 to 15 minutes.

Creole Sauce.

Cut two slices bacon or salt pork in small pieces and fry until it begins to brown, then stir with it a small onion chopped fine, and finish browning both. Add a cup of tomatoes, freshly stewed or canned, breaking the pulp in small pieces. Salt and pepper to taste, cook five minutes longer and use.

VEGETABLE PLATE IS POPULAR FOR DINNER

Four Menus Given With Recipe for Well Balanced Meals.

With many vegetables in the markets and prices so low, women are finding it worth while to introduce a weekly vegetable plate dinner.

It's easy to prepare and easy to serve. Care must be taken that substantial food values are presented, and to this end the following menus are suggested:

Menu 1. Pineapple and lemon juice cocktail; curry of lima beans with boiled rice, chutney and fried bananas; jellied cucumber salad; rye bread and butter; sliced peaches with chilled custard sauce.

Menu 2. Melon balls in orange juice; cheese souffle with baked stuffed tomatoes and corn fritters; grated raw carrot salad; raspberry ice.

Menu 3. Spinach mold with cheese sauce, fried cucumbers and baked potatoes; sliced orange and onion salad; peach pie.

Menu 4. Deviled egg appetizer; casserole of vegetables; corn muffins; frozen cream cheese and tomato salad; Spanish cream.

Curry of Lima Beans With Rice.

Boil four cups shelled lima beans in salted water for 20 minutes or until tender, then drain, saving one cup of the water. Cut five medium sized tomatoes in thick slices and fry in three tablespoons salted butter for five minutes, then stir in one minced onion (a large one), one tablespoon curry powder, two small green apples, cored and chopped. Cook for five minutes, add two tablespoons flour mixed to a smooth paste with a little cold water, and the water from the beans. Simmer for five minutes longer, stir in the beans, reheat and pour in the center of a deep serving dish. Surround with balls of boiled rice and place slices of fried banana between the balls of rice. Pass chutney with it.

Cheese Souffle.

Grate or cut fine one-half pound sharp flavored American cheese. Melt four tablespoons butter, stir in five tablespoons flour and when mixed add one cup milk. Continue stirring until thick and smooth. Remove from the fire, add the cheese, the beaten yolks of three eggs, one teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoon salt and a dash of cayenne pepper. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs and pour into a shallow, greased baking dish. Bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—for 25 minutes, or until well puffed, firm to the touch and delicately browned. Serve at once.

When Preparing the Souffle.

Cut ripe melon into small balls and let stand in chilled orange juice for an hour before serving. Bake tomatoes in oven with cheese souffle, stuffing them with minced onion sauted in a little butter and sprinkled with bread crumbs. Grate raw carrots and mix with half as much finely cut celery, a little chopped parsley. Marinate in French dressing and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Spinach With Cheese Sauce.

Clean two pounds of spinach, remove root ends and boil the spinach for 10 minutes in one cup boiling water. Drain, chop very fine, season with salt, pepper and two tablespoons butter and pack in six small buttered cups. Let stand five minutes, turn out on rounds of fried bread and pour a thick cheese sauce over the spinach. Make the sauce from the recipe given for the souffle, omitting the eggs.

Fried Cucumbers.

Cut cucumbers in quarters, peel, roll in beaten egg, then in fine bread crumbs and fry in a small amount of fat in a frying pan. Three medium-sized cucumbers will be enough for six people. Bake the pie and the potatoes in the oven at the same time. Slice firm oranges and mix with very thinly sliced Spanish onions. Serve on crisp lettuce with French dressing.

Casserole of Vegetables.

Put two cups green peas, one cup shelled lima beans, one cup carrots, a large onion sliced, three sliced tomatoes in a deep casserole. Pour in one cup hot water in which has been dissolved a bouillon cube and four tablespoons butter. Trim a bunch of asparagus and place on top of the other vegetables, or use a can of large asparagus, or use and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven, then remove the cover, sprinkle with one cup buttered bread crumbs and bake until the crumbs are crisp.

QUICK TOMATO BUILLON

The quickest tomato bouillon on record is made from canned tomato juice and bouillon cubes. For four servings heat two cups canned tomato juice, one thick slice of onion, one teaspoon sugar and one cup water to the boiling point. Simmer for five minutes, add three bouillon cubes and stir until dissolved. Strain into bouillon cups, sprinkle with a little minced parsley and serve with cheese crackers.

The crackers may be those little cheese flavored crackers that are so good and that come all ready to use, or plain saltine crackers sprinkled or spread with cheese and heated in the oven.

Stuffed Celery.

Mash one-half cup cream cheese with one-half cup red pimentoes. Use this mixture to stuff six-inch pieces of celery and pile log cabin fashion on small serving plate.

Cook Veal Slowly.

Veal needs slower cooking than beef to make it tender and digestible. Veal cutlet browned quickly in a hot pan, then placed in a shallow baking pan, covered with a thick layer of thinly sliced onions seasoned with salt and pepper, covered and baked slowly for an hour or longer is very good.

TOMATOES AND APPLES MAKE DELICIOUS CHUTNEY

Chutney to many means a rather too highly seasoned concoction of foreign origin.

But tomatoes and apples are excellent for a chutney in which the following are used: Six large tomatoes, six apples, four small onions, one green pepper, one cup seeded raisins, one-fourth cup mixed spice, three teaspoons salt, three cups brown sugar, one quart vinegar.

Chop tomatoes, apples, onions, raisins and pepper fine. Add remaining ingredients, having the spice tied in a cheesecloth bag, and boil one and one-half hours. Remove spice bag, turn the pickle into sterilized jars and seal.

HINTS FOR MOTHER IN PREPARING COOKIES

New Molds Simplify Process—Careful Measurements Are Necessary.

When there are children in the family there just can't be too many cookies on hand—and the grown-ups like them, too! Happy the family in which there is an almost unending supply!

Icebox cookies, so popular now, are more easily made with the new molds. Most stores carry them, and they remove the difficulty so many of us have in shaping the dough for this popular type of cookies so that the cookies will be a good shape. When the molds are not available, try a cardboard carton such as ice cream or oysters are sold in, or us empty baking-powder cans, punching a hole in the bottom of both can or carton before putting in the dough. This makes it easier to get the dough out. Grease baking powder cans.

Accurate Measurements.

Too much shortening in cookies makes them crumbly and a greasy texture. Too little shortening makes them dry out very quickly. Therefore, measure the shortening a recipe calls for, and be accurate in your measurements.

In making cookies it is better to make a moderately soft dough, then stiffen it by thorough chilling and roll a little of it at a time, rather than make a stiff dough with an excess of flour. The first method produces a crisp, tender cookie, the second a rather tough cookie.

MEN LIKE ANCHOVYSANDWICHES

Four hard cooked eggs, one tablespoon anchovy paste cream, chopped watercress or parsley, salt and pepper.

Mash egg yolks, chop whites, add paste and moisten with cream. Add parsley. Season with salt and pepper.

Mix one tablespoon anchovy paste, one cream cheese, one teaspoon olive oil and one teaspoon horseradish and spread between slices of brown bread.

Clam Broth.

Heat in double boiler six cups milk to the boil. Add a can of the best quality mixed clams, or one cup chopped fresh clams, salt, pepper and tablespoon butter. Simmer five minutes and serve with the crackers, set in oven until lightly browned.

To Caramelize Sugar.

Stir in iron skillet over fire until sugar dissolves and becomes a syrup of rich caramel color, add three tablespoons water and cook to a thick syrup. This has a fine flavor all its own.

MAKE MACAROONS AND USE THEM IN MOUSSE

Corn Flakes Ingredient of These Cookies and Dessert.

Home made macaroons in which corn flakes are included are delicious with summer beverages.

They may also be crumbled in a recipe for honey mousse which is good enough to be put in the family cook book.

Corn Flake Macaroons.

Two egg whites, one-half cup chopped nutmeats, one cup brown sugar, one cup cocoanut (shredded), two cups corn flakes, one-half teaspoon vanilla.

Beat egg whites until they are stiff enough to hold their shape, but not until they lose their shiny appearance. Fold in sugar carefully. Fold in corn flakes, nutmeats and cocoanut. Add vanilla.

Drop on a well greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven 15 to 20 minutes. Remove pans from oven, place on damp towel and remove macaroons immediately with a spatula or sharp knife. If macaroons become hardened to pan, they may be put in the oven a few minutes to soften.

Honey Corn Flake Macaroon Mousse.

One and one-half pints cream, one-fourth cup powdered sugar, one-fourth cup honey, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one and one-half cups crushed corn flake macaroons.

Beat cream until stiff. Add powdered sugar gradually, then the honey and salt. Fold in crushed or rolled dry macaroons and put mixture in the refrigerator pan and leave in chilling unit four hours. Can also be packed in three parts ice to one part salt for four hours.

Custard Rice Pudding.

Mix one-half cup sugar with two tablespoons flour, and beat with this three eggs, one at a time. Add three pints sweet milk, stir well, then add two cups cold boiled rice and two teaspoons vanilla extract. The mixture must be stirred until the rice grains are separated. Butter baking dish, preferably a fire-proof glass one, turn in mixture and bake for about 60 minutes, or until center is firm and top browned. Serve cold.

SERVE ICES WITH MEAT HOT NIGHTS

Lime and Mint Are Particularly Good Flavors for This.

A pleasant touch to the hot weather meal is an ice served with the meat course. And no flavors are better than lime and mint with their piquant tang.

Lamb or veal, especially, whether roast or chop, are deliciously improved when these tart cold ices are served at the same time.

Lime Ice.

One package lime-flavored gelatine, three cups boiling water, two tablespoons lemon juice, pinch of salt, two egg whites.

Dissolve gelatine in the boiling water, add lemon juice and salt, and freeze in a refrigerator tray. Turn out into a bowl and beat until light and smooth. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and return to the freezing unit. Let stand until completely frozen again.

Mint Ice.

Three cups water, one cup sugar, one-third cup lemon juice, pinch salt, one-half teaspoon mint extract, green food coloring, two egg whites.

Cook sugar and water together for five minutes. Cool and add lemon juice and salt. Add mint extract, and color a delicate green. Turn into a freezing tray and let freeze until firm. Turn out into a bowl, beat until light and smooth, and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Return to the refrigerator and complete the freezing.

Croutons.

Butter lightly slices of stale bread, cut in small squares and spread on pie plate in moderate oven. Toast to a golden brown.

Nothing but tenderest leaves in this mellow blend

STOCKS SELL DOWN, MAKE ABRUPT TURN AND ADVANCE

Some Leaders Register Extreme Gains of 2 to More Than 3 Points Late After Early Decline Had Carried Many Issues Off 1 to 4 Points.

STOCK PRICE TREND.	Fri.	Thurs.
Number of advances	387	427
Number of declines	221	235
Stocks unchanged	155	143
Total issues traded	763	805

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—An abrupt reversal sent the stock market up swiftly in the late trading today, after a slow decline had carried many issues off 1 to 4 points. Some of the leaders registered extreme gains of 2 to more than 3 points in the late trading, although there was slight sag just before the close. The late tone was strong. Transfers approximated 3,000,000 shares.

The selling, in part a continuation of the movement late yesterday, dried up in the afternoon, and there was a fresh bull drive. The Interborough Rapid Transit receivership had only a temporary effect.

U. S. Steel and American Telephone were rushed up about 3 points in the late dealings. Eastman closed about 2 higher and miscellaneous issues up a point or more included du Pont, Consolidated Gas, International Harvester, Case, Southern Pacific, North American, American Can, Union Pacific and Santa Fe. Union Pacific at one time had been down 4, and Telephone and Steel were off about 1½ at the lowest. Auburn closed up 6.

Cotton joined stocks in the late spurt, closing with net gains of $1.10 to $1.20 a bale, and reaching new highs for the year. Wheat was soggy for a time, but recovered to finish with losses of only ¼c to ⅜c a bushel. Corn was about steady at the finish.

Foreign exchanges yielded a little in the early trading, but recovered later. Sterling cables ruled unchanged at $3.46⅝. The French franc recovered an early sag, and the Dutch guilder ruled a shade higher.

Trade Slows Up on Decline.

Bulls were encouraged by the slowing up of trading on the decline. A little profit-taking from abroad was reported by houses with London and other foreign connections, but in the main foreigners who accumulated stocks in this market during the past several weeks were said to be maintaining their holdings intact. Probably selling of the carrier primarily reflected a belief that their advance had been too rapid.

The "Lamp," official publication of Standard Oil of New Jersey, expressed the view that it is now reasonable to expect that the improvement in the oil industry can be maintained, and carried further, if the industry will continue to heed the lesson it has learned about overproduction.

The Credit Situation.

The weekly bank statements showed currency in circulation was reduced $22,000,000, in contrast to an increase of $43,000,000 in the like week of last year. The recent trend of currency in circulation, according to banking authorities, has indicated a cessation of hoarding.

Brokers' loans increased $11,000,000, probably indicating a little more marginal trading in shares, but New York banks reduced their loans on security collateral. The country's monetary gold stock increased $13,000,000, making a total gain of $155,000,000 since the low point of June. Return of currency from circulation, and increasing gold, permitted member banks to increase their reserve balances by $62,000,000.

In the New York Federal Reserve district the net demand deposits increased in the week from $4,957,000,000 to $5,025,000,000 and the time deposits increased from $827,000,000 to $830,000,000.

The daily average volume of Federal Reserve Bank credit outstanding for the week, the board said, had decreased $14,000,000, but was still an increase of $1,161,000,000, compared with the same week last year. The total daily average was $2,336,000,000.

The total Reserve Bank credit clumped off $23,000,000 for the week to $2,321,000,000.

The Federal Reserve banks held $1,851,000,000 in Government securities at the end of the week, which was the same as the week before, but an increase of $1,123,000,000, as compared with the same week last year.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—An abrupt reversal sent the stock market up swiftly in the late trading today, after a slow decline had carried many issues off 1 to 4 points. Some of the leaders registered extreme gains of 2 to more than 3 points in the late trading, although there was slight sag just before the close. The late tone was strong. Transfers approximated 3,000,000 shares.

The selling, in part a continuation of the movement late yesterday, dried up in the afternoon, and there was a fresh bull drive. The Interborough Rapid Transit receivership had only a temporary effect.

U. S. Steel and American Telephone were rushed up about 3 points in the late dealings. Eastman closed about 2 higher and miscellaneous issues up a point or more included du Pont, Consolidated Gas, International Harvester, Case, Southern Pacific, North American, American Can, Union Pacific and Santa Fe. Union Pacific at one time had been down 4, and Telephone and Steel were off about 1½ at the lowest. Auburn closed up 6.

Cotton joined stocks in the late spurt, closing with net gains of $1.10 to $1.20 a bale, and reaching new highs for the year. Wheat was soggy for a time, but recovered to finish with losses of only ¼c to ⅜c a bushel. Corn was about steady at the finish.

Foreign exchanges yielded a little in the early trading, but recovered later. Sterling cables ruled unchanged at $3.46⅝. The French franc recovered an early sag, and the Dutch guilder ruled a shade higher.

Trade Slows Up on Decline.

Bulls were encouraged by the slowing up of trading on the decline. A little profit-taking from abroad was reported by houses with London and other foreign connections, but in the main foreigners who accumulated stocks in this market during the past several weeks were said to be maintaining their holdings intact. Probably selling of the carrier primarily reflected a belief that their advance had been too rapid.

The "Lamp," official publication of Standard Oil of New Jersey, expressed the view that it is now reasonable to expect that the improvement in the oil industry can be maintained, and carried further, if the industry will continue to heed the lesson it has learned about overproduction.

The Credit Situation.

The weekly bank statements showed currency in circulation was reduced $22,000,000, in contrast to an increase of $43,000,000 in the like week of last year. The recent trend of currency in circulation, according to banking authorities, has indicated a cessation of hoarding.

Brokers' loans increased $11,000,000, probably indicating a little more marginal trading in shares, but New York banks reduced their loans on security collateral. The country's monetary gold stock increased $18,000,000, making a total gain of $155,000,000 since the low point of June. Return of currency from circulation, and increasing gold, permitted member banks to increase their reserve balances by $62,000,000.

In the New York Federal Reserve district the net demand deposits increased in the week from $4,957,000,000 to $5,025,000,000 and the time deposits increased from $827,000,000 to $830,000,000.

The daily average volume of Federal Reserve Bank credit outstanding for the week, the board said, had decreased $16,000,000, but was still an increase of $1,161,000,000, compared with the same week last year. The total daily average was $2,336,000,000.

The total Reserve Bank credit slumped off $23,000,000 for the week to $2,321,000,000.

The Federal Reserve banks held $1,851,000,000 in Government securities at the end of the week, which was the same as the week before, but an increase of $1,123,000,000, as compared with the same week last year.

COTTON MARKET REACHES NEW TOP IN LATE TRADE

Rallies From Slight Opening Decline Is Followed by Renewed Weakness and Then New Advance.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The sharp advances of earlier this week were followed by rather nervous and irregular fluctuations in cotton today.

Rallies from a slight opening decline were followed by renewed weakness, but after selling off from 8.65 to 8.40 for December the market steadied on continued trade buying and covering. The mid-afternoon market was fairly steady at 8.60 for December or about four to seven points net higher.

The market was active and very firm late in the day with prices at new high levels on renewed buying on weevil damage reports and the strength in the stock market, futures closing firm 22 to 24 higher. October, 8.58@8.60c; December, 8.75@8.77c; January, 8.84@8.85c; March, 8.97@8.98c; May, 9.13@9.15c; July, 9.26@9.27c. Spot, quiet. Middling, 8.65c.

Cotton futures opened steady, 2 to 5 points down on lower Liverpool cables than expected and better weather but met a good demand from the trade and commission houses.

October opened 8.30c; Dec., 8.48c; Jan., 8.58c; March, 8.71c; May, 8.85c; July, 8.96c.

The initial offerings were readily absorbed, and the market continued fairly active, with prices soon recovering their opening loss. Before session had gone far December was up to 8.66 and March to 8.85 or about 10 to 12 points net higher.

Liverpool cables reported liquidation owing to the unfavorable labor situation and hedge selling in that market and there was some selling here through houses with Liverpool connection during the early trading.

Unfavorable crop advices from the Southwest no doubt contributed to the early rally, but the advance met realizing sales and the demand seemed to taper off somewhat later in the morning. A few stop orders were uncovered as prices worked lower, and the market declined to 8.40c for December, or about 26 points from the early high, or 13 points under yesterday's closing quotations, with the general list showing net losses of 12 to 14 points around midday.

'THE LAMP' ON OIL OUTLOOK

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Reports of better business for the oil companies receive further verification in "The Lamp," official publication of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, just issued.

Although it is admitted that the petroleum corporations are selling considerably less of their wares than they did a year ago, the improvement is explained as due in part "to a better measure of control of crude production and a reduction in refinery runs, and it is reasonable to expect that it can be maintained and carried further if the industry will heed the lesson that over-production spells waste."

"The Lamp" points out that stocks of crude and products are down 8,000,000 barrels since the first of the year, but warns that "even now there is too much oil being produced and too much of it run to gasoline for a healthy competitive situation."

The publication concludes that "it needs but a small excess of crude and products to pull down the price structure and put operators and refiners alike in the red. Perhaps the loss of past years will serve to protect the industry's present position and result in a recovery from the calamitous showing for 1931."

FARMERS 'INTEND TO PLANT' SMALLER FALL WHEAT CROP

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The Department of Agriculture reported today fall seedings of about 39,805,000 acres of winter wheat were indicated by farmers' intentions to plant, with allowance for usual changes in plans between Aug. 1 and the seeding time.

This compared with 40,177,000 for 1931 and 43,526,000 acres for 1930.

At the same time the department reported that acreage of rye to be seeded this fall for all purposes was indicated at 4,611,000 acres, 5 per cent less than in 1931 and 9 per cent below the previous [illegible]

SMALL DECLINE IN WHEAT PRICE ON LOCAL BOARD

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Aug. 26.—The wheat market had a slight setback today, closing prices being ⅛@¼c lower.

The decline in domestic wheat prices was credited to profit-taking after previous day's upturn. Liverpool failed to follow our rise. Securities and cotton were watched.

Liverpool was unchanged to ⅛d up in one cable. The close was unchanged to ⅛d lower.

Winnipeg wheat was ⅛@1c lower at the close.

September wheat opened at 52, December wheat 55⅝, and May wheat 60¼.

Local wheat receipts, which were 58,800 bu., compared with 28,000 a week ago and 134,400 a year ago, included 23 cars local and 19 through. Corn receipts, which were 47,000 bu., compared with 33,000 a week ago and 64,500 a year ago, included 34 cars local. Oat receipts, which were 18,400 bu., compared with 4400 a week ago and 28,000 a year ago, included 5 cars local and 2 through. Hay receipts were 5 cars local and 2 through.

GENERALLY LOWER DRIFT TO WHEAT AT CHICAGO

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Wheat trading lacked snap today and prices drifted generally lower. A brief rally at the start was checked by quick profit-taking, with Eastern interests selling freely. Reactions carried prices about a cent below yesterday's close, but a moderate rally later erased some of the losses. Traders watched the business conference in Washington and kept a close scrutiny on stocks and cotton.

Corn and oats held within narrow ranges and followed wheat. Provisions were easier with grains.

Wheat closed weak, ¼@⅜ cent lower; corn mixed, ⅛@⅛c lower; oats steady to ⅛c off and provisions steady to 5 cents down.

Scattered buying gave wheat a semblance of strength in initial dealings today, but quick profit taking soon caused reactions.

The concentrated buying so much in evidence yesterday was lacking and sentiment was mixed with traders watching stocks and cotton closely. Wheat opened steady to ⅛ cent higher, but soon settled to below yesterday's finish. Corn started to ¼ higher and held within narrow limits later.

Wheat lagged after the opening rally, with offerings limited. Prices held generally a shade under yesterday's final quotations. Routine news was noncommittal, with Liverpool refusing to follow advances here and holding generally steady. Stocks and cotton were under close scrutiny by wheat traders.

Australian exports this week totaled 617,000 bushels, compared with 538,000 last week, but were considerably smaller than the 1,751,000 bushels shipped at this time in 1931. Argentine shipments for the week were 1,124,000 bushels, and compared with 850,000 last week and 1,625,000 a year ago.

Corn and oats were quiet and easier with wheat.

Provisions were quiet and steady.

RAIL BONDS RALLY SOME FROM DECLINE

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—After recording sharp losses, some low priced railway bonds rallied substantially in the closing hour of today's session. Declines, however, were numerous and many of the carrier issues were unable to hold their recoveries.

The market was somewhat unsettled by announcement of the Interborough Rapid Transit receivership, and loans of the traction corporation, its allied companies, again slumped in early trading. Most of them came back for small gains when buying appeared in the afternoon.

Roads whose bonds lost from 1 to 3 or more points at one time included Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago & Northern, St. Paul, Erie, Illinois Central, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Pennsylvania, Frisco, Southern Pacific, Southern and Union Pacific.

The utilities and industrials showed resistance in spots, but many of them registered declines. Bonds of International Telephone, Chile Copper, Sinclair Oil, U. S. Rubber, Utility Power & Light, Western Union, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Columbia Gas and Dodge Bros. dropped a point or more.

The United States Government section was inactive and slightly easier. The Australians turned heavy and the Germans were irregular. Japanese issues were soft. Kreuger & Toll 5s rallied for a gain of more than 2 points.

CURB MARKET TURNS STRONG LATE IN DAY

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The curb market developed pronounced strength in the late trading today, in sympathy with a late upward move on the big board. Electric Bond & Share showed another sensational jump, approaching the 40 level for an extreme gain of something like six points. American Gas & Electric, Columbia Gas & Electric preferred, Niagara Hudson Power and other utility favorites overcame early losses of a point or so and climbed into new high ground.

Industrials rallied along with the utilities. Aluminum Co. of America gained about 2 points, while Deere & Co., Ford Motor of Canada and Newmont Mining improved fractionally.

COPPER MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—It was reported in copper trade circles today that copper for domestic shipment can no longer be obtained under 5¾ cents a pound delivered. Producers are said to be reluctant to sell at 5½ cents beyond the end of 1932. Domestic inquiry is somewhat better.

European buying continues in good volume, it is reported, with the price abroad 5.60@5.65c a pound.

Lead Price Advanced.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The price of lead was advanced 1-10 of a cent a pound to 3.50 cents a pound today by the American Smelting & Refining Co. This is the fourth advance of 1-10 cent since Aug. 16, and establishes the price nearly one cent a pound above the low level of June.

The St. Joseph Lead Co. advanced its price 1-10 of a cent to 3.35 cents a pound, St. Louis.

If you ask my Opinion

by Martha Carr

DEAR MRS. CARR: Your column gives me so much confidence that I am taking the chance of writing, because of misery and worry. I am 34 and have a son 18 and father 64, depending upon me. My father has been caring for me, since I was 2 years old, when my mother ran away. Both of us are in ill health, I have been going to a clinic and was told that I would have to go into the country and get away from the noise in the rooming house. I am anaemic and walk the floor, almost driven mad with poor food and no rest. If I had a week's quiet in the country I am sure I could get a job and take care of us.

MRS. B.

I believe you could get work in the country that would pay your board and room rent, where you could have fresh air and good food. Also you could board, for very little, until you are strong enough to work. Send me a self-addressed and stamped envelope and I will give you some addresses.

* * *

DEAR MRS. CARR: Several weeks ago I went to a party with a fellow. He was very nice, and by the way he acted I suppose he approved of me. We had a nice time and he told me he wanted to see me again, but I have not heard from him since. What do you think that means?

MISS X.

Why are girls in such a hurry? Any number of things may have happened.

DEAR MARTHA: We are a couple of young girls who graduated last year from high school. Two boys who have been our high-school-day sweethearts are still devoted to us and have proposed marriage. They are sons of rather well-to-do parents, but we have not given our answer yet, as we wish to go to college. They want to marry right away. So, Mrs. Carr, tell two Dumb Doras what to do.

CONNIE AND BILLIE.

I should say that you can hardly make a foursome of matrimony. You are entirely too undecided in your own minds for me to venture to decide for you. What if I told you to hustle along and have a double wedding or to make a double bow to your sweethearts and trip off the school? It might be right, but dire things might happen either way. See if you cannot think individually about your marriage and your future. Which way would you rather take a chance; for chance it is—always.

* * *

DEAR MRS. CARR: I am a widow with a little girl 6 years old, will be 7 at Christmas. If any of your readers have a little girl that age who has clothes she doesn't wear any more, I would be thankful to get them so she can attend school and church.

M. E. T.

It is hardly worth while writing letters of this kind to the column without giving name and address and sending stamped, self-addressed envelope. How can I help you without identification? Your name will not be published.

DEAR MRS. CARR: We have six couples in our crowd, but it seems I am the only one they kid and joke. Gee, I don't mind it sometimes, but when they continually razz me, I get angry, but manage to put on the bright smile for them. One of the boys asked me the other day, if I "ever got mad." I don't get angry with them and therefore they keep it up.

How can I stop them, Mrs. Carr? They call me a "good sport" and invite me everywhere. But even older men take a delight in teasing me.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKY.

Surprise them sometime by showing them the "worm can turn." Your reputation as "good sport" is pretty fine and no wonder you are popular; but that sort of thing does get to be quite boring and a little flare-up might make them think even more of you.

* * *

DEAR MRS. CARR: Please answer this at once as it will put my worried mind at ease. I had three supposed-to-be friends. We were together all the time, but this summer they have grown very snobbish. They try to make me mad by cutting up and prancing by my house. After snubbing me, they came out on the porch next door and asked me to play tennis and I refused. They are familiar and rude and come without asking. They tease me because I wouldn't let a boy I went out with the first time, kiss me; would you? He never asked me again.

JUST FIFTEEN.

Your mother and father might appear on the scene at some of these performances and I fancy that would discourage them. No, I wouldn't.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for a personal reply.

The Polish Community Gives a Party

OH BOY!

Olympic Athletes From Homeland Accorded Joyous Welcome, With Formality Dropped as Old World Customs Prevail at Reception and Banquet.

BITS of color, here and there, one may still find about St. Louis, if one is willing to leave the fixed transportation routes to and from downtown, the fixed routine of work, home and shows; to hear alien tongues spoken, and mingle with Americans who treasure the folkways of the countries from which they come. For it is usually among the so-called "foreign" communities that one finds the most colorful aspects of group sociability; the Suabians, the Czechs, the Serbians, the Italians, the Poles.

Picture stopping, for instance, at the intersection of Twenty-first street and St. Louis avenue at dusk. A large house stands on one corner—a mansion in fact, with its large surrounding grounds, all converted into a community center for the Polish people of the city. People chat on the sidewalks, on the steps, on the driveway, in a tongue that fairly sizzles with sibilants. They greet each other, greet you also, although you have never seen them before. Stout women and slender blonde girls bearing small baskets stop the new arrivals, pin on them red and white ribbons. Everyone is excited, anticipatory, friendly. It is a big night.

It is a big night because the Polish contestants in the Olympic games are stopping over in St. Louis, are being welcomed by their compatriots and former compatriots. There are to be speeches and music and gymnastic exercises, and a banquet—and many admiring eyes cast on the stalwart visiting athletes by the girls, so that the athletes of the St. Louis nest of the Polish Falcons, which is sponsoring the welcome, will outdo themselves in their gymnastic exhibition.

In festival spirit, the crowd mills around as if the whole thing is to be merely a lawn party, but soon members begin to drift toward the "back yard" through an arched doorway which cuts through what once were the stables of the home. The stables, however, have been remodeled almost past recognition into gymnasiums and the back yard, probably once a garden, has been made over into a parklike enclosure.

THERE are trees, many of them and large ones, to the rear, while up against the brick wall of the gymnasium has been erected a speakers' and guests of honor platform. Next to the platform are the members of the band, and on the opposite side of the archway is a cleared space, quite evidently a drill ground.

The vicinity of the platform and the drill ground are well lighted, but the grove is left to the dusk; a dusk alive with faces, for chairs have been placed there, and already most of them are filled with spectators.

More and more spectators gather in the enclosure, shouting, laughing, talking; a tremendous bustle and commotion, with ushers and committeemen vainly trying to herd people to the chairs, to the aisles between the chairs, but there are too many important things to be said, or shouted, or laughed to friends, and the exhortations, fierce though they sound in Polish to an outsider, are ignored.

A man in evening attire breaks through the crowd, dashes up to the rostrum, and shouts into the microphone of the amplifier. "The athletes are coming," someone interprets, and it has an immediate effect. Ushers are able to clear a passageway, members of the reception committee arrange themselves at the rostrum steps, children are pulled on parents' laps, and the band strikes up a march.

The athletes, led by Dr. General S. Rauppert Polish member of the International Olympic Committee, Polish Vice-Consul W. Hulanicki of London and Capt. B. Bartenbach, director of the Polish delegates, march in as the crowd rises to its feet and applauds vigorously. The athletes, 22 in all, and their leaders are seated, so are the welcoming committeemen. The chairman of the evening opens the ceremony, introduces the speakers. There are city officials, a Congressman, Polish-American citizens who have become leading men in this country, the leaders of the Polish delegation. The visitors are introduced by Vice-Consul Hulanicki, rise one by one, are wildly applauded.

THEY are an unusually handsome group of men, even those not athletes. Hulanicki has the profile of a Roman, speaks shortly, incisively of Poland, what it has accomplished, what it will accomplish. He is proud of his country, his hearers are proud of their mother country. A most impressive figure is Teofil Sawicki of Chicago, president of the Second District of Polish Falcons in uniform, a leader of Polish people in his part of the country, and looking like a leader, elderly, soldierly.

Speeches and the crowd is pushed within definite lines to clear the drillground. The band plays and a company of girls marches out, girls in blue shorts, white middies and red ties, who drill for a few moments, in a manner denoting training and aptitude.

More speeches, with the ushers busy keeping back the people. A year-old infant evades its guardian sister, ducks eagerly from the grand stand, causes a temporary commotion. Band music again, and the girl athletes, some of them aspirants for future Olympics, march out. Spontaneously, the audience begins to applaud, keeping time with their hands.

They are clad in the same middie uniform, but carry hoops bound in red and white ribbon. They circle the drill space, break from two abreast into four single lines, begin a slow drill step to music, using the hoops to gesture. The crowd gets so engrossed, it begins to close in, hamper the freedom of the drill movements, causing some consternation to the ushers. A pretty girl on an outside line nearly flicks the nose of a spectator with her hoop, frowns and turns her head to expostulate in Polish, although never missing a movement.

Nobody misses a movement, makes a false start. The girls are drilled as perfectly as if they were Fuller or Tiller girls, trained for a chorus. It might be a chorus in a Ziegfeld show, only there is no makeup. Those pink cheeks and red lips are the mark of physical health, for these girls take to athletic sports as a ritual and a pleasure.

They go through several drills, some slow, some so rapid as to resemble dances, and wind up in a fast march, the audience again beating time.

MANY small girls and boys march out, form a line, and sing a folk song (it is more than 300 years old, proudly explains a spectator), sing several little ditties in Polish, imitate various musical instruments in one number, to the great glee of the adults.

Turning bars are lugged out by athletic-looking young fellows in athletic shirts and tight blue trousers that reach to the tops of the gym shoes. They go through exercises on the bars, to slow music, while one turns on the bars the others stand in line and rub rosin on their hands to keep their grip from slipping. It is important that the grip does not slip when one is doing a slow spinwheel backward with turning bar against the small of the back as the axis. And with the Olympic team looking on.

A youth leaps to grasp the bar and someone calls: "He's the star of our Falcon Nest; watch him." The star goes through some intricate exercises, finally turns over the bar at full length, feet high in the air, to everyone's acclamation.

Then a group of girls comes out and is received with more enthusiasm than any, for they are dressed in the native costumes; red or black velvet bodices, white dresses with bands of pale green and pink silk ribbon on the skirts. They form couples, dance a folk dance.

"It is the national dance" is the explanation. "It is called in Polish the 'Krakowiak.'" It is the last number, the piece de resistance, as it were, and ends the outdoor ceremony. The gathering breaks up, and many enter the Falcon Home, where long tables have been laid in halls, conservatory, rooms, for the banquet. The girls in native costume who danced wait on table and do not mind in the least, for it gives them a chance to linger in the vicinity of the visiting athletes, who are the heroes of the occasion. There is a delightful informality about it, a lack of the conventional reserve so often found in more "Americanized" gatherings. Girls, in costume or out, chatter gaily with the young men who in the morning were utter strangers, pull them out of the gathering for private talks, catch them about the waist and laughingly call out to everyone to witness their conquest. Pencils and slips of paper are at a premium, as autographs are obtained, and addresses exchanged. All the athletes will have to devote their full time to correspondence if they keep their promises.

BUT they are enjoying themselves, thoroughly. They have been long away from the homeland, and this is a touch of Poland to them. They can talk to anyone, and be sure they are understood without an interpreter. Nevertheless, they parade their newly acquired knowledge of the English language—which consists almost entirely of Americanisms, such as "Oh, yeah," "I'll say," "Oh, boy," and similar expressions.

It is late before the gathering reluctantly breaks up, but the visitors must leave before midnight for Chicago, where a similar reception awaits them. The guests linger in halls, on the lawn, on the sidewalks, getting in a final farewell to visitors, or friends.

Dowidrzyma, dowidrzynia, which is Polish for good-by, is heard on every side. And "dowidrzynia" comes the response from the visitors as they make ready to continue their long journey back to the Poland where most of hosts were born.

Behind the Screens

by Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25.

BY all rights the most thoroughly frightened young lady Hollywood should be Fa Wray.

That she isn't is due perhaps to the excellent reasoning that the thrills and terrors to which she has been subjected lately are all synthetic — a fact that weak-hearted movie patrons would do well to keep in mind as they brave the macabre celluloid of "Doctor X," "The Most Dangerous Game," and shortly "Kong."

FAY WRAY

Fay Wray, who won her first movie break because she burst into tears when Erich von Stroheim told her she wasn't good enough to act in his "The Wedding March," in all three of these new films plays the girl beset by terrifying dangers.

They are roles which, casually, one might dismiss as requiring no acting ability. But when you consider how easily such a part might be overacted, how one scream too loud or too shrill might spoil a scene, you'll give Fay a laurel for unusual restraint.

"THE MOST DANGEROUS GAME"—adapted from Richard Connell's famous short story and directed by the jungle king, Ernest Schoedsack—easily tops all previous screen horror pictures for suspense and terror, and is technically a beautiful job.

But that being true, the next question is: Who's going to carry the audience out? That may be solved, perhaps, by pointing out that the man-hunt scenes are simply another version of the old reliable "chase" used since the early days of pictures, that Mack Sennett founded his comedy reputation on it, and that—well, it's just a moom-picture after all. But will that make it any less nerve-racking?

ALLAN VINCENT, young stage actor temporarily "between pictures," was philosophical about it the other day when we saw him.

"I may not be working today," he said, "but I've got two horses from my ranch each drawing $15 a day from Universal."

Allan, soon to be seen in "Two Against the World with Constance Bennett, acquired a tract down the ocean from Los Angeles and went rural with the enthusiasm of most stage players soon after he arrived.

Burr McIntosh is 70 this month and you'd never guess it to look him. Back in 1883 he was a running and hurdling champion in college circles. His motto even today is "keep going."

Velvet Vogue Widely Spread

PARIS, Aug. 13.

A VELVET vogue has swept across the style horizon.

Formal daytime coats and frocks, evening gowns and wraps, and even such accessories as gloves, girdles and bags are displayed in dark and jewel toned velvets for those first cool days when summer togs look their dingiest.

A new, dull short-pile weave which will not crush, a thick pile silk weave and the standby velveteen are all used in the wide range of models varying from formal frivolity to stern practicality.

Russet brown, apple red and grape purple velveteen coats with elbow length capes and no sleeves are the favorites of the moment, since they are pratical for both late summer and early fall street wear. For the more formal daytime wrap there are slender black velvet coats with simple scarf necklines and bands of sable or silver fox on the sleeves.

The velvet frocks and wraps which designers have evolved for early fall evening wear reflect a formality reminiscent of the Middle Ages with a new "high in front—low in back" decolletage outstanding in the design.

A violet velvet dinner gown is fashioned with long loose sleeves, a high front and a low cut back and a ruby red model of the same fabric has a bodice with a bertha front high enough to touch the throat and a decollete slashed to the waist in the back.

With teatime frocks of crepe and chiffon, velvet accessories are the last word in chic. One smart Parisian wears a simple black marocain frock with a waistlength "horsecollar" of black velvet studded on one side with two red roses, black velvet gloves and a wide brimmed black velvet hat.

Broadcloth Gowns

The dignity and svelt beauty of broadcloth have caught the fancy of designers looking for something new in the way of elegance in evening gowns. Fashioned of rich dark red tones, black or white, in form-fitting gowns of the most striking simplicity, little trimming is necessary. There is something flawless about the fabric itself which prohibits the use of ornaments other than a bit of ermine or a simply designed jeweled buckle or clip.

A splendid polish will be obtained on clean linoleum if linseed oil is rubbed into it. It will not make the floor slippery, as do many oilcloth polishes.

Silk Crepes Popular

Heavy, rough, crinkled crepes are most popular in the silk field. Some satin back crepe is seen and it is generally used two ways. A flat crepe is featured with raised satin stripes. There is a satin corduroy and other fancy weaves of satin and crepe that are interesting. Lyons velvet is used for many afternoon and dinner gowns and transparent velvet also figures in the group.

Gum arabic is splendid for stiffening delicate organdies and muslins.

"No one, so far as I am aware," Violet replied.

"Do you know any of his friends?"

She shook her head.

"I don't know Mr. Argels very well," she confided. "This is the first time I have been in the flat."

"You know where his offices are, perhaps?"

"Yes, I know that. I was starting as his secretary this morning—No. 30A Gresham street."

The Sergeant scribbled upon a card and gave it to the Constable.

"Get some one down there at once and tell him to bring back his confidential clerk or partner if he has one. Send him up here. Call at the Yard on the way and ask for Mr. Levine from the fingerprint department to come round here immediately.

"Telephone from somewhere to the exchange and report the cutting of the line."

The Constable disappeared on his errand. The butler and valet had little of importance to disclose. The front doorbell had rung about 10 o'clock. Two or three men in evening clothes were standing in the corridor. One of them asked for Mr. Argels. The butler turned to speak to the valet and that was the last thing either of them remembered. Where the men had come from, who had let them in, no one knew. No one knew anything.

Argels, leaning on Violet's arm, stumbled into the room. On his hands and knees, he groped amid the disorder on the floor. He even crawled into the safe itself and dragged out one of the steel drawers. He stared into its well of emptiness fixedly and there were signs of returning strength in the passion with which he flung it to the floor. * * *

The butler arrived with hot tea and coffee, which he placed in the dining room. They made their way there, the Sergeant temporarily locking up the rooms. Argels seemed to have recovered from the effects of the chloroform, but there was a terribly drawn look about his face. He held Violet by the arm.

"Don't leave me just yet," he begged.

"I won't," she promised, "but I must go and get some clothes."

THE Sergeant set down his teacup.

"Do you feel well enough to tell me, Mr. Argels—roughly, of course—what were the contents of the safe? For instance, had you documents of value there, bonds or a large sum of money?"

"I had documents of great value," Argels groaned. "They are gone."

"Deeds or bonds, were they?" the seargeant suggested.

Argels shook his head.

"They were letters and an agreement referring to a private matter."

"You don't find any money missing, then?"

"I haven't looked. I keep very little there."

"No bonds or shares?"

"There may have been a few. It is the agreement and the letters which are of value."

The sergeant was disappointed. As a sensational burglary, the thing was petering out. A myrmidon from Scotland Yard, accompanied by a fingerprint expert, arrived, and the two retired to confer and examine the premises. Argels plucked at Violet's arm.

"Have you opened the cable yet?" he asked.

She shook her head.

"I haven't looked for it."

"It's here. Richards told me so. It's on the table by the side of my easy-chair in the lounge. I'll show you."

He rose to his feet and led her into the little apartment, half lounge, half smoking room. Upon the round table were various notes, memoranda of telephone calls and one orange-colored envelope. He looked at it with fixed staring eyes.

"Open it," he directed. "Hurry, please—hurry!"

He was swaying upon his feet, supporting himself with one hand by the mantelpiece. She tore open the flap of the envelope and read:

" 'New York.

" 'Regret inform you 1790 died heart failure, following pneumonia, this afternoon. Walker. Warden.' "

She felt his fingers gripping on her shoulder until she almost screamed with the pain. The three words he spoke came to her as though in some curious falsetto.

"Read it again," he ordered.

She read it and repeated it in parrot-like fashion. Finally, summoning up his courage, he peered over her shoulder and read the words himself. Without a second's warning, he seemed to be afflicted by a sudden lunacy. He threw himself back in the easy-chair, kicked the floor with his heels, struck the table with his fist, and snatching up a small ornament with his disengaged hand, threw it into a corner of the room. All the time he laughed. He swayed from side to

Behind the Screens

by Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25.

BY all rights the most thoroughly frightened young lady in Hollywood should be Fay Wray.

That she isn't is due perhaps to the excellent reasoning that the thrills and terrors to which she has been subjected lately are all synthetic — a fact that weak-hearted movie patrons would do well to keep in mind as they brave the macabre celluloid of "Doctor X," "The Most Dangerous Game," and shortly "Kong."

FAY WRAY

Fay Wray, who won her first movie break because she burst into tears when Erich von Stroheim told her she wasn't good enough to act in his "The Wedding March," in all three of these new films plays the girl beset by terrifying dangers.

They are roles which, casually one might dismiss as requiring no acting ability. But when you consider how easily such a part might be overacted, how one scream too loud or too shrill might spoil a scene, you'll give Fay a laurel for unusual restraint.

"THE MOST DANGEROUS GAME"—adapted from Richard Connell's famous short story and directed by the jungle king, Ernest Schoedsack—easily tops all previous screen horror pictures for suspense and terror, and is technically a beautiful job.

But that being true, the next question is: Who's going to carry the audience out? That may be solved, perhaps, by pointing out that the man-hunt scenes are simply another version of the old reliable "chase" used since the early days of pictures, that Mack Sennett founded his comedy reputation on it, and that—well, it's just a moom-picture after all. But will that make it any less nerve-racking?

ALLAN VINCENT, young stage actor temporarily "between pictures," was philosophical about it the other day when we saw him.

"I may not be working today," he said, "but I've got two horses from my ranch each drawing $15 a day from Universal."

Allan, soon to be seen in "Two Against the World with Constance Bennett, acquired a tract down the ocean from Los Angeles and went rural with the enthusiasm of most stage players soon after he arrived.

Burr McIntosh is 70 this month and you'd never guess it to look at him. Back in 1883 he was a running and hurdling champion in college circles. His motto even today is "keep going."

THE MAN FROM SING SING

By E. Phillips Oppenheim

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE.

THERE were more footsteps outside and the sergeant of police arrived. Violet's story was repeated. Keys were produced from somewhere. The doors were thrown open. The two men servants were found, heavily doped, in the servants' quarters, and were aroused with difficulty. The dining room was comparatively untouched. "It's a burglary, all right," the sergeant remarked, somewhat needlessly. "A slap-up job, too. I wonder what Mr. Argels kept in that safe. Is there anyone else living here besides the gentleman?"

"No one, so far as I am aware," Violet replied.

SYNOPSIS.

Reuben Argels, London financial wizard, reaches the breaking point through overexertion and dread of the personal revenge of Moran Chambers, whom be caused to be sent to Sing Sing for 15 years. Argels, Chambers and Andrew Pulwitter had been partners in Wall Street. One of their deals brought the law down on them. To save himself, Argels, by perjury, put the punishment on Chambers and escaped along with Pulwitter.

His first encounter with Chambers' hired assassin, Julian Franks, occurred on shipboard, one night out from Marseilles. This resulted in Franks being tossed overboard.

Andrew Pulwitter and Ambouyna Kotinzi were traveling on the same ship. Argels entered the woman's stateroom 15 minutes after Franks had tried to kill him. Ambouyna was able to outwit Argels. She followed him to London and continued her efforts at revenge by helping Pulwitter through counter-commitment in the London market. Chambers meantime has escaped prison and, with the aid of Ambouyna and Pulwitter, they succeed in driving Argels to distraction. In his efforts to unload, Argels finds himself hopelessly involved.

He employs Pulwitter's secretary as a spy, and becomes infatuated with her. Returning one night to his apartment, they are held up and drugged by supposed burglars.

"Do you know any of his friends?"

She shook her head.

"I don't know Mr. Argels very well," she confided. "This is the first time I have been in the flat."

"You know where his offices are, perhaps?"

All the time he laughed. He swayed from side to side, indulging in a succession of hideous chuckles. The police sergeant and the inspector, who had come to ask a question, stared across at him in amazement. Violet did her best to restore him to sanity. He took no notice. He continued to rock from side to side like some evil child intoxicated with glee. His first coherent words were ugly.

"Dead!" he cried. "Thank God!"

"A YOUNG lady, if you will permit me to say so, sir," Gascoigne pronounced, "of simply amazing ability. We are very fortunate indeed to obtain her services—especially just now when we are so hard pressed. I couldn't hire another clerk worth having for love or money."

Argels, looking tired and worn, but, on the whole, very little the worse for his night of terror, leaned back in his office chair.

"I think the most amazing thing of all is where she came from, Gascoigne," he observed. "It seems that old Pulwitter virtually dismissed her on the excuse of some trifling indiscretion. I should think it was because the old man didn't want to go on paying her salary any longer."

"I should have thought that Andrew Pulwitter would have been far too shrewd to have parted with any one as smart as that young lady appears to be—especially to us," Gascoigne remarked.

"Shrewd you call him, do you?" Argels sneered. "Why, we've driven the old man out of business. He's virtually put up the shutters—done nothing but realize on his money-making shares."

"If that list which Miss Withers has given us to work upon is correct," Gascoigne reflected, "he is still not above a little speculation."

"How could he help it?" Argels pointed out. "That's the original list handed him by Van Pleydell himself. If Van Pleydell chooses to give a tip, I shouldn't think there's a living person who wouldn't follow it. That's why I went rather a plunge on them. Did our orders get placed?"

"Very nearly all of them, sir. They'll make a tremendous account for the next settlement."

"How are the markets closing?"

"More excited than ever," the manager confessed. "Nearly everything's up a point or two. Nevertheless—"

"Well, out with it, Gascoigne."

"I took the liberty of following your suggestion, sir. I bought a small car, was driven home and had my dinner. The fresh air was most enjoyable. I was back at 10 o'clock and I spent the night here."

"What the devil did you do that for?" Argels demanded. "I thought you looked a little peaky."

"I wanted to work things out my own way, sir," Gascoigne acknowledged. "I dare say you've done it yourself. I went on a scheme Mr. Whiteley, the accountant, showed me."

"Well, what conclusion did you come to?" Argels inquired, without any considerable show of interest.

"THE amount of money you've made, sir, during the last six months, is staggering," Gascoigne confided. "At the same time, there are various considerations of which I think we should never lose sight. We are always at the mercy of markets, especially the American market, and we are very heavy debtors to the bankers, who generally lose their heads if a bad time should come. In actual figures, sir," he went on, drawing a carefully folded-up sheet of paper from his pocket, "I make things something like this. Including today's purchases and counting all the shares you have underwritten in our various companies, I take it that we possess something like £7,000,000 worth of shares."

"Seven million pounds," Argels repeated lingeringly.

"Then there's the other side, sir. If the money was called up, as in some cases it certainly will be, we shall owe a million and a half unpaid calls on shares. Our 'bear' account in Bennetts and Christophers is a very large one and shows, roughly speaking, £100,000 loss. We owe money to five banks and to four firms of stock brokers—approximately £4,000,000."

Argels nodded.

"I should think your figures are about right," he admitted. "Two and a half millions to the good, eh?"

"Just about that, sir."

The old light flashed in Argels' eyes.

"I had £200,000 when I took these offices eight months ago," he confided. "That's a pretty good fortune to make, eh? And there's more business coming along—two tentative applications for my advice and two interviews tomorrow morning—one a big iron concern, the other a firm of wholesale tailors."

"It's a wonderful achievement—especially a one-man achievement, sir," Gascoigne acknowledged, "but I am going to take the liberty, if I may, of pointing out this: You've a marvelous business brain, sir, as everyone admits, but you haven't had much experience on this side. I'm 44 years old and I've been at it hard here in the City of London since I was a lad. We are less panicky than in New York, but neither our banks nor our brokers have the capital to play with. This is what I mean: If, at any time, there should come a break in prices, we shouldn't have a chance of disposing of our holdings in time to meet our engagements to the banks."

"Is there any indication of a break?" Argels asked scornfully.

"Not the slightest, sir. That's why I'm venturing to suggest once more that it would be a good plan to go through our list of stocks and quietly dispose of a couple of million pounds' worth while we are sure of a good profit."

"That's practically what you were proposing the other day," Argels observed, stroking his mustache. "Supposing we did it. What the devil should we do with the money?"

"Pay off the bank liabilities, sir."

Argels smiled in superior fashion.

"You're an excellent managing man, Gascoinge," he said tolerantly, "but you'd never make a financier. Your suggestion is that we should pay off bank loans, upon which we are charged only 5½ per cent, with money on which we are making at least 15. That's about what it comes to."

Gascoigne, although still anxious, remained silent. His employer was a hard man to argue with. The buzzer sounded.

"A police inspector to see you, sir," a clerk announced.

DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

John's Visit

"WHY, what does this mean?" asked Dr. Pollock, as John entered his office.

Dr. Pollock was their family doctor, but he hadn't expected to see John.

"Will you keep it a secret?" John asked.

"Certainly, certainly," Dr. Pollock answered. "But tell me all about it. No one is hurt, eh?"

"Well, no one else."

"Are you hurt?" Dr. Pollock asked suddenly.

"Only a little," John answered.

"Dear me, dear me," said the doctor, "tell me the trouble right away."

"You see I was coming down Slippery Hill."

"You fell and skinned your knee?" the doctor smiled.

"No, Dr. Pollock. You know at the foot of that hill where the Hardy family lives?" The doctor nodded. "They have a fox terrier dog and he's apt to be cranky to outsiders, but the Hardy children are crazy about him.

"I waved my stick at him and in grabbing for it he bit my leg a little. You see I want to keep it a secret. That teased him, but if I tell any one they'll complain about the dog. People might say he's dangerous and should be killed. I thought maybe you'd better cauterize the bite."

Dr. Pollock cauterized the bite, which was a very slight one, and he promised John he would keep the secret. After John had gone the doctor said to himself:

"When some others thought that boy was too old for his age and a bit selfish and fresh I always said he had the makings of as fine a boy as I ever hoped to see. I guess the old doctor was right!"

MARGY IS LIKE THAT TOO. BOTH OF THEM OVERDO IT... A LITTLE, ANYHOW.
SOME OF THAT STUFF IS NECESSARY. PEOPLE EXPECT IT. WE'D BE THE SAME WAY, I SUPPOSE, IF SOMETHING TERRIBLE HAPPENED THAT WOULD SLAP US IN THE FACE WITH TWO OR THREE MILLION DOLLARS.
MARGY GAVE ME A VERY BROAD HINT ABOUT THEM HELPING FOLKS THEY LIKE, LATER ON.

APITAL LEVY F 3 PER CENT CONSIDERED IN GERMANY

erlin Bankers Disturbed by Report of Government Plan for Carrying Out Its Proposed Economic Program.

MERICAN LENDERS MAY BE AFFECTED

eduction of Interest on Inland Debt Made in Connection With Providing Year's Work for 150,000.

the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 27. — Bankers re concerned this morning with mors that the Government in coeration with the Reichsbank, inds to expand credits for carryg out its proposed economic proam by imposing a 3 per cent capl levy, thus escaping inflation d avoiding departure from the ld standard.

Briefly, the reported plan is this: l persons possessing fortunes ove a certain stipulated amount ust surrender 3 per cent as a triotic duty. The yield on paper expected to be about 2,000,000,0 marks ($500,000,000).

But, since thousands of Germans ssess only frozen assets, the Govnment will not insist on cash payent but will accept instead omissory notes which the Reichsnk is ready to discount on the round the Government stands bend them as guarantor.

With the ready cash thus obined, the Government would be le to carry out its vast program f creating work.

There was no official confirmaon of a report that the Governent definitely had abandoned the ea of a compulsory loan.

The Government's search for nds to finance its projected emloyment program may involve a duction of interest rates on Gerany's inland debt, it was said toy.

Such a reduction might embarss German financiers who borved from American investors d relent to German. The Americans would be affected by a reuction of interest on the inland bligations.

Dr. Hermann Warmbold, Miniser of Economics, disclosed that terest rates on the foreign debts ould not be tampered with, but ould give no assurance as to the land debt.

Government circles seemed reed that additional taxation, ven a compulsory loan and an crease in the inheritance tax rom 3 to 13 per cent, would be kely to cause hardships unless dustry and business were reieved of some burdensome interst charges.

German industry and business re confronted with debts totaling 3,600,000,000 marks (about $22.83,200,000. The annual interest harge is 6,200,000,000 marks ($1.69,400,000), of which 5,000,000,000 arks is payable in Germany.

Some newspapers are openly hinting the "necessity of printing mor money" to finance the Govrnment's program, which contemlates an expediture of 300,000,000 marks ($71,100,000) to provide a year's work for 150,000 men.

The National Socialists continue to deny that their chief, Adolf Hitler had suffered a nervous breakwn. They said he was merely aking a short holiday in the mountains.
